OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON NEW SOURCES OF REVENUE ON INCREASING WATER RATES.

BOSTON, March 13, 1920.

His Honor the Mayor:

The Committee on New Sources of Revenue has made a study of the water rates now in force in this city with the following results:

The existing schedule of rates has been in operation without change since the year 1911. On the other hand, the costs of maintenance have increased very much, particularly during the past two years. This is a condition which affects every other water works, public or private, in the country and many have found it necessary to increase rates. Others are contemplating such increase. The City of Boston is faced with these general conditions.

Main pipe which cost $32.74 per ton before the war is now selling for $75 per ton, an increase of over 130 per cent. The increase in the cost of maintenance, including extension of mains and new meters, for the ensuing year over that just passed is estimated at $212,000; which sum has been allowed in the Mayor's budget for the current fiscal year. In addition to this there will be an increase due to the same general causes in the city's share of the metropolitan water assessment in the year, which is estimated at $117,000. We have thus a prospective increase in cost during the current fiscal year over the preceding year of about $330,000. There is also a pressing need of new 24-inch and 36-inch mains estimated to cost $200,000. This expenditure might well have been undertaken this year but has been postponed. It must be met in the next year or two.

An analysis of the accounts of the Water Division for the last half dozen years shows that there has been an average annual excess of receipts over expenditures amounting approximately to $204,000.

Upon these figures it is obvious that there must be an increase in water rates if a deficit, which would have to be met from taxes, is to be avoided, and if the sound policy which has been pursued by the city during the recent past in so operating its water works as to produce a small annual balance each year is to be continued, the rates must be increased.

The committee makes the following recommendations:

1. There should be an increase of 10 per cent in the water bills; to be added on all meter bills for the quarter commencing July 1, 1920, and on all annual bills commencing January 1, 1921.

This recommendation, if carried into effect, will, upon the basis of the present consumption, increase the revenue of the current fiscal year by about $125,000, and for 1921-22, when the increase can be applied to all bills, there will be an increase in revenue of approximately $300,000.

2. The Water Division should be requested to begin as soon as practicable to make a complete analysis of the present system of charges, and to draw up a revised schedule of meter and fixture rates which will provide the necessary $300,000 increase.

The Commissioner of Public Works should be requested to detail the most competent men in his department to this work and to commence it at once.

3. All city departments should be charged for the water used by them. This will not increase the general city revenue, but there is reason to believe that it will reduce the waste and consumption of water, and thus reduce the city's share of the Metropolitan water assessment.

4. As an additional means of reducing waste the committee recommends the introduction of a modern method of isolating and detecting leaks and waste. Other cities have adopted with marked success new methods not in practice here.

5. At present a charge of \$20 and \$25 respectively is made by the Water Division for the installation of $\frac{3}{4}$ and $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch service pipes connecting buildings with the water mains. The actual cost during the past year has been about \$15 greater than these charges. The committee therefore recommends that an increase of \$15 be made over the present charges. Since about 1,200 such installations are made each year this should add about \$18,000 to the receipts of the Water Division.

6. Under the present regulations, whenever the owner of a building installs a sprinkler or fire protection system requiring special water connections, the Water Division makes such connections for the actual cost thereof. No charge is made, however, for maintaining this service or furnishing the necessary water, although the department is put to some expense for inspection and also must stand ready to serve whenever water is needed. The private owner also derives a considerable benefit in the form of increased fire protection and a lowering of his insurance rates.

There are at present about 1,700 special fire pipes in the City of Boston. In other cities where a charge is made for such services the rates vary from $10 to $50. The committee therefore recommends that a charge of $10 per year be established for special fire pipes, which it is estimated will produce an additional annual revenue of about $17,000 in the Water Division.

Respectfully submitted,

NATHAN MATTHEWS,
Chairman.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION ON SHOPS OF THE SANITARY SERVICE, PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 12, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The Finance Commission respectfully submits herewith a report by its consulting engineer, showing the results of an investigation into the activities of the shops conducted under the control of the Sanitary Service of the Public Works Department.

The main shop is located at the department yard on Albany street, although there are also small shops doing horseshoeing work exclusively at the Roxbury yard on Highland street and the West End yard on Grove street.

The main shop on Albany street, as your Honor is probably aware, does repair work of various kinds for the divisions of the Public Works Department. The principal varieties of work are horseshoeing, blacksmithing, painting, wheelwrighting and harness making. The possibility of economies being effected in the operation of these shops has already been called to your Honor's attention in reports on the annual departmental budgets. The recent investigation which has been made in detail has confirmed the opinions already set forth in the annual budget reports.

It appears that the cost of the work in the shops is greater than the cost would be were it given to outside shops, notwithstanding the fact that the department shops have the advantages of occupying premises without rent, lower wages and the absence of the necessity of making profits. This result appears to be for the greater part on account of incompetent employees, lax supervision, and the neglect of division heads to send to the shops all the work that they have to be done.

It also appears that in recent years bills aggregating large amounts for work done for divisions of the Public Works Department have been allowed to remain unpaid, thereby increasing the apparent annual cost of the Sanitary Service and decreasing the cost of other services. This practice is not only unfair to the Sanitary Service, but a violation of the principle of the segregated budget. The same remarks apply to the custom of having the Sanitary Service bear the greater part of the overhead cost of work done for other services.

The above facts are admitted in general by the supervisory officials who have appeared before representatives of the Finance Commission.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That the shops be reorganized by the elimination of superfluous and incompetent employees.

2. That heads of divisions be required to send all repair work to the shops, instead of sending a considerable amount to outside shops, as appears to be the present custom.

3. That careful accounts be kept for the ensuing year to determine the exact cost of work under the suggested reorganization.

4. That a fair proportion of the overhead expenses be charged to the work done for other services, and that payment in full be required for all bills rendered.

5. That, if it is shown after such test that the cost of the work is greater than for outside shops, the shops be abolished and the space occupied by them devoted to other purposes.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by GEORGE A. FLYNN,
Chairman.

BOSTON, January 26, 1920.

To the Finance Commission:

GENTLEMEN,—I submit herewith a report based on investigations made of the shops under control of the Sanitary Division of the Public Works Department and located in the South End yard on Albany street, the West End yard on Grove street and the Roxbury yard on Highland street, the larger part of the work being done at the South End yard, and the only work carried on at the West End and Roxbury yards being a small amount of horseshoeing.

These shops were selected for the investigation because of their known inefficiency as compared with outside labor, because the conditions existing had in a general way been reported for several years past in the annual reports on the segregated budget without any action being taken by the authorities at City Hall and because the figures contained in recent reports of the Public Works Department have indicated a remarkable decrease in the amount of work secured for the funds expended.

I. HISTORICAL.

The shops in question appear to have been a legacy descending to the Street

Department of the City of Boston on its formation in 1891 (amendment to chapter 18 of the Revised Ordinances, March 2, 1891), from the old Sanitary Police, which was formerly a division of the Board of Health. The duties of the Sanitary Police were in general those now performed by the Sanitary Service, the Street Cleaning and Watering Service, and the cleaning of catch-basins now done by the Sewer Service of the Public Works Department. The last report of the Superintendent of Health shows that there was employed a force of 16 mechanics of different varieties to take care of the shoeing of 267 horses and repairs of equipment, such as carts, harnesses, etc.

After the incorporation of this force into the Street Department, under the title of the Sanitary Division, the shops were enlarged, additional help employed and the work extended to the performance of the greater part of the repair work of the other divisions in the department.

The growth of the city and the consequent increase in the refuse to be collected caused a gradual increase in the number of horses and carts necessary, which reached its maximum perhaps 20 years ago. During recent years the number of horses and vehicles and the amount of repair work have been practically constant; the extension of the contract system for the collection of refuse and for doing other work preventing any considerable increase in the amount of equipment to be repaired. The amount of work now done in the shops seems to be approximately twice the work done at the time the Street Department was formed in 1891. The number of employees, however, has increased nearly four times.

II. ACCOUNTING METHODS.

In making this investigation I have been assisted by accountants from the office of the Edwin S. Morse Company. Its report explaining in detail the accounting methods employed at the shops, the discrepancies between the amounts shown by the books at the shops and the reports issued at City Hall and certain tables showing detailed differences is now in the files of the Finance Commission. In general, it has been found that the accounting methods employed are sufficient to cover the comparatively small operations performed, except that there should be a uniform system of accounting, so that the figures of the reports issued from City Hall will correspond with the figures of the books kept at the shops. It is also recommended that the charges for the overhead expense on the work done for other departments be made more nearly to correspond with the actual cost than at present, the 5 per cent now arbitrarily charged being apparently less than one-half the cost to the Sanitary Service.

III. THE LABOR FORCE.

The labor force at the shops appears at one time to have been composed of mechanics competent in their respective duties. For many years, however, there has been a disposition to load up these shops with employees of greater value politically than as mechanics. The shops have been regarded by all administrations as the political headquarters from which the labor force of the Street Department was to be directed politically, and as a result persons influential among the labor forces of the department have constituted a very large percentage of the employees.

Many of these employees are also competent mechanics, but in recent years there appears to have been a growing tendency to utilize the shops for political purposes without due regard to the character, ability or technical skill of the employees. Frequent transfers have been made from the unskilled labor grades to skilled mechanics in the shops. For example, teamster to blacksmith, laborer to blacksmith, laborers to painters, teamsters to painters, teamster to harness maker, laborer to harness maker, teamster to horse shoer; in fact the duties of the teamsters appear to qualify them for practically any variety of skilled labor necessary in the shops. In recent times changes have been made as follows:

November 18, 1918.... Teamster to painter.
1919.... Teamster to harnessmaker.
March 1918.... Teamster to horseshoer.

As a result of action of this sort, coupled with the fact that several of the older employees of the shops are, on account of advanced years, incapable of performing a full day's work, the work of the shops has been deteriorating both in quantity and quality. Meanwhile the expenditures have been increasing with great rapidity, and especially as regards the overhead charges, including supervision, allowed time, etc., which has increased from $2,811.51 in 1910 to $9,814.66 for the fiscal year 1918-19, the last year for which figures are available. Since that time there has been a general increase in the labor rate from $4 to $4.50 a day and a corresponding increase for the supervisory officials, which still further increase the cost.

The following tables show the operations of the shops for a period of ten years, from 1909 to 1918, inclusive.

A part of the increase shown in the above table seems to be due to the abolition of the shops of the Paving Service in the Dorchester district and the transfer of the mechanics to the South End shops, which has increased the cost for labor. The work formerly done by these mechanics for the Paving Service does not seem to have been transferred to the South End shops, except in a small part. The total work done by the Sanitary Service for the Dorchester paving district for the year 1918 amounted to only $244.96.

* Figures shown by weekly reports.

† This column contains a charge for profit on labor varying from 20 per cent in earlier years to 5 per cent in the last 5 years.

A comparison of the figures showing the cost of work done for other services with the figures representing annual income shows that up to 1915, inclusive, bills to other services were paid in full. For the remaining years there were unpaid bills from other services approximately as follows:

1916.	1917.	1918.

Up to 1915 the figures used in Table II are those published in the annual report of the department. Since that time the figures given are corrected figures and not the figures shown in the report. This change is necessary on account of mistakes in the figures of the reports since 1915. From some cause, for which no adequate explanation is furnished, the figures showing total cost are those that actually show the cost to the Sanitary Service. As a consequence, the total cost of the shops appears to be much less than the actual cost. This matter is referred to on page 5 of the report of the Edwin S. Morse Company.

The above table is specially significant as showing that while the percentage of the annual expenditure for labor has increased from 66 to 75 per cent, the per cent of expenditure for materials has decreased from 34 per cent to 25 per cent, notwithstanding the large increase in the unit cost of all materials. These figures indicate, as will be shown by further evidence, that while there has been a marked increase in the expenditures for labor there has also been a marked decrease in the efficiency of labor and increase in the total amount of work done from year to year. The increase in the expenditure for labor is due, not only to successive increases in the wages of the force, but also to additional employees for which there seems to be no logical excuse.

IV. DETAILS.

Investigating in detail the expenditures of the shops, it has been found to be impossible to get any exact figures regarding the amount of work done by the different divisions, except as regards the horseshoeing. The reason for the lack of figures for comparison for other classes of work is undoubtedly due in a great part to the fact that no two jobs are exactly similar, that is, the same amount of labor is not employed nor the same amount of materials required. As regards horseshoeing, however, it is possible to make fairly accurate comparisons. Records have been kept of the work of successive years, divided into the cost for fitting and applying new shoes, fitting and applying bar shoes, resetting shoes, and applying pads and leathers. Of these operations the work of applying pads and leathers adds very little to the labor cost of horseshoeing operations, and for the purposes of comparison the work of applying new shoes, bar shoes, and resetting has been outlined in the above table.

Column 5 of Table IV. shows the entire horseshoeing work of the shops reduced to common terms of new shoes, which is the greatest single item of work. Inquires among blacksmiths show a unanimous agreement that the work of preparing and applying bar shoes is approximately twice that for a new shoe, and that the work of resetting shoes is approximately one half the work of fitting and applying new shoes. Therefore column 5 has been arranged by adding to the number of new shoes fitted and applied twice the number of bar shoes and one half the number of resets. Although the method may not be exact, the number of bars and resets is so small, as compared with the total of all shoes, that any error in the method will not affect the result for the purpose used. This column shows conclusively that there has been no increase in the work done by the horseshoeing force during the past ten years.

For example, in 1909 the work done was the equivalent of 14,095 new shoes. There was an apparent increase up to 1911, when the maximum became 18,670. From that time there was a decrease to 1918, when the number had dropped to 13,211. The figures also show the average amount of work done per man in the sanitary shops to be less than one half that done in private shops under similar conditions.

Figures from the report of the accountants, page 3, show a marked difference in the efficiency of the different shops. The work per man in the Roxbury shop averages 13.72 shoes per day, approaching the work done in private shops; while in the North Grove street shops the average is only 5.2 per day, and in the South End shops 7.84 shoes per day.

The following table shows the cost of labor and materials actually expended by the mechanics doing the work for the years 1909 and 1918. The figures are prepared for the purposes of comparison only and do not represent the total cost of the work for either year, as no overhead charges are included and no account is made of the value of materials on hand at the beginnings and ends of the years compared.

Table V. shows, as regards horseshoeing, that the increase in the total cost for materials since 1909 has been approximately 94 percent, about the same as the increased average price of materials, as shown by an examination of bills paid by the department for the various years. This is confirmatory evidence that no more work was done than in 1909, although a larger force at higher prices was employed. The figures show that without including any overhead charges the cost per new shoe at the shops is approximately 90 cents. Adding, as is proper, the proportionate part for overhead expenses, the cost for each shoe is approximately $1.02.

As compared with private shops the sanitary shops have an advantage, as no profit except 5 per cent on labor for work done for other services is charged for their work. They have no rent, insurance, employer's liability or similar items to consider.

The wages paid to mechanics are considerably less, $4.50 for horseshoers against $6 on private shops. Notwithstanding these disadvantages, the standard price for horseshoeing in private shops is 75 cents per shoe for new shoes and proportionately less than the sanitary shop for other varieties of work. It is certain that, notwithstanding the advantages pointed out, the cost per shoe in the sanitary shops is from 25 to 30 per cent more than the same work could be secured for in outside shops. If the work of the shops were sent outside, it is apparent that between $3,000 and $4,000 could be saved to the city in the horseshoeing item alone.

As regards the other classes of work done at the shop, that is, work done by wheelwrights, blacksmiths, painters and harness makers, the figures are not so definite and as a consequence not so conclusive as regards the horseshoeing work above discussed. So far as evidence can be drawn from the figures, however, they indicate that as regards all these classes of work, except possibly the blacksmith work, conditions are similar to those shown for horseshoeing. The cost of unit prices of materials has in each case been more than sufficient to account for the total increased expenditure for materials without a greater amount of work being done.

Wheelwrights.

Tables I. and V. considered together show that there has been an increase of 3 wheelwrights and 3 laborers chargeable to wheelwright work. Although the total number of employees has been more than doubled, the increase in the total cost of materials has been only about 51 per cent. On account of the different classes of materials used in wheelwright work, it is difficult to determine what the average increase in the cost of materials has been. It is certainly, however, greater than 51 per cent. The figures therefore indicate that no more work has been accomplished with the large labor force than was accomplished with the small force.

Blacksmiths.

As regards blacksmiths, the figures are not as conclusive as for the other divisions, the increase in the pay roll being only 39 per cent, while the increase in the total amount paid for materials has been in excess of 179 per cent. The cost of blacksmithing materials appears to have increased about 100 per cent. Therefore it appears from the figures that there has been an increase of work in this division. On the other hand, the Finance Commission has been in receipt of frequent communications complaining of the character of some of the mechanics having the rating of blacksmith in the department, and also complaining of the amount of material which these unskilled mechanics waste. These charges are to a great extent substantiated by the evidence of supervisory officials of the department. There appears to be no reason for any increase in blacksmith's work. There also appears to be reason to believe that a larger proportion of work that could be done by the blacksmiths has been sent to outside shops in late years than in previous years. I therefore am of opinion that the results shown by the figures indicate a waste due to inefficiency rather than any increase in the amount of work turned out.

Paint Shops.

It is also difficult to give exact figures regarding this division. There has been a very great increase in the cost of painting materials, amounting for some materials to as much as 250 per cent. On the other hand, the paint used in the shops, principally for painting carts, is of a very cheap grade, the oils, dryers, etc., being largely petroleum compounds and the colors largely mineral colors. Therefore the average increased cost of painting materials does not apply with full force in this case. There has been, however, a large increase in the cost of such materials as are used, much more than the 10.4 per cent shown on Table V. as the total cost of materials used. It therefore seems certain that, notwithstanding the increase in the force of painters, there has been a less amount of work done than with the smaller force of 1909.

Harnessmakers.

In the harness shops the increase in the total cost of materials has been approximately 150 per cent. This is approximately the same as the average of the increased cost for materials. It is therefore certain that, notwithstanding the increased number of employees, no more work has been turned out than in previous years.

Summary.

As has been pointed out in various reports on the segregated budget, the employees of the city shops are rated as mechanics and assumed, at least, to be competent in their various lines of trade. The wages paid them are materially less than paid in outside shops. There is a constant demand for the services of skilled mechanics in outside shops, and assuming that these men are competent it should be no hardship for them if the shops are abolished and they are obliged to seek employment in the outside shops. In fact they would receive an increase of 25 per cent above their present compensation and the only loss apparent would be the two weeks' vacation now granted them by the city, and the possibility of a pension at the end of their term of service.

The city by abolishing the shops would save a sum difficult to estimate, but very large, each year (the reduction in pay rolls should be at least $16,000); and additional space would be available for work of other departments. Against these facts the only valid argument for retaining the shops is that repairs can be effected more quickly in cases of emergency. As a matter of fact this is not an important reason, as the time occupied by the city shops is ordinarily greater than to do the same work in private shops.

The facts herein stated prove conclusively that there has been a marked decrease in efficiency at the shops during recent years. On account of the conditions already pointed out, work should be turned out by these shops at a much less cost to the city than for private plants, and the greatest degree of inefficiency that should be tolerated in these shops is for the city to secure its work at an equal cost to the price charged by outside plants.

Immediate steps should be taken to reduce the working force to dimensions equal to or less than the force of 1909. If after this decrease has been accomplished the work is found to be more costly than if done by outside contractors, the shops should be abolished.

Respectfully submitted.

GUY C. EMERSON,
Consulting Engineer.

4. Whether or not any effort has been made to obtain an adjustment on the tire to be replaced, and if so, the result of such endeavor to obtain an adjustment.

Unless the above requirements are complied with the Superintendent of Supplies will decline to honor requisitions for automobile tires.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

PURCHASE OF BEEF FROM THE UNITED STATES ARMY.

BOSTON, March 26, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request approval of my action in placing an order with the Zone Supply Officer, United States Army, for one (1) car-load of frozen beef, about 16,660 pounds, for the Penal Institutions Department, Infirmary Department and the Children's Institutions Department. The price is twelve and four-tenths cents (0.124) per pound.

The beef will be held in storage, and drawn out by the city departments named from time to time as required.

It is necessary that I take prompt action in this matter, inasmuch as the Zone Supply Officer was negotiating with local dealers in Boston to take over this car. The price paid is very much lower than that obtainable in the local market. The navy contract for that class of beef for this month is seventeen and twenty-five hundred cents (0.1725) per pound. Armour & Co. quoted me today seventeen and one-half cents (0.175) per pound spot Boston, and fifteen and one-half cents (0.155) f. o. b. Boston, from Chicago.

Attached hereto is letter recommending the purchase of this frozen beef, from the Penal Institutions Commissioner.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Executive approval March 26.

SCHEDULE OF FEES FOR PERMITS ISSUED TO CONTRACTORS.

BOSTON, March 30, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

I submit herewith for your approval, schedule of fees to be charged for the issue of permits to contractors, corporations and others by the Public Works Department, in accordance with chapter 571 of the Acts of 1910, said schedule to become effective on April 1, 1920.

This schedule provides for an increase in some items over preceding years. The one particular item which is affected most is Item 8, the occupation charge. Under the former schedule occupation was charged at a flat rate of 1 cent per square foot per month. It is now proposed to charge a fee which is commensurate with the importance of the locality and the inconvenience which is suffered by the general public and the abutters. The increase in price will undoubtedly have a tendency to reduce the amount of space required and at the same time furnish additional revenue. In the outlying sections occupation does not constitute such an obstruction, consequently we have made the graded fee.

Items 6, 9, 11 and 14 are increased 50 cents each.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Executive approval March 31.

TRANSFER OF HORSE.

BOSTON, March 29, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I would request permission to transfer to the Park and Recreation Department, horse No. 1523. The veterinary of the department reports that this horse is unfit for sale and should be transferred to the Park and Recreation Department.

The horse is fourteen years of age and the Park and Recreation Department may be able to use him in its light work.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,
Fire Commissioner.

Executive approval April 1.

STATEMENT ON THE BILL TO INCREASE BOSTON'S TAX
LIMIT, BY ANDREW J. PETERS, MAYOR OF BOSTON.BEFORE COMMITTEE ON MUNICIPAL FINANCE, GENERAL COURT OF MAS-SACHUSETTS, MARCH, 1920.

OBJECT OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION.

The object of House Bill No. 817 is to increase the tax limit of the City of Boston for the year 1921-22 so that it will stand at $11.52 for general municipal purposes. Without legislation the limit would be $6.52, an amount which has proved insufficient since 1917, temporary legislation having fixed it at $9.52 for 1918 and 1919 and at $10.52 for 1920. The insufficiency of the existing rate ($9.52 at that time) was emphasized by his Excellency the Governor in his address to the General Court of 1919, when he said:

The amount of money raised by taxation and devoted to school and other municipal purposes in Boston and in other of our cities is limited by law. It is insufficient to meet the present requirements. I recommend that authority be granted the City of Boston and other cities to increase the amount which may be raised by taxation for school and other municipal purposes.

All that was said concerning the necessity of such legislation in 1919 applies with greater force this year.

PURPOSE AND EFFECT OF TAX LIMIT.

The difference between the tax limit and the tax rate is not always understood. The tax limit is the figure which is multiplied by the average assessed valuation of property in the city for the preceding three years to determine the appropriating power. The tax rate represents the sum actually levied upon the property for all purposes. The tax limit is intended merely to place an outside limit upon the appropriating power of the city and is not intended to be a figure subject to annual change by the Legislature after a detailed study of the city's budget requirements for the ensuing year. The purpose of the limit is to place a check upon unreasonable extravagance in municipal appropriations but it was not intended to impose upon the Legislature the duty of making the annual budget. A sound tax limit, therefore, is one that will permit the city to make necessary appropriations sufficient to meet proper municipal expense without being forced to rely upon an extraordinary surplus to escape a deficit. If a surplus is accumulated, it should be applied to the reduction of the tax rate but should not affect the tax limit.

EXISTING LAW.

The tax limit of the City of Boston is fixed by general law at $6.52 per thousand on the average valuation of the city for the preceding three years. By the acts of the General Court for 1918 and 1919 (Special Acts of 1918, chapter 120, and Special Acts of 1919, chapter 172) the limit was raised temporarily by $3 and stood at $9.52 for those years. For 1920 it was increased to $10.52. The temporary increase for 1920 was one dollar less than that asked for by the city and would have proven insufficient for the necessary appropriations except for an extraordinary and unprecedented surplus. This surplus was due to causes which should not properly be considered on the issue of fixing a tax limit, unless the Legislature is to assume the burden of directing the city's financial policy in detail. The surplus was due to three causes:

1. The excess of income over estimated income.

Corporation taxes from the state exceeded the estimate by $400,000.

2. Savings by the departments over their appropriations of approximately $500,000.

3. The activity of the Collecting Department in gathering outstanding taxes and increase in state income tax received.

INADEQUACY OF TAX LIMIT FOR PRESENT NEEDS.

Leaving out of consideration the extraordinary surplus which properly has no bearing on the question of the tax limit as distinguished from the tax rate, it is manifest that even the limit of $10.52 granted by the Legislature for this year is inadequate. Taking the figures for 1920-1921 for example:

Budget estimates as originally submitted.....	$23,631,426 75
Budget as approved by the Mayor.....	22,603,358 41
Amount cut from original budget estimates.....	$1,028,068 34

APPROPRIATING POWER.

Available on tax limit of $10.52....	$15,678,409 86
Estimated income from other sources.....	5,225,000 00
Total available for appropriation purposes without considering surplus.....	$20,903,409 86

Deficit for budget if surplus were eliminated.....	$1,699,948 55
To this deficit should be added additional appropriations already submitted to the Council for necessary expenses.
Snow removal, etc. (approximately).....	340,000 00
East Boston Ferry.....	400,000 00
Extraordinary bridge repairs.....	45,000 00
Total deficit.....	$2,484,948 55

That the city has been able to make these appropriations out of the surplus is no argument for the sufficiency of the present temporary tax limit. The surplus should properly be used for necessary and long-deferred public improvements which cannot be made within the diminished borrowing power of the city, and to diminish the tax rate when possible, but the timely preparation of the budget should not be handicapped by the necessity of waiting until the surplus is determined and of applying to the Legislature for an increase if the surplus shall prove insufficient. The necessity of an increased tax limit for next year is even more manifest. Appropriations can be no smaller; certain inevitable increases have already been imposed by statute, and others are bound to follow. Salary increases this year have been very moderate and much less than the increases given in other public services or outside the city service in general. Since the budget was submitted to the City Council, strong protests have been received from numerous sources as to the smallness of the increases granted. There is no reason to assume that it will be possible to reduce either salaries or other city expenses next year, but on the contrary, further increases will be necessary. Eliminating speculative elements entirely and considering only increases already established, it is to be noted that the salary increases granted this year, effective April 1st, were for ten months only, while next year they will be effective for twelve months.

Amount necessary next year to care for salary increases for twelve months.....	$375,000 00
Amount necessary to care for operation of sliding scale in Police and Fire Departments.....	150,000 00
Total.....	$525,000 00

Assuming general appropriations for 1921-22 to be the same as this year, except for necessary additions to care for salaries already established, or $22,600,000, the minimum budget requirement will be $23,125,000. To meet this requirement, eliminating the surplus, the city's appropriating power will be as follows:

Tax limit of $9.52 will produce...	$14,188,000 00
Estimated revenue from other sources.....	5,000,000 00
Total.....	$19,188,000 00
With minimum budget requirements of.....	$23,125,000 00
There will be a deficit of.....	$3,937,000 00
on a limit of $9.52.
Tax limit of $10.52 will produce...	$15,678,000 00
Estimated revenue from other sources.....	5,000,000 00
Total.....	$20,678,000 00
With a minimum budget requirement of.....	$23,125,000 00
There will be a deficit of.....	$2,447,000 00
on a tax limit of $10.52.
Tax limit of $11.52 will produce...	$17,168,000 00
Estimated revenue from other sources.....	5,000,000 00
Total.....	$22,168,000 00
With a minimum budget requirement of.....	$23,125,000 00
There will be a deficit of.....	$957,000 00
on a tax limit of $11.52.

It is to be noted that the above figures do not include general sliding-scale increases among many groups of employees nor do they consider the loss of $50,000,000 in the valuation this year because of changes in the corporation tax laws. This loss will affect the appropriating power for three years because, under general law, the appropriating power is based on the average valuation for the preceding three years.

The figures show conclusively that the city's request for a tax limit of $11.52 is so conservative that there can be no reasonable argument against it. It gives an appropriating power of one million dollars less than the minimum budget requirements of the city. To meet this deficit it is necessary to rely upon another extraordinary surplus. If surplus is to be considered at all in fixing the tax limit, the average surplus for a period of years should be taken. For the last ten years the average surplus has been $500,000. For the last twenty years it has been $250,000.

The figures submitted by the Finance Commission to the General Court in Senate Document No. 342 do not control these figures in any way. They rest upon what is clearly the unsound hypothesis that an extraordinary surplus does away with the necessity of an appropriating power sufficient to meet normal conditions. Acceptance of the commission's view will prevent the preparation of next year's budget within the time allowed by law and will impose upon the Legislature in substance the annual duty of administering the chief functions of the government of the City of Boston.

THE COST OF CITY GOVERNMENT.

The minimum budget requirements for 1921-22 outlined above are most conservative. The cost of running the city government has increased along with the cost of everything else. Food for public institutions, supplies purchased by all city departments and labor and materials furnished under contract are more expensive for the city to the same degree that they are for all other persons in the community. The streets of the city require improvements, meaning increased appropriations. The policy of completing repairs on the main arteries of traffic must be continued at increasing expense. If the city government is properly to perform its functions, a considerable portion of any surplus accumulated this year must be applied to expenses not included in the minimum budget requirements set forth above.

MEASURE SIMPLY PERMISSIVE.

The proposed bill merely places the appropriating power of the city upon a reasonable basis. It gives the city no more leeway in appropriations under present-day conditions than the limit of $6.52 did when it was established. The bill fixed no minimum for any expenditure or the amount of any appropriation. It merely fixes a limit beyond which the city may not go. No other city in this Commonwealth is so restricted, and but few cities in the entire nation are restricted in this manner. The Mayor and Council of the City of Boston have been chosen to expend the amount of money which they deem to be essential to maintain the city service on an efficient basis. Theirs is the responsibility and they should be given an appropriating power at least approximating the minimum requirements of city government as today administered.

That it may be possible to administer the city without exhausting the appropriation power is no reason for rejecting this bill. I have appropriated $500,000 of this year's extraordinary surplus to the reduction of the tax rate. Should conditions permit the same or further reduction next year, the city government can be trusted to make the reduction. None of the opponents of this measure have suggested that the City of Boston is being inefficiently or extravagantly administered. In this connection it is instructive to compare the results in Boston with those in the neighboring city of Newton during the current year. In Newton for 1920 the budget estimates, exclusive of the School Department, were $1,713,505, an increase of $398,204 or 30 27-100 per cent over the budget for 1919. In Boston the budget estimates for city purposes and city debt requirements was $28,084,301, an increase of $2,492,700 or only 9 74-100 per cent over the budget for 1919.

IMMEDIATE ACTION NECESSARY.

The necessity of establishing the appropriating power of the City of Boston for 1921-22 without waiting for legislative action next year is so manifest that none of the opponents of this bill have questioned it. The only suggestion for delay made by the representative of the Boston Chamber of Commerce was based on the assumption that there would be a special session of the Legislature in the fall of 1920, but the matter could be acted upon no more intelligently then, assuming such session were held, than it can now. Unless the Mayor knows the appropriating power of the city before legislation can be enacted in 1921, it will be a physical impossibility to properly prepare the segregated budget within the thirty days allowed by law from the beginning of the fiscal year. The preparation of this budget on time requires the submission of estimates by the heads of departments and careful planning of the same with a full knowledge of the resources of the city. It was not the intention or purpose of the tax limit to prevent a timely determination of the financial policy of the city, and since it is universally agreed that legislation on this subject is necessary at this time, a tax limit should be established which will be clearly sufficient to meet the city's requirements, and the city government should be permitted to work out its policy with full and timely knowledge of such limit.

CONCLUSION.

I cannot too strongly emphasize the principle that any extraordinary surplus should not affect the tax limit established by the Legislature. The purpose of the tax limit is to check unreasonable extravagance. If the Legislature regards a surplus, produced by efficient and economical administration, as a sufficient reason for unduly limiting the appropriating power, it will place a premium on extravagance and a penalty on the kind of administration which produces such surplus.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I hereby appoint the following named to be Weighers of Goods for the term ending April 30, 1920:

COMMITTEE ON RENT AND HOUSING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have just appointed a Committee on Rent and Housing. The function of this committee will be to investigate charges of rent profiteering and general housing conditions in the City of Boston.

As its work will be extensive it should have funds available to meet the necessary expenditures and it is estimated by the committee that a fund of $2,500 will be sufficient for its needs. I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Committee on Rent and Housing be and hereby is authorized to expend under the direction of the Mayor funds not in excess of $2,500, said expenditures to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ADDITIONAL DEPUTY SEALERS OF WEIGHTS, ETC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 25, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—There is need for the appointment of two additional deputy sealers of weights and measures in order that the work of the department may be effectively and efficiently conducted. The Sealer of Weights and Measures is exceedingly anxious to have these additional men appointed at the earliest possible moment and the Finance Commission, in a recent report, emphasizes the need of these additional employees.

The budget for 1920-21 provides for a sufficient sum to allow the increase in salary of such of the deputy sealers as have rendered long service to the city.

In the light of these two considerations I am transmitting to you an amendment to the present ordinance establishing the number and salaries of the deputy sealers, so that there may be twelve deputies and the salaries of such deputies may be progressively increased to an amount not exceeding $1,900, according to their terms of service.

I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston.

In the year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty.
An Ordinance Concerning the Deputy Sealers of Weights and Measures.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. Chapter three of the Revised Ordinances of 1914 is hereby amended in section five by striking out the clause establishing the salaries of the sealer of weights and measures and of the deputy sealers of weights and measures and substituting the following clause: The sealer of weights and measures, three thousand dollars, and the twelve deputy sealers of weights and measures each such salary not exceeding nineteen hundred dollars as may be fixed by the sealer of weights and measures with the approval of the mayor.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect upon the passage of the budget for the current year, which provides an appropriation item therefor.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

INVESTIGATION OF BOSTON CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 26, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Boston Consolidated Gas Company applied under the provisions of chapter

422 of the Acts of 1908, commonly called "The Sliding Scale Act," for an increase in the standard price of gas furnished in Boston and its vicinity from $1 to $1.20 per thousand. Upon such application public hearings were held, at which the city was represented through the Law Department and objected to the increase in the standard price.

The Public Utilities Department was of the opinion and expressed the desire that the City of Boston should make a thorough investigation of the affairs and business of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, which undoubtedly would materially aid it in arriving at a just conclusion, and pending such investigation tentatively increased the standard price from $1 to $1.10 per thousand.

I am strongly of the opinion that an investigation would be beneficial to the City of Boston and its gas consumers and feel that an investigation and report thereon can be well and exhaustively made as outlined in the accompanying letter of the A. D. Little Company, a Massachusetts corporation, eminently qualified to do the work, for which they will charge $20,000.

In connection with the work which they are to do it will be necessary to have the services of expert accountants, and the firm of Patterson, Teele & Dennis, expert accountants, will do the necessary accounting work in connection with the work of A. D. Little Company for a sum not exceeding $4,000.

As I consider this investigation of great importance to the City of Boston and the consumers of gas therein, I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-four thousand dollars be used and the same is hereby appropriated to be used for the defraying of the expenses of an investigation of and a report on the affairs of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, in relation to the necessity for a change in the standard price to be established for gas furnished in the City of Boston and its vicinity under the provisions of chapter four hundred twenty-two of the Acts of 1906, the same to be charged to the Reserve Fund and expended by the Corporation Council with the approval of the Mayor.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Cambridge, March 19, 1920.

Arthur Dehon Hill, Esq., Corporation Counsel,
730 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Mr. Hill,—We are inclosing herewith a somewhat detailed outline of the investigation of the operations of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company which we are to conduct. It has been our idea that you might care to use some or all of this information in presenting the matter to the City Council. It will in any event furnish you with information as to the details of the proposed investigation.

Yours very truly,

ARTHUR D. LITTLE, INC.,
CARL WOODS, Vice President.

OUTLINE OF THE PROPOSED INVESTIGATION BY ARTHUR D. LITTLE, INC., OF OPERATIONS OF THE BOSTON CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY.

SECTION I.—DETERMINATION OF ALLEGED NECESSITY FOR IMMEDIATE RELIEF.

A.—Inspection of all Manufacturing Stations.

All gas-making equipment will be listed with approximate date of installation, name of manufacturer, rated capacity, usual rate at which operated and present physical condition, to determine whether it has been properly maintained. Idle apparatus will be separately listed with reason for its being idle.

Buildings will be listed, showing ground area, number of floors, and tracing will be included, showing layout of plant.

Each water gas machine will be studied as to its equipment of labor-saving devices, such as hydraulically operated valves, mechanical assistance in clinkering, and removal of ashes, whether operated with the use of air and steam meters, and electric pyrometers.

Coal and coke handling equipment will be investigated to determine whether sufficient machinery is used in unloading and transporting fuel to generator houses and boiler rooms.

A physical examination will be made of each gas holder station and size and capacity of each container listed. All plants and equipment will be scrutinized to determine whether they have been properly maintained and reasonably modernized with the advancement in the art of gas making.

B.—A Critical Study of the Works Operating Reports.

Critical examination will be made of the daily, weekly, monthly and annual operating reports, which show the consumption of materials, and unit costs per 1,000 feet of gas.

These reports for the past ten years will be studied, and the results shown graphically with a view to determining tendencies as well as average results and as to whether the plants were properly operated with reference to existing equipment and opportunities for improvement.

Such tests of plant equipment will be made as may be found advisable to check the accuracy of the data supplied.

Particular attention will be given to recent marked improvements in operating and results at one of the largest stations, and the hearing of these results upon future costs analyzed.

An investigation will be conducted to determine to what extent regular analyses of gas-making materials have been made, what the tendencies have been as regards the quality of materials, and the effect on production results. A careful study will also be made as to the amount and character of scientific control applied to the various stations.

C.—A Similar Study of General Operating Costs of the Company.

Careful scrutiny will be given to the monthly and annual cost reports of each station, together with the monthly financial report, to determine the variations and reasons for same in cost of manufacturing gas, cost of gas purchased, and the cost of distribution, commercial, general, and other items. This investigation will also cover the reports for the past ten years, which will be analyzed and charted to bring out the bearing of past and present labor and material costs and future costs as affected by possible economies not involving new equipment.

D.—A Thorough Study to Determine the Probable Effect on the Future Cost of Gas in Holders of the New Contract for Coke Oven Gas.

This investigation will cover the effect of purchasing varying quantities of gas as related to the total gas sold, and as to whether the capacity of water gas stations is sufficient to take care of a possible period of non-supply of coke oven gas due to accident.

E.—A Comparative Study of the Statistics of Other Gas Companies Operating Under Similar Conditions.

A study will be made of reports to the Massachusetts Public Utility Commission, and reports made on gas companies in various cities where the conditions are reasonably comparable. If found desirable, in so far as practicable, inspection will be made of any other gas companies should their statistics indicate greater efficiency in production under comparative conditions.

SECTION II.—THE PRESENTATION OF A CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM FOR FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

A.—The critical correlation of available results of scientific work on the thermal efficiencies of varying gas compositions and enrichments.

B.—The consideration of the extent to which such scientific tests have been reduced to practice in this country, and especially in England, where marked success has apparently been achieved in their commercial application on a large scale.

The possible bearing of such results upon the operation of the local company.

C.—A consideration as to the advisability of new investment in gas equipment not generally altering the present scheme of manufacture.

D.—A consideration of the advisability of a radical departure from the past manufacturing program such as has been accomplished by other companies of similar size and involving large investment, but not departing from present standard practice in construction, operation or quality of product.

E.—A critical study of the trend of economic events in the United States as influencing the future development of the gas industry.

SECTION III.

A general consideration of the factors affecting the efficiency in the consumption of gas and a determination of the extent to which these factors may be controlled by the gas company and by the consumer.

In the conduct of the investigation above outlined there will no doubt develop specific points not above enumerated, requiring careful study, and it will be our intention, in so far as possible, to determine all facts which have a bearing upon the reasonable cost of manufacturing gas by the company.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ADJUSTMENTS IN BUDGET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 25, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I hereby approve the accompanying adjustments in the budget as substituted by me to you on March 1, 1920, and I recommend their adoption.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

(Annexed were the adjustments referred to.)

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

SITE FOR COURTHOUSE, WEST ROXBURY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 23, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The city now possesses a site at the corner of Hyde Park avenue and Tower street, at Forest Hills square, taken some few years ago for the purpose of erecting a courthouse thereon for the Municipal Court of the City of Boston for the West Roxbury District.

All three of the justices of the West Roxbury Court protest most vigorously against the present site and point out that a building erected on this location would be in such close proximity to the tracks of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company that the business of the court would be greatly interfered with because of noise, a situation which renders the erection of a courthouse on the present location obviously unwise.

There is a further objection to the above site because if a building were erected it would be necessary to construct a portion of the same over land taken for Stony Brook purposes, which would be in violation of the charter provisions, as land taken for one municipal purpose cannot be used for another without legislation.

I am therefore of the opinion that another site near Forest Hills square should be selected some distance removed from the locations of the railway and railroad company and that the present site should be abandoned and sold.

I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying order, which will enable the city to select a more appropriate site and prepare plans for a building adapted for the same.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of thirty thousand (30,000) dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended in acquiring land for a new site and preparing plans for a municipal building to be used for the Municipal Court of the West Roxbury District, to be erected thereon within a reasonable distance of Forest Hills square, and to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

FRANCHISE OF EASTERN MASSACHUSETTS STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting to you copy of a resolution adopted by the Germantown Citizens' Association at its meeting on Sunday, March 21, 1920, with relation to the franchise of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

(Accompanying the message of the Mayor was a resolution, preamble and resolve from the Germantown Citizens' Association stating that in regular meeting assembled they hereby petition the Mayor and City Council in the interest of the public to revoke the franchise granted the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company in the streets of the City of Boston and ask for an immediate public hearing.)

Referred to the Executive Committee.

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith the report this day received from the Boston Infirmary Trustees relative to Charles E. Donlan, superintendent of the Boston Almshouse and Hospital at Long Island, and I recommend that the Council consider the imperative necessity of taking immediate action under Revised Laws, chapter 19, section 23, and amendments thereto, in accordance with the report of the trustees.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Boston Infirmary Department,
March 29, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Boston Infirmary Trustees report Charles E. Donlan, superintendent of the Boston Almshouse and Hospital at Long Island, to be guilty of neglect of duty in the control of the institution at Long Island and in the control of its officers and inmates.

The civil service law prevents and precludes the Board from taking instant or appropriate action on this finding under the provisions of the civil service law. The present superintendent is technically a "veteran," and can only be removed by the City Council after a full hearing of which he shall receive seventy-two hours' written notice, with a statement of the reasons for the contemplated removal.

The Board therefore respectfully requests that your Honor forward to the City Council this report to you, with a recommendation that the City Council take the necessary action under the provisions of Revised Laws, chapter 19, section 23, as amended.

Yours respectfully,
THOMAS C. O'BRIEN, Chairman.

I want now to serve notice on the members of the Council that I shall be here at two o'clock Mondays, and if there is no quorum there will be no meeting with me presiding. I do think, after the Council has elected a president, all the members, whether he was their choice or not, should be present at the time when he is supposed to call the meeting to order, and that there should not be such delay that it is sometimes half-past two or later before we can have a session with a quorum. WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

On April 9 to Martino DeMatteo as per following communication:

BOSTON, April 7, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Martino DeMatteo, 154 Dudley avenue, Roslindale, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance, but by the abutters, and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

On April 6 to Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Company as per following communication:

BOSTON, April 3, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request that I be authorized to purchase thirty (30) fire alarm box posts, Portland and Providence type, at seventy-two dollars ($72) each, from the Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Company.

The Fire Commissioner informs me that the present market price for this type of post is seventy-six dollars ($76). The Fire Department about three years ago changed from the Boston type post to the Gamewell type post as the latter type has many advantages over the former.

The Fire Department has no patterns for the Gamewell type post and is therefore obliged to order from the Gamewell Company. If patterns were made they would cost from $200 to $250 and then the Fire Department would have to finish the posts themselves.

I believe the price quoted is reasonable, and request favorable action.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved the following claims, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel:

REJECTED CLAIMS.

On April 6 the Law Department disapproved fifty-two claims against the city.

In thirty-four of these no amounts were specified, the other eighteen amounted to $3,416.65, and are classified as follows:

Against the Cemetery Department, one, for $936; against the Collecting Department, two, amounting to $16.70; against the Hospital Department, two, in which no amounts were specified; against the Park and Recreation Department, one, for $174.75; against the Police Department, fourteen, in seven of which no amounts were specified, and the other seven aggregated $1,693.27; against the Public Works Department, thirty-two, in twenty-five of which no amounts were specified, and the other seven amounted to $595.93.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability upon the city.

TAX RATE OF BOSTON, 1918.

Total rate per $1,000 was $21.20 ($3.50 more than in 1917), or $16.85 for city purposes (i. e., $3.34 more than in 1917), $2.99 for state (i. e., same as in 1917), and $1.36 for county (i. e., 16 cents more than in 1917). Of the city rate, $4.48 was for schools, i. e., 84 cents more than in 1910 and $1.52 more than in 1905. Of the 38 cities in Massachusetts, 26 had a higher rate than Boston's, notwithstanding the unprecedented increase in the latter. The highest rate was $26.80 (i. e., Revere's); the lowest, $16 (i. e., Peabody's). Only 7 of the 38 cities had a tax rate as low as $20 or under. Tax rate in New York (Manhattan), $23.60; New York (Brooklyn), $24; St. Louis, $23.50 (on 70 per cent of value) equivalent of $16.45 on 100 per cent assessment; Cleveland, $15.50; Buffalo, $24.70; Baltimore, $20.10; Detroit, $13.80; New Orleans, $22; Newark, $27.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 13.

EXAMINATION FOR PROMOTION.

The following additional information concerning the examination for promotion to be held on April 15, 1920, is published for the information of the department:

"Privates who make application for the examination on April 15 for promotion to lieutenant will in due time receive a set of experience sheets on which question 9 reads as follows: 'Have charges ever been made against you, or have you ever been complained of, reprimanded, fined, suspended, or punished in any other way? If so, state fully the date and circumstances of each case, including penalties and final dispositions.' In answering this, a private is required to state all reprimands, penalties, etc., he has ever received while a member of the Boston Fire Department.

"This is necessary in order to determine whether a man has a clear record, for a bonus of 1 per cent for a clear record is given only to those men who have had no reprimands, etc., during their membership in the department.

"The subjects and weights of examination for promotion to fire lieutenant are the same as already announced except that in place of the words 'Report or General Order' read 'Report or Letter on a choice of subjects given at the examination.' The practical questions will concern fire fighting and the rules and regulations of the department, but not fire prevention."

REGULATIONS GOVERNING THEATERS, MOVING PICTURE HALLS AND OTHER PLACES OF AMUSEMENT.

The attention of the managements of theaters, moving picture halls and other places of amusements is called to the following regulations which have been adopted for enforcement by the Licensing Division of the City of Boston for the maintenance of a proper standard of public amusements.

These regulations are made by me under the authority of chapter 348 of the Acts of 1915, and I direct that holders of licenses take the proper steps to secure their enforcement.

Performances of every kind must always be governed by the dictates of propriety and refinement. Obviously, among other things such features as the following would thus be excluded from performances:

1. Dialogues, gestures, songs (especially parodies), language or conversation of any kind which are directly or by double meaning obscene or lascivious, and intended to suggest sexual relation.

2. Performances must be confined entirely to the stage. This prohibits female performers, whether artists or members of chorus, from using the aisle for passageway of the theater, and performers of either sex from using or occupying seats in auditorium, boxes or balconies of the theater during their act.

3. Females from appearing upon the stage in legs bare. Exception to this only permitted upon authority of the Mayor or licensing officer.

4. Wearing of one-piece union suits by females, where simply used to wantonly display the figure, as in living pictures.

5. The portrayal by performers of either sex of a dope fiend, wherein the act of taking a hypodermic injection, the inhaling of or eating of dope, or the use of dope in any manner is intended to show its effect upon a human being.

6. All forms of muscle dancing by performers of either sex. This includes every dance which contains suggestive or repulsive contortions of the human body.

7. The use of profanity.

8. The portrayal of a moral pervert or sex degenerate.

ANDREW J. PETERS,
March 1, 1920. Mayor.

These regulations have been approved and accepted by the Association of Theater Managers of Boston.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Boston, April 7, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Subject to the approval of your Honor, the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners has voted that Commissioner James J. Mahar be granted leave of absence, without loss of pay, from May 17 to May 22, inclusive, and be appointed as a special representative to represent the Schoolhouse Department of this city at the annual convention of the National Association of School Accounting and Business Officials of Public Schools to be held in Minneapolis. The total expense for this trip will not exceed one hundred and seventy-five dollars ($175).

It has been the custom in the past for a representative from this department to attend annually this convention, and as stated above, the Board has voted, subject to your approval, to appoint Mr. Mahar for this service this year.

Respectfully yours,

J. P. LOMASNEY,
Chairman.

Executive approval, April 9.

REBATES ON LAYING ARTIFICIAL STONE SIDEWALKS.

Boston, April 7, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Subject to your approval, the rebate allowed to contractors for laying artificial stone sidewalks on public streets for private individuals will be increased from 6 cents to 12 cents per square foot on and after April 15, 1920.

When artificial stone sidewalks were first laid in Boston, about twenty-five years ago, the cost per square foot was approximately 25 cents. The standard form of sidewalk pavement at that time was brick, which cost approximately 12 cents per square foot. The city was not at that time, and is not now, equipped to do this work, with the result that an agreement was made with property owners wishing to lay artificial stone sidewalks that the city would allow them a rebate equal to one half the cost of the standard form of sidewalk pavement, viz., brick at the rate of 6 cents per square foot. This rebate is still the standard allowance for artificial stone sidewalks to property owners making independent contracts with authorized contractors for laying these walks.

Artificial stone in place of brick has become the standard form of permanent sidewalk pavement, and almost all orders now passed by the City Council for permanent sidewalks are for artificial stone, one half of the cost of which is assessed upon the owners of the abutting property.

In consideration of the above, together with the fact that the cost of bricks and labor have so advanced as to make the present price of brick sidewalks about 25 cents per square foot, this increase in the allowance is, in my opinion, reasonable.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Executive approval, April 8.

SIMON E. HECHT,
Acting Chairman.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL

Monday, April 5, 1920.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President MORIARTY in the chair and all the members present.

CONSOLIDATION OF DEPARTMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 5, 1920.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—On July 16, 1919, I sent the following message to the City Council:

"In my opinion the efficient and economic administration of certain city departments which now have charge and control over the institutions maintained by the City of Boston on the three islands in Boston Harbor require that certain changes be made in the conduct of such departments.

"A recent act of the Legislature authorizes the consolidation of the Penal Institutions Department, Infirmary Department, Children's Institutions Department and Institutions Registration Department. Previous to 1897 these departments were conducted under one head, and were separated at that time for certain reasons which do not now exist. The administration of the Infirmary Department and the Children's Institutions Department was placed under the control of boards of trustees. I think it has been demonstrated that this form of administration has not been conducive to efficient government.

"Many conditions exist whereby through a closer co-ordination of administrative work of these four departments a considerable sum of money may be saved. In many instances duplications exist in the matter of investigation, supervision, and the purchase of supplies. Valuable farm lands remain uncultivated on Long Island, and at the same time labor which could be utilized to improve these acres is unused. Without depriving any employee of his position it has been estimated that a substantial sum can be saved each year through the co-operative administration of the business end of these institutions.

"As will be seen by the accompanying draft of an ordinance, it is not contemplated in any way that the institutions located on the islands of Boston Harbor shall be united, nor the inmates therein intermingled or associated. The existing policy of separating the worthy poor, the delinquent children and the adult criminals will be strictly adhered to.

"The city of Detroit, I am informed, has a commission of charities and correction. This is also true in Cleveland and New York, and it seems to be the tendency to unite the administrative features of city departments for economic reasons.

"At present there are but two of the seven members of the Board of Trustees of the Infirmary Department holding office. The term of office of three of the seven members of the Children's Institutions Department has expired.

"I therefore submit that it is the logical, economical and efficient thing to do to place these departments under one administrative head, and I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying ordinance."

In September the City Council rejected the proposed consolidation. About a month later I sent another message to the City Council recommending the consolidation of the Children's Institutions Department, the Infirmary Department and the Institutions Registration Department, thus omitting the Penal Institutions Department, which was included in the consolidation as originally proposed. The City Council also rejected this consolidation. I have never been officially informed of any sufficient reason for this action.

Since taking office it has been apparent to me and I have maintained that the control of these institutions by a board of trustees is not only impracticable but wholly undesirable and inefficient. The experience of the past two years has confirmed my judgment and a committee of the City Council has publicly stated that conditions, particularly at Long Island, were not what they should be—a reconfirmation of my contention that the department cannot be efficiently administered under the present system.

A number of months ago I appointed a committee to study and report on the general conditions at the institutions on Long Island. This committee, composed of men pre-eminently qualified to conduct such an investigation and to make a report both reliable and worthy of consideration, recommended that the various institutions on the island be removed to the mainland; the almshouse to be quartered in the new west department buildings in West Roxbury, the tubercular patients to be cared for at the Boston Consumptives' Hospital at Mattapan, and the patients at the chronic hospital to be cared for in new buildings on the mainland, where competent medical attention would be available at all times. These recommendations had and still have my complete approval, but these changes cannot be made efficiently except under a consolidation such as I recommend.

The present system of administering the affairs of the departments which I recommend be consolidated, with the exception of the Penal Institutions Department, is wholly indefensible, and I hope that the time has come when the City Council will recognize the wisdom of the consolidation of these four departments into one department under the control of a commissioner. I believe that such a consolidation is the only solution of the difficulties which we are constantly called upon to face in the administration of these departments.

At no time has the City Council shown a disposition to be helpful in the solution of the problem of administering these departments. In recommending the adoption of the accompanying ordinance to consolidate the four departments in question, an opportunity is given the City Council to act constructively. I sincerely hope that your body will make the most of this opportunity.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston.

In the year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty.
An Ordinance Concerning the Consolidation of the Penal Institutions Department, the Boston Infirmary Department, the Children's Institutions Department and the Institutions Registration Department.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston as follows:

Section 1. The penal institutions department, the Boston infirmary department, the children's institutions department and the institutions registration department are hereby abolished. All the rights, powers, duties and obligations of the said departments and of any officer, board or member thereof are hereby transferred to and shall hereafter be exercised and performed by the institutions department established by this ordinance, which shall be the lawful successor of the said departments. All employees of the said departments shall as temporary appointees of the institutions department continue to perform their usual duties upon the same terms and conditions as heretofore until removed, appointed to positions in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, or transferred to other departments.

Sec. 2. The institutions department shall be under the supervision and control of a commissioner to be known as the commissioner of institutions, who shall be appointed by the Mayor in accordance with the provisions governing appointments in chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 and acts in amendment thereof, and who shall receive an annual salary of $7,500.

Sec. 3. The commissioner shall be the executive and administrative head of the department, and may organize said department in such divisions as he may find necessary for its proper conduct.

Sec. 4. The mayor, subject to the provisions of Special Acts 1919, chapter 222, section 2, may appoint, and fix the compensation of, not more than two deputy commissioners, who shall act directly under the commissioner of institutions and perform such duties as the said commissioner shall direct.

Sec. 5. So much of this ordinance as relates to the appointment of the commissioner of institutions shall take effect upon its passage; all other provisions shall take effect when such appointment becomes operative. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 5, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—On February 9, 1920, I sent a message to the City Council recommending the passage of an order which would authorize the city to sell a piece of property located at the corner of Arch street and Hawley place and originally purchased for a site for Police Station 2, and to purchase a parcel of land located at the corner of Milk and Sears streets as a site for Police Station 2.

This message was sent to the City Council only after the whole situation had been most carefully reviewed with the Police Commissioner and the needs of his department considered from every angle, but despite the fact that the new location was far more desirable in the opinion of the Police Commissioner, who, after all, is the best judge of the needs of his department, the City Council has failed to take any action in the matter.

It would indeed be unfortunate were the city not given authority to purchase the new site on Milk street. The needs of the Police Commissioner are such that the old site on Arch street is not as suitable as the site on Milk street for his purposes. As I stated in my previous message on this matter, the Police Commissioner desired to build for Division 2 a building which will be large enough to care not only for the regular force of Division 2 but which will also provide separate quarters for the new traffic squad, as well as quarters for the property clerk, for whom there is no longer room at the headquarters building in Pemberton square.

The owners of the parcel of land on Milk street notified me on the afternoon of March 29 that the offer of this property would be withdrawn on April 1, 1920. In the hope, however, that favorable action might be forthcoming from the City Council, I secured an extension of the offer until April 10, 1920, at which time it will be withdrawn unless the city is in a position to definitely accept it.

The inability of the city to acquire the Milk street property will constitute a serious setback to the best interests both of the men of Division 2 and the members of the new traffic squad, and as I have heard of no reason why the city should not acquire this property for the purpose mentioned, I strongly urge the City Council to do nothing which will prevent such acquisition. I believe we should all do our utmost to aid the new police force rather than to interfere with its development and progress in any way.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

PROTEST AGAINST STUART STREET LEGISLATION.

Coun. LANE offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby protests against the proposed legislation for the extension of Stuart street and the widening of Eliot street, as contained in Senate Bill No. 302, for the following reasons:

1. The proposed improvement has already been authorized under a statute which protects the interests of the city—chapter 329 of the Special Acts of 1917.

2. The bill contains no provision for excess condemnation, and saddles a needless expense on the city.

3. The bill has no provision requiring acceptance by the Mayor and City Council, and is a flagrant interference with the principle of home rule.

4. The bill authorizes the issuing of debt by the Mayor and City Treasurer without the consent of the City Council, which is in plain violation of the terms of the city charter.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, my idea in introducing this resolution is because this so-called Stuart-street bill has just been passed by the Massachusetts Senate and is going to the House. It is a direct violation of our city charter. We may not all believe that the present city charter is perfect, some think it is and some think it isn't, but I think everybody will agree that there is one feature in the charter that should be preserved, and that is that the City Council should be a check on any expenditures that the Mayor might see fit to put through. While we have at the present time, I think, a Mayor who would be in favor of referring this to the City Council, there might be a time when the Mayor of Boston could not get some pernicious legislation through the City Council and would appeal to the Legislature, and if the Legislature saw fit to pass it the City Treasurer could issue bonds in spite of anything the City Council might do. I believe this resolution should pass, and in case the bill before the Legislature goes through in its present form I think the City Council as a whole should wait upon the Governor and ask him to veto it. I have talked with several prominent citizens who believe Stuart street should be put through, although not in the manner proposed at the present time. I personally think the extension of Stuart street would be a great public improvement, but I am utterly opposed to putting it through in this form. I trust that the resolution will be referred to the Executive Committee, and that it will be reported and acted upon later in the session.

The resolution was referred to the Executive Committee.

SIDEWALK, NEPONSET AVENUE.

Coun. COLLINS offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Neponset avenue in front of No. 3 to No. 15, inclusive, and No. 29 to No. 35, inclusive, Ward 20, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.
Passed.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It has constructed, under authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation: Tremont Street Subway, opened September 1, 1897, costing with subsequent alterations, \$4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, under Boston Harbor and State street, opened December 30, 1904, costing \$3,309,000; Washington Street Tunnel, opened November 30, 1908, costing \$8,496,700 (including \$2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, opened March 23, 1912, costing \$1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, opened October 3, 1914, costing \$5,234,471; East Boston Tunnel Extension, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, \$2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, opened December 4, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; amount borrowed to 1919 for the Dorchester tunnel, \$10,738,000. Total cost, approximately, for all subways and tunnels, \$36,000,000 (against which a sinking fund of about \$5,000,000 has been accumulated from the revenue), payable mostly in 40 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways (about 8.9 miles in all) are leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnishes the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which is at $\frac{3}{4}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By chapter 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By chapter 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Department was established, to be in charge of three commissioners, appointed for term of one year.

NEW WARD LINES OF BOSTON, 1916.

Chapter 630, Acts of 1914, required the redivision of Boston, by the City Council, into not less than 24 nor more than 36 wards, so arranged as to contain as nearly as may be ascertained an equal number of voters in each ward. On December 28, 1914, the City Council enacted as an ordinance, by vote of 6 to 3, the plan submitted by its Committee on Redivision of Wards. This plan describes the new boundaries of the 26 wards. (See Municipal Register for 1917, pages 176-187.) The subdivision of the 26 wards into 223 voting precincts (two less than before) was enacted by the City Council on June 7, 1915. This became effective on the day of the State Primary, September 26, 1916. (Precinct boundaries described in Municipal Register for 1917, pages 188-231.) The changes effected by the redivision of wards are mainly these, viz.: Wards 1 and 2, East Boston, are divided by Prescott and Princeton streets instead of as before; Charlestown has two wards (3 and 4) instead of three; Ward 5 covers the old Wards 6, 7 and 8; Ward 6 is in place of old Ward 9; Ward 7 in place of old 10; Ward 8 in place of old 11; Wards 9 and 10 cover the old South Boston Wards 13, 14 and 15 mostly; Ward 11 takes in the northern half of old Ward 16 and western end of old Ward 15; Ward 12 is similar to old Ward 17 and Ward 13 to old 18; Ward 14 includes old Ward 19 and adjacent part of old Ward 22 (as far as Perkins and Centre streets); Wards 15 and 16 cover old Ward 21 and the northern part of 22 (as far as Boylston street); Wards 17, 18 and 19 cover that part of old Ward 16 south of Dudley street and all of old Ward 20; Wards 20 and 21 cover the eastern half and western half respectively of old Ward 24 (as far as Blue Hill avenue and Walk Hill street); Ward 22 includes the southern half of old 22 below Boylston street and the northern end of old Ward 23 to Whipple avenue, Walk Hill, South and Allendale streets; Ward 23 is unchanged except as to its northern boundary just stated, and Ward 24 takes in Mount Hope section, east of railroad, Mattapan and Hyde Park. Wards 25 and 26 cover the southern half and northern half respectively of old Ward 25, Brighton.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

On April 9 to the Atlantic Works for work on ferryboat "John H. Sullivan," to make repairs to tall shaft sleeves, collars and bushings, to rudder pintle bearings, to replace defective rivets in hull, to remove scale with pneumatic chisels, to make welds in boilers, to make patterns of condenser head, etc., the estimated cost for labor and materials being $3,300.

BOSTON, April 7, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

With reference to the attached request for authority to allow the Atlantic Works to make certain repairs on the ferryboat "John H. Sullivan" at an estimated cost of $3,300, without advertising for bids therefor, beg to advise that this firm is a subcontractor under the contract with the Boston Marine Works for repairs to the machinery of this boat, and the boat is at present on the railway of the Atlantic Works.

When the "John H. Sullivan" was placed on the railway, other repairs were found to be necessary. It was impossible to ascertain the extent of this work until the boat had been taken out of the water and the under-water body could be examined.

Advertising would save but little, as there are only two or three plants in Boston equipped to do this work, and considerable time would be lost, in addition to the loss of part of the railway charges, which are now being borne by the Boston Marine Works.

The Atlantic Works, in my opinion, are well qualified to make these repairs.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PATRIOTS' DAY, MONDAY,
APRIL 19, 1920.

LIVING LESSONS IN AMERICANISM FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN OF SEVEN TOWNS AND CITIES.

9.45 a. m.—Exercises with address by Mayor Andrew J. Peters at Paul Revere House, North square.

10.15 a. m.—Start of fifth annual reproduction of the historic "Ride of Paul Revere." (From the identical house in which Revere lived when he made his world-famous trip to Lexington, through Charlestown, Somerville, Medford and Arlington.)

Added Feature—For the first time—A reproduction of the equally important, but less known, "Ride of William Dawes." (From the North End, through Eliot square in Roxbury, Brookline, Allston, Harvard square in Cambridge and Arlington Centre to Lexington.)

Each rider will be on horseback, in costume, with mounted escort from First Troop of Cavalry, M. S. G.

Let men, women and children turn out at the starting point (North square), and along the way, and live in imagination the stirring hours that marked the opening of the Revolutionary War and American Independence, right here in our own city.

Look in the newspapers for the routes, and for the places and times of special programs arranged by cities and towns through which the two riders will pass, as did the original messengers 145 years ago.

At night—7.45 to 10 o'clock—Boston Common. Open air patriotic program. Band—Community Singing—Timely Inspiration. Motion Pictures of "Paul Revere's Ride" and "Boston Tea Party." Military and Naval "Honors to the Flag."

Events of the day arranged and directed by Patriots' Day Committee of Public Celebration Association of Boston, with the co-operation of City of Boston Committee for Americanism, and the Chamber of Commerce Committee on Americanization and a representative of each city and town concerned.

E. V. B. PARKE,
Director of Public Celebrations.

ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor.

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS FOR EMPLOYMENT.

Application must be made upon the printed blanks furnished by the library. Examinations for applicants will be held from time to time as the needs of the service may require. Each applicant will be notified of the examination to be held next after filing his application.

The examinations are not strictly competitive. Other capacities being equal, preference will be given to persons attaining the highest rank, but in making selections from amongst those who have taken the examination, other elements of fitness for the position to be filled will be taken into account.

The examination, moreover, is regarded as a preliminary test merely. It must be followed by a test of capacity in actual service during a probationary period. And all appointments to the service are provisional, and conditioned upon proof of capacity for the particular position to be filled, as shown in actual service.

The grades are as follows:

Grade E.—Minor positions only, principally runners or pages.

Grade C.—Junior assistants.

Grade B.—Senior assistants, cataloguers, etc.

The qualifications for these grades, so far as the requirements of the general examination are concerned, are as follows:

Grade E.—Equivalent of a grammar school education.

Grade C.—Equivalent of a high school education. Knowledge of one foreign language.

Grade B.—Equivalent of a college education. Knowledge of two foreign languages. Library science (if required).

To the above general qualifications must be added in each case such special qualifications as may be requisite for the particular positions to be filled.

Joseph Lundy, Esq.,

Dear Sir,—In answer to your several communications of March 31, requesting a copy of the charges and specifications in the matter of the proposed removal of Doctor Donlan from the position of superintendent of the Almshouse and Hospital at Long Island, I inclose herewith a copy of the message of the Mayor and of the communication from the chairman of the Infirmary Trustees, which were submitted to the City Council on March 29, 1920, and upon which the hearing called for April 6, 1920, was ordered by the City Council.

Very truly yours,

JAMES DONOVAN, City Clerk.

(Appended were the papers set forth above.)

Following is the letter from Mr. O'Brien acknowledging receipt of request for specifications, with specifications appended:

City of Boston,
Penal Institutions Department,
811 City Hall Annex, April 2, 1920.

Hon. James Donovan,

City Clerk:

Dear Sir,—I received a copy for a request for specifications made by Joseph Lundy, attorney for Charles E. Donlan, superintendent of the Almshouse and Hospital at Long Island, which I am forwarding to you, requesting that you transmit to Joseph Lundy the specifications requested by him.

Yours very truly,

THOMAS C. O'BRIEN, Commissioner.

Following is the letter from Mr. Lundy requesting change in hour of hearing:

Law offices Joseph Lundy, George E. O'Brien, 212-213 Carney Building, 40 Pemberton Square, Boston, March 31, 1920.

Mr. James F. Moriarty, President Boston City Council, City Hall, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Mr. President,—Please to note my appearance as counsel for Dr. Charles E. Donlan, who has been called to appear before the Boston City Council on Tuesday, April 6, 1920, in connection with certain charges aiming at his removal as superintendent of the Long Island Hospital and Almshouse.

Upon the day set I am obliged to go to trial in the Superior Court by an assignment of Mr. Justice Thayer. This is imperative. I shall be free after four o'clock p. m. and should like to go on at 4.30 on that date if agreeable to the City Council.

Faithfully yours,

JOSEPH LUNDY,
Attorney for Charles E. Donlan, (Specially).

Corporation Counsel ARTHUR D. HILL appeared to assist the City Council.

Mr. LUNDY—Before proceeding I desire to thank you, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Council, for your courtesy in extending this hearing to Doctor Donlan at this time, and to note now my formal objection to proceeding without a full quota of the Council being present. Now, there devolves upon me, Mr. President, rather a disagreeable duty. But this is a peculiar hearing. The law constitutes the City Council as a body here to pass upon the weight and legality of the charges looking to the removal of the present superintendent. You differ in every respect from a removing official or body of officials, who are not only permitted but who are commanded by law to sit upon the charges in connection with which they are the accusers. You occupy an entirely different position. Certain members of this body have already declared themselves upon the question of the fitness or the unfitness of Doctor Donlan, and, while the charges as presented to you today are not in any degree of the same complexion as those brought forward by members of your body, nevertheless they indicate a state of prejudice of mind, and, if a sense of fair play, delicacy or good taste does not prompt these men to retire from the Council Chamber, I now ask that the Council, sitting as a tribunal on the evidence being presented, exclude from consideration of this case Messrs. Moriarty, McLaughlin and Brickley, who have already declared themselves as favoring the removal of Doctor Donlan.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. President, my understanding of this case is simply that we are to try this man on the charges preferred against him by the commissioner of the department. Whatever we know about the case I don't think has anything to do with that. He is simply being tried upon the charges put forth by the commission by whom he is employed. I object to being ruled out.

Mr. LUNDY—Well, I ask that the Council—
President MORIARTY—I want to say, in answer to Counsel Lundy, as being one of the men referred to, that I have not made any statement that I think should preclude me from sitting on the case. I want to say that I was told yesterday that this objection was going to be made, so it is no surprise to me. I was told that Messrs. McLaughlin, Brickley and Moriarty were going to be asked not to sit in the hearing. But I have a right to sit, I feel, as a city councilor, under the law, and I am going to sit, and I feel that I can give a fair judgment on the evidence that is going to be presented here in so far as these charges are concerned.

Mr. LUNDY—I hope it is not understood that I intend any personal reflections. Personally I know Mr. Moriarty, and I think he will believe me when I say I think he has an open mind. But I insist upon that objection, and upon its being put to a vote of this Council.

President MORIARTY—The objection will be noted and will be given consideration.

Mr. LUNDY—Now, upon the notice—

President MORIARTY—Do you withdraw your objection to the full attendance of the body, now, with eight members present and one absent?

Mr. LUNDY—Well, that I did not urge very strongly. I don't know what the law is on that.

President MORIARTY—Well, there are nine here now.

Mr. LUNDY—Very well, but it is understood that the other objection is noted?

President MORIARTY—It is noted.

Mr. LUNDY—Now, Doctor Donlan denies jurisdiction of this body to pass upon a case of this kind for the reason that the form and nature of the notice are improper and defective. The City Council has absolutely no right to remove Doctor Donlan or any other city employee. The statute provides this as a sort of protective body for those who happen to be veterans. It is true that no such man can be removed until your honorable body has passed upon the character of the evidence; but this calls upon Doctor Donlan to come and show cause why he should not be removed on the complaint of the Infirmary Trustees. In other words, you have nothing to pass upon. There is but one body that has the right to remove Doctor Donlan, and that is his own Board of Infirmary Trustees. Now, a week or more ago your honorable body recommended to his Honor the Mayor that he remove Doctor Donlan, which, of course, he could not legally do. He now reciprocates by sending back to your body a request for you to do something that you cannot possibly do. So now I want my objection noted to that at this time.

President MORIARTY—No objection, the objection will be noted.

Mr. LUNDY—Now, Mr. President, I put to the City Council a request for specifications as to the blanket charge of neglect of duty. The City Council, which under the law is the body supposed to supply these specifications, has failed to supply them, for the very good reason that it did not have any. Mr. O'Brien, of the Infirmary Trustees, the provisional trustees, has supplied some answers to those specifications. Now, the specifications and the complaint are at variance. The communication to your body from the Mayor is on a complaint of the Infirmary Trustees. These specifications are answered by one Thomas C. O'Brien, who, while he files these answers, does not declare that he is the sole complainant and witness. Now, I desire to move you, sir, that article "b" under the second specification—"Absences from Long Island without giving sufficient instructions as to where you might be reached during absence"—be stricken out, as vague and insufficient.

President MORIARTY—You put the specifications in as evidence?

Mr. LUNDY—Why, I supposed they were a part of the evidence, but perhaps we will have them read. The proper authority has not given these answers. These answers should be furnished by the Board of Trustees. They have been furnished by one Thomas C. O'Brien.

President MORIARTY—Do you put them in?

Mr. LUNDY—Why, they are a part of the papers, a part of the case.

President MORIARTY—They have not been made a part of the record.

The specifications furnished in answer to the request for specifications, as set forth at the introduction of the hearing, were read, as follows:

Boston Infirmary Department,
Room 51, City Hall, April 2, 1920.

Charles E. Donlan, Esq., care of Joseph Lundy, Esq., 212-213 Carney Building, 40 Pemberton Square, Boston:

Dear Sir,—Your request for specifications made by Joseph Lundy, Esq., as special attorney is herewith complied with:

First.—Thomas C. O'Brien, chairman, Boston Infirmary Trustees, 811 City Hall Annex.

Second.—(a) Absence without leave from on or about the twelfth day of January, 1920, to on or about the twenty-eighth day of January, 1920.

(b) Absences from Long Island without giving sufficient instructions as to where you might be reached during absence.

(c) Failure to prevent waste in the departments of the institution.

(d) Failure to care for existing fire equipment in the institution.

(e) Failure to make administrative orders to the department heads in writing.

(f) Failure to countersign requisitions for supplies made on the storekeeper.

(g) Failure to keep accurate records.

(h) Failure to provide sanitary facilities for inmates.

Third.—From January 12 to the present date in answer to (b) to (h), inclusive, second.

Fourth.—Boston Almshouse and Hospital, Long Island.

Fifth.—See answer to 1.

Sixth.—See answer to 1.

Yours very truly,

THOMAS C. O'BRIEN, Chairman.

Mr. LUNDY—Now, Mr. President, I move that they be stricken out as not being furnished by the proper authority. Those specifications should be furnished by the Board of Trustees and not by Thomas C. O'Brien. I ask for a ruling on that.

President MORIARTY—Your objection will be noted in the minutes.

Mr. LUNDY—Well, I want a ruling on it. Do I understand that that is refused?

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I move that the Council retire and consider the question raised by Mr. Lundy, and come back.

President MORIARTY—Is that the desire of the Council?

Coun. WATSON—I presume, the question being raised, that they are entitled to a decision now, before proceeding.

Coun. COLLINS—Do I understand that Mr. Lundy asks the Chair for a ruling or asks the Council for a ruling?

Mr. LUNDY—I ask the Council for a ruling.

Coun. COLLINS—If that is so, I think the Council should retire, Mr. President.

President MORIARTY—The Council will retire. (The Council retired at 4.55 p. m. and returned to the chamber at 5.01 p. m.)

President MORIARTY—I will say to you, Mr. Lundy, that your objection has been considered and overruled.

Mr. LUNDY—Note my exception to that, Mr. President. Now, Mr. President, I move that "(b)" in the second answer—"Absences from Long Island without giving sufficient instructions as to where you might be reached during absence"—be stricken out as vague and insufficient.

President MORIARTY—Denied. I want to say here, so that we may understand each other, that the Council has voted that the rulings of the Chair are to be the authorized rulings of the body, unless some member of the Council objects to the ruling.

Mr. LUNDY—And to that ruling I except, Mr. President,—that the Chair shall speak for the Council on specific objections. I move that "(c)"—"Failure to prevent waste in the departments of the institution"—be stricken out as vague and insufficient.

President MORIARTY—Your motion is denied.

Mr. LUNDY—Note my exception, sir. I now move you that "(d)"—"Failure to care for existing fire equipment in the institution"—be stricken out as vague and insufficient.

President MORIARTY—Motion denied.

Mr. LUNDY—Note my exception, and that includes, of course, Mr. President, your ruling for the Council. I now move you, sir, that paragraph "(e)"—"Failure to make administrative orders to the department heads in writing"—be stricken out as vague and insufficient.

President MORIARTY—Also denied.

Mr. LUNDY—Note my exception to that, and to your speaking for the Council. I now ask that "(f)"—"Failure to countersign requisitions for supplies made on the storekeeper"—be stricken out as vague and insufficient.

President MORIARTY—Denied.

Mr. LUNDY—Note my exception to that. I now move that "(g)"—"Failure to keep accurate records"—be stricken out as vague and insufficient.

President MORIARTY—Denied.

Mr. LUNDY—And note my exception to that, please. I now move that "(h)"—"Failure to provide proper sanitary facilities for inmates"—be stricken out as vague and insufficient.

President MORIARTY—Denied.

Mr. LUNDY—You will note my exceptions to that. I want to call your attention, Mr. President, upon this point as the distinguished Corporation Counsel is advising the body, to the case of Stiles v. Municipal Council of the City of Lowell, 229 Mass. 208, decision of January 5, 1918. This is on the question of the proper body to give the specifications. That is a case where the Council had not furnished specifications. The court said: "Nor did the letter of the City Solicitor to the petitioner's counsel advising him of the nature of the evidence to be introduced at the hearing cure this radical defect. It is the Municipal Council and not the City Solicitor which is to furnish proper specifications, and this duty cannot be evaded or lawfully delegated. The final order also has stated that the commissioner is removed 'for the good of the service' was ineffectual for reasons previously stated." That latter part has no bearing, but that paragraph I desire to call your attention to. That is Stiles v. Municipal Council of Lowell, 229 Mass. 208. Now, we are ready, Mr. President.

Chairman Thomas C. O'Brien, of the Boston Infirmary Department Trustees, was sworn and made a statement in support of the charges and specifications, after which the City Council, at 6.02 p. m., took a recess to 7.30 p. m.

The City Council reassembled in the Council Chamber at 7.30 p. m., President MORIARTY in the Chair and a quorum present, and the hearing was continued.

Miss Elizabeth G. Nelson, executive clerk of the Boston Infirmary Department, identified records of meetings of the Board, after which Chairman O'Brien was cross examined by Mr. Lundy.

The hearing was then adjourned to Friday, April 9, at 2 p. m.

HEARING BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL.

Friday, April 9, 1920.

Continuation of Long Island hearing before City Council, in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President MORIARTY presiding and all the members present.

Appearances, same as before.

Provisional Trustees Thomas W. Murray and John J. O'Callaghan appeared in support of the charges made by Chairman O'Brien, as a result of their visits to the island and their investigation.

Mayor Andrew J. Peters stated that he had selected the provisional trustees, as men of judgment and character, with a view to bringing the management of Long Island up to the proper standard, and that before the appointment he had had the proposed harbor institutions consolidation in mind.

Under a ruling by Corporation Counsel Hill, Mr. Lundy was not permitted to go into the past relations between Doctor Donlan and the former Board of Trustees.

Miss Mary A. Morris, superintendent of nurses at Long Island, said the work had been handicapped by inability to get the full quota of nurses. She said that at times it was hard to heat Ward L, as it was Wards H and I, depending upon the direction of the wind. The influenza started in the dormitory, and it was impossible to get sufficient help. She did not know about the heat being turned off.

Edward F. Hoynes, chief clerk at the island, said that when Doctor Donlan left the island he left addresses or telephone numbers through which he could be reached. He thought the charges about the appearance and lack of clothing of inmates were not warranted. As to requisition blanks, the head of a department fills them out for certain quantities of needed food, but when they are presented to the storekeeper he, in accordance with directions from Doctor Donlan, has allowed the amounts to be exceeded, in order that the cook might furnish the inmates with sufficient food. But the amounts asked for and delivered appear on the requisitions, and the correct amount delivered is charged against the particular department.

Arthur P. Moran, chief officer at the island, described the routine of the island; stated that the cellar smoking room was so used because it was the only sufficiently large place the floors of which could be properly cleaned after such use; that some of the old men were hard on clothes, which were hard to clean because of their habits, but that care is taken to see that the men are kept as clean as possible; that the inspection of fire protection facilities, etc., is left to the watchman in the brick building and outbuildings, but in the other buildings to those in charge, anything wrong being supposed to be reported; that there are six men on the island who can be depended upon in case of fire, and that when a bad fire occurs the soldiers come from the fort.

Adjourned to Tuesday, April 13, at 2 p. m.

CERTAIN FUNDAMENTALS OF THE TAX SYSTEM OF BOSTON.

BY WILLIAM C. S. HEALEY, Editor.

There is a general impression that the tax system of Boston is steeped in mystery and that it is impossible for our citizens to understand even the broad principles of it. That is very far from the actual truth. If simple language is used a schoolboy can grasp the main elements that make up our tax system.

Almost every political question of the day is tied up with city finances, and no other source will give such accurate and interesting information. Such subjects as salary increases of city employees, the extent to which local improvements can go, the effect of state laws and administration on our city, etc., cannot be thoroughly understood without a general knowledge of our tax system. Let us consider the matter step by step, eliminating items of mere detail so that the broad ideas will stand out prominently. As an aid to this end I have generally used round figures instead of carrying them out to the last dollar and cent.

THE ANNUAL TAX BILL.

On the first of October, each year, a tax bill is sent out to the owners of property located in Boston. About 80 per cent of the expenses of the city is met with the money raised by taxation on property, the other 20 per cent coming from the income of our various departments, etc. The tax bill of 1919, the last one issued, is the basis of this article. (See page 427.)

It shows among other things that in the year 1919 the expenses of the City of Boston amounted to the enormous sum of $44,384,000, and that this money was used through the following five main channels:

1. The departments under the control of the Mayor, including the Police Department, had an appropriation of $19,851,000.
2. The school appropriation was $8,451,000.
3. The city debt requirements called for $5,801,000.
4. The county expenses required $2,259,000.
5. To meet state assessments, which included the state tax, metropolitan expenses, etc., the city had to pay $8,020,000.

An explanation of these five divisions will bring us into the kernel of the subject and open up many interesting points of city administration.

GROUP I.

CITY DEPARTMENTS UNDER THE CONTROL OF THE MAYOR.

Thirty days after the beginning of the fiscal year (February 1) the Mayor sends to the City Council the annual appropriation bill or budget, setting forth in a very detailed statement what the departments under his control will need for the coming year. In this budget also are the appropriations required for city debt and county expenses, which have to be passed by the City Council and which we will explain later. The School Committee, however, makes up its own budget; and the state assessments are paid without a vote of the City Council.

The detailed statement to which we have just referred covers every item of expense in each department, viz., salaries of the employees, supplies of all kinds, equipment, special items, etc. After serious consideration the City Council passes the bill generally with but few changes, as it previously has had the close study of the Mayor and heads of departments, supplemented by advice from the Finance Commission. For our purpose the one important question is this: How much money can be appropriated for these departments? Is there a limit, set by law, beyond which the Mayor and City Council cannot go in this matter? The answer is plain and is the key to many problems on the subject. There is a limit, a hard and fast limit, fixed by law. Appropriations to meet the expenses of these departments are very definitely set and come from three sources:

First.—The City Council may vote to these departments what is called the "estimated income" for the year, often called "ways and means other than taxes." It comes from interest on the city's money held in banks, from permits issued by the Public Works and Building Departments, etc., and large sums passed over by the state, etc. It is well to remember, however, that it does not include money received in the payment of taxes. In 1919 the income was estimated at $5,391,000, as shown in the following schedule:

Second.—The City Council may also vote to these departments the surplus, or unappropriated cash, left in the City Treasury on January 31. In 1919, however, there was no surplus.

Third.—The City Council may also vote to these departments $9.52 on every $1,000 of the average valuation of the city for the preceding three years. As the average valuation for 1919 was $1,518,938,942.75, there could be appropriated, therefore, for these departments $14,460,298.73. This third source is the "tax limit" so much discussed in the Legislatures of the past two years. It should not be confused with the tax rate. If it were called the "appropriating limit" instead of the "tax limit" it would be more easily understood. It regulates the amount of money that can be appropriated for the use of these departments in addition to income and surplus. It restricts the City Council in its power of voting money to city departments. If the meaning of the "tax limit" or "appropriating limit" is understood, one of the bothersome elements in city finance is eliminated. The Legislature fixes the limit for Boston and is the only body that can change it. Every other city in the state fixes its own tax limit except Boston. For many years the limit was $6.52. On account of the war and other causes the expenses of the city increased so much that the rate was raised to $9.52 in 1918 and 1919.

The total amount voted in 1919 by the City Council for the departments under the Mayor, including the Police Department, was made up as follows:

Surplus in Treasury.....	$0 00
Estimated income.....	5,391,000 00
Tax limit of $9.52 per $1,000	14,460,298 73
	$19,851,298 73

What conclusion is reached from these facts? If the Mayor and City Council are restricted by law in appropriations, then, of course, salary increases, repairs of streets, gymnasias, etc., are likewise restricted by the amount appropriated. Spreading this money over the various departments, thus covering a multiplicity of needs is the most serious problem that confronts a Mayor every year, and if the citizens at large will understand the law governing this matter a healthier civic feeling would result.

On the tax bill you will note that $2,608,000 has been set opposite "General Purposes." That includes the appropriations of several departments not printed on the tax bill and also $357,000 for the Reserve Fund, which, as the words imply, is held to meet emergencies.

The Police Department is in reality not under the Mayor's control, although he has concurrent action with the Commissioner in some respects. The department secures its appropriations in the same manner as other departments, but the city is responsible for any expense contracted. The Police Department ought to be figured under State Assessments, because while Boston pays the bills it has practically no power in its administration.

This point ought to be kept clear in mind that when the City Council voted the appropriation of $19,000,000 it was merely giving these departments the legal right to use that amount of money. Later the city collected the money through tax bills, etc. In anticipation of the collection of these taxes the city was authorized to borrow a large sum of money, about $12,000,000, to carry on the work of the departments.

As a matter of record it ought to be noted that for 1920 the tax limit is placed at $10.52 and for 1921 the Legislature is about to vote a limit of $11.

SCHOOL EXPENDITURES.

The School Department is administered by the School Committee, which originates and votes its own appropriations. Just like the departments under the Mayor, there is a limit set by the Legislature as to the amount of appropriations allowed for school purposes. For a long time it was placed at $4.50 on each $1,000 of the average valuation of the city for the three preceding years. For 1918 it was raised by the Legislature to $4.77 and for 1919 to $5.38, but as the expenses continued to increase it was again raised to $6.71 for 1920. Within the past month, however, the Legislature has been petitioned for a further increase of $1.44 to meet the 140 per cent advance in the cost of constructing and repairing our schools. If this request is granted the tax limit for school purposes in 1920 will be $8.15.

A curious condition exists today with regard to our school finances. Although the School Committee in making up its budget decides the amount to be used for new schools and the amount for repairs and alterations—a limit on both items being definitely set by law—a city department known as the Schoolhouse Commission, appointed by the Mayor, expends the money for such purposes. This apparent division of authority is due to the idea that the School Committee should confine itself to educational functions.

It is often stated that the Mayor has no control whatever over school finances. That statement is much broader than is warranted by facts. After the school budget is passed the Mayor has the right of veto which cannot be overturned except by four votes of the committee.

This reservation, lodged in the vote power, inclines the School Committee to consult the Mayor and to secure his approval on legislation that will increase the size of its budget.

Evidence on this point is found in the recent salary increases given to school teachers, which were approved by Mayor Peters before the School Committee asked for legislation at the State House on that matter.

Very recently, too, when it was found necessary to ask for the $1.44 increase in the limit, to which we have already referred, a conference was called in City Hall of the Mayor, School Committee and Schoolhouse Commission. In order that the children of Boston could attend sessions in buildings of up-to-date construction and that the program of new schools might be continued, the Mayor approved the petition of the School Committee for an increase in the tax limit of $1.44 for the three years. This will mean a substantial addition in the tax levy if the proposed legislation is passed, but the citizens of the city would never consent to a niggardly policy in school expenditures.

The following figures show the cost of maintaining our school for several years past:

1911.....	$5,164,000
1913.....	5,854,000
1915.....	6,402,000
1917.....	7,362,000
1919.....	8,451,000

Up to the year 1916 new schools were erected through loans for which bonds were sold. In that year the law was changed and new schools are now paid for out of the annual appropriations, so that there is no further increase in our school debt. In the limit of 1919, which was set at $5.38, for new schools 65 cents was allowed, and for repairs and alterations 35 cents, the balance, $4.38, going to educational functions.

GROUP III.

CITY DEBT REQUIREMENTS.

Everybody has heard city debt discussed at some time or other. In every mayoral campaign it is one of the big issues, but not much is said explaining the principles involved.

How City Debt is Incurred.

When a city department makes ordinary repairs on streets, bridges, buildings, etc., the expense is charged against its annual appropriation. Those repairs are necessary for the upkeep of the city and do not add to the city debt. On the other hand, when a gymnasium or a municipal building is constructed, or land bought for such purposes, city debt is thereby incurred. Those are improvements of a permanent character, the payment of which is spread over a number of years. When, for instance, the city decides to erect a fire house costing $100,000 it sells bonds for that amount, and the contractor is paid on the completion of the work. Those bonds of course must be redeemed in succeeding years, being thus figured in as part of the city debt. All such improvements that have not been paid for constitute the gross debt of Boston. In other words, when the city sells bonds it is in reality borrowing money which it agrees to pay back with interest. That is the city debt.

Limit of the Debt.

The very natural question here arises "How much debt can the city contract?" This is best answered by considering the question under two aspects—within the debt limit and outside the debt limit.

(A.) Within the Debt Limit.

If, in the year 1920, the city did not owe a single dollar of debt, then the Mayor and City Council could appropriate for public improvements $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of the average valuation of the city of the preceding three years. They could, therefore, use for such purposes approximately \$37,500,000, as the average valuation, using round figures, is about \$1,500,000,000. Bonds to that amount could be sold and the work begun. That is the legal limit of the borrowing power of our city, and no greater net amount can be outstanding. Every year, however, since the incorporation of Boston, the city has been incurring debt and paying it off. It always owes something; it never has a clean slate. Each year, therefore, the city can borrow the difference between what it already owes, or its net debt, and the maximum legal amount allowed on the $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent basis. This difference, or the borrowing capacity of the city, in the past several years, is here shown:

1914.....	$3,283,000
1916.....	4,434,000
1918.....	2,217,000
1919.....	3,950,000
1920.....	2,104,000

These figures very strongly show that the Mayor and City Council cannot approve every request that is made for improvements all over the city. At present this difficulty is further increased by high prices of materials and the increased cost of construction and yet the limit of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent remains the same as formerly.

Very often we hear of the terms gross debt and net debt used when this subject is considered. The gross debt is the total amount that has been incurred and has not been paid. Each year a certain amount of money is placed in charge of the Sinking Fund Commissioners to pay off the debt when due. The amount thus held in the Sinking Fund deducted from the gross debt indicates the net debt of the city.

(B.) Outside the Debt Limit.

The Mayor and City Council have no authority to incur such debt unless the Legislature grants them authority to do so. Sometimes, as in the case of the Rapid Transit Debt, which now stands at $31,000,000 net the city government has no voice at all, as the Legislature alone authorizes the increase outside the limit. In this particular case the debt is paid from the rentals of the subways, etc. It has been suggested that the Elevated be released from such rentals. If such a thing happened the City of Boston would have to pay the interest and principal of the whole debt out of the tax levy. In recent years the Legislature has shown a tendency not to grant legislation authorizing an increase of the city debt outside the limit. Several exceptions have occurred, however, but the Governor has vetoed them on the ground that the Mayor did not officially petition for the legislation. In the present session, several such bills have been considered, the one calling for $5,000,000 for improvements in the North End being the largest.

How the City Debt is Paid Off.

It is perfectly clear that the debt is paid off when bond holders receive from the city the face value of the bonds they hold. The bonds themselves stipulate the method of paying.

(A.) Sinking Fund Bond.

Until recently bonds similar to the Liberty Loan bonds of the United States Government were issued by the city. They ran, say for twenty years, at the end of which time the bondholder received full payment, but drawing interest semi-annually in the meantime. A Sinking Fund Commission appointed by the Mayor receives annually out of the money raised by taxes a certain specified sum, so that when the time arrives for redeeming the bonds by the city, the full amount will be on hand. That kind of bond is no longer used except for Rapid Transit Purposes, although many of them have not yet been paid as the date of redemption has not yet arrived.

At the present time the law requires serial bonds, and in time their use will mean the elimination of the Sinking Fund Commission as its activities will have ended.

(B.) Serial Bonds.

As the word itself implies, these bonds are paid off in a series of years. If $200,000 of such bonds were issued in 1919, payable within twenty years, for the construction of a municipal building, approximately $10,000 of bonds would be redeemed this year, and $10,000 in every succeeding year until the full amount was canceled. Interest, of course, would be paid semi-annually on the bonds outstanding in the various years.

In describing these bonds we can see that every year an appropriation must be made to cover interest charges, to increase the sinking fund to secure payments of bonds coming due in the future, and to pay off the serial bonds due in the current year. The amount required annually has varied between five and six million dollars. There is no discretion left with the Mayor or City Council as to the amount. It must be met when due as an indication that the credit of the city is sound.

During the first two years of the administration of Mayor Peters there has been a material reduction in the gross and net debt of the city as the following table shows:

GROSS FUNDED DEBT.

GROUP IV.

COUNTY EXPENSES.

Suffolk County is made up of Boston, Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop. The expenses cover all matters pertaining to the jail, county buildings, officials connected with the Supreme, Superior and Probate courts—the judges of such courts being paid by the state—the justices and officials of the Municipal courts, Registry of Deeds, Medical Examiner, Penal Institutions Department, etc. Boston pays the whole of the bill, the other sections of the county contributing nothing. This burden is materially increased because court cases arising in other parts of the state may be brought to Boston for trial, the expenses of which are borne by Suffolk County. Our city has complained of this procedure for many years, but no relief has been granted.

The government of Suffolk County is an anachronism. The City Council is known as the county commissioners, but they have no such authority as the commissioners of other counties in the state exercise. They approve pay rolls, make annual inspections of the jail, vote appropriations and draw jury lists, but have no administrative power. The Mayor is in control of the Penal Institutions Department and the House of Correction; appoints the Superintendent of Buildings and thus has charge of the employees and the upkeep of certain buildings. The Governor appoints all the judges and the clerks in the municipal courts, whereas the clerks of the higher courts are elected by the people. The sheriff appoints employees in the jail and at the Court House, but the judges appoint court attendants. The District Attorney and his assistants are paid by the state. All in all Suffolk County is a curious case of patchwork government, a sort of diversified responsibility.

FINANCES OF THE COUNTY.

In 1885, a tax limit of $9 was established for Boston, the county being included therein, just as if it was a regular department of the city. In 1887, another act was passed practically separating the county expenses from ordinary municipal expenditures. By that act Suffolk County was allowed $425,000 annually for its expenses, and all above that amount had to come out of the tax limit of the city departments.

In 1901, the tax limit for county purposes was entirely abolished.

The appropriations for Suffolk County must be voted by the City Council and approved by the Mayor. The city charter of 1909 requires county officials to submit to the Mayor detailed estimates of expenditures needed for the next fiscal year. These are subject to review and amendment by him before being submitted to the City Council for action. The county debt is included in the 2½ per cent limit of the city and all loan orders for county improvements must be approved by the Mayor and City Council. The most recent case of debt is found in the addition to the hospital at the jail authorized last year.

There is a certain tendency connected with salary increases in the county that should be noted. Ordinarily they are approved by the Mayor and voted by the Council, but sometimes the Legislature has authorized such increases without even referring the matter to the Mayor and Council.

As there is much discussion today about doing away with county government and transferring its functions to the state, petitions to the Legislature for salary increases tend to encourage the change. In keeping with past history we could expect that Suffolk County would be the first to be affected.

Appropriations voted to Suffolk County in recent years:

1911.....	$1,591,000
1913.....	1,652,000
1915.....	1,777,000
1917.....	1,943,000
1918.....	2,199,000
1919.....	2,259,000

Of the appropriations of 1919, the debt requirements amounted to $182,000, and for maintenance expense $2,077,000.

COUNTY INCOME.

The amount varies each year, but $200,000 would be a fair average turned in annually through fines, fees, etc. The fines received from the district courts run from $2,500 in the quietest to $10,000 a year in the busiest court.

GROUP V.

State Assessments.

We meet here a condition different from the groups heretofore explained. Appropriations for schools are voted by the School Committee, and appropriations for city departments, debt requirements and Suffolk County are voted by the City Council and approved by the Mayor.

State assessments, however, must be paid by the city without a vote of the City Council. In this respect Boston is no different from the other municipalities of the Commonwealth. They all have to pay their proportionate part to support the state. For convenience these state assessments may be divided into three parts: (1), State tax; (2), Metropolitan expenses; (3), Special assessments.

State Tax.

The state warrant or state tax is for the maintenance expenses and debts of those departments that have a state-wide function, covering such matters as health, insurance, fisheries, salaries of the Legislature, judges, etc. All cities and towns in Massachusetts share in paying the expense thus incurred. Boston's share, $3,348,950, is by far the largest, being more than 30 per cent of the total.

Metropolitan Expenses.

These are due to the maintenance expenses and debt requirements resulting from the construction of metropolitan sewerage and water works and the development of its park system, etc. The district served is regularly defined, including Boston and nearby cities and towns, as Everett, Chelsea, Somerville, Malden. Boston pays about 50 per cent of the expenses of the metropolitan district. The sewerage and water works were required on account of the nature of the land and rivers of Boston.

The metropolitan park system, however, which in 1919 cost Boston $886,000, hardly touches the city at all. It is almost completely outside our limits. If you compare the annual appropriation for our own municipal park system of $1,085,000 with what we pay to the state, you will appreciate how important our assessments have become.

Special Assessments.

The one noticeable account on the tax bill is that of the Elevated for $2,900,000. Boston was called upon to make this payment due to an act passed in the Legislature establishing a trusteeship of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and guaranteeing its dividends. The deficit was to be made up by the cities and towns served by the Elevated. It is not to be a continuous assessment, and consideration of this subject may be discussed in a future article.

The outstanding features in the state assessments are these: That not only are they rising continuously as the following figures show, but the large proportion Boston pays does not tend to increase the influence of our city at the State House. It is a lamentable fact that the Legislature believes that Boston should be saved against itself, and accordingly laws are passed restricting freedom of action in our city. There is a growing feeling that a more acute and intensive study should be made on state expenditures along the lines followed by the Finance Commission of Boston.

The state assessments paid by Boston in recent years are as follows:

1911.....	$2,942,000
1913.....	3,922,000
1915.....	4,552,000
1917.....	4,881,000
1918.....	4,941,000
1919.....	8,020,000

CONCLUSION.

Method of Figuring the Tax Rate.

The great bulk of the expenses of the city are paid out of money raised by taxes on real estate. The expenses of our departments, schools, debt requirements, county and state assessments in a very large percentage are paid from money raised in this manner. Although the total expenses or appropriations in 1919 were set at $14,384,146, the whole of that amount was not raised by taxes because part of it was met by the income of the city. The balance, therefore, had to be secured by taxes.

In figuring the annual tax rate the Assessing Department accordingly subtracts from the figures representing our expenses the following items representing our income:

(1.) The surplus or the unappropriated cash in the treasury at the end of the fiscal year.

(2.) The income of the general departments and the income of the schools.

(3.) The city's estimated share of the state income tax. The income tax is collected by the state, and cities and towns receive their proportion according to a definite method of distribution. The difference between the expenses and the income divided by the current valuation of the city gives the tax rate. There are some details connected with this formula that have been omitted so as not to confuse.

It is quite customary in Boston to hold the Mayor responsible for the tax rate of the city. Although the Mayor's powers are tremendous, covering through his department heads our streets, sewers, playgrounds, institutions, hospitals, libraries, the appointment of employees, the collection and custody of many millions of dollars, in fact, reaching a multiplicity of city activities that make him without doubt the most powerful municipal official in the United States, he cannot be held wholly responsible for the tax rate. The reason is not hard to find, because some very large expenses are outside his control entirely and some others partially.

The state assessments, for instance, which in 1919 called for $8,020,000, had to be paid by the city, and neither the Mayor nor the City Council had any sort of veto or amending power. The city debt requirements of $5,801,000 were almost entirely for loans issued in previous administrations. Each Mayor is to be held responsible only for such debt as is incurred during his term of office, and the yearly debt payments are practically beyond his control. The Police Department expenditures we have already considered. It is easily seen, therefore, that as a large sum of our municipal expenditures are beyond the scope of the Mayor's authority, and that the yearly increases are likewise in a similar state, he cannot be held entirely responsible for the tax rate.

In this article I have tried to explain some of the broad fundamentals of our tax system. Heretofore, or at least within recent years, no such statement has been made. The advantages derived from a general knowledge on the subject are too evident to be reviewed.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

On April 22 to the American Car Sprinkler Company for flushing certain streets from May 1 to October 31, 1920, as per following communication:

Boston, April 21, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

In requesting authority to award a contract, without advertising, to the American Car Sprinkler Company of Worcester, Mass., for sprinkling and flushing certain streets within the city from May 1, 1920, to October 31, 1920, at a monthly rental of eighteen hundred ($1,800) dollars, said company to furnish electric trolley flushers and sprinklers, working 48 hours per week for flushing and 56 hours per week for sprinkling, I figure that these electric trolley flushers and sprinklers will do the work of at least two of the largest motor-driven flushers at present employed under contract by the City of Boston.

As this company is the only company in the Eastern states that can do the work, and the amount of work which I feel sure they will do is so much in excess of the present method of flushing and sprinkling, I feel that the city is well protected in making this contract until October 31.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Every driver of a motor or other vehicle approaching an intersecting way as defined in section one of chapter five hundred and thirty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, shall grant the right of way at the point of intersection to vehicles approaching from his right, provided that such vehicles are arriving at the point of intersection at approximately the same instant; except that whenever traffic officers are standing at such intersection they shall have the right to regulate traffic thereat. [Approved March 30, 1920.]

SECTION 1. The county of Suffolk may pay to John Quane who, for more than twenty-four years, served the county in the court house as janitor and elevator man, an annual pension, so long as he lives, equal to one half of the compensation which he received during the year prior to his retirement from the said service.

SECT. 2. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by vote of the city council of the city of Boston, subject to the provisions of its charter, provided that such acceptance occurs prior to the thirty-first day of December in the current year. [Approved March 31, 1920.]

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Payments made by cities and towns, under chapter two hundred and fifty-four of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and seventeen, to employees who served in the world war, of the difference between their military and their municipal compensation, shall be made to all such employees whether they enlisted, or were drafted, inducted or commissioned in the service of the United States.

SECT. 2. This act shall take effect in cities upon its acceptance by the mayor and city council, or by the commission in cities where there is a commission form of government, and in towns upon its acceptance by the voters of the town at any regular or special meeting. [Approved March 31, 1920.]

[CHAPTER 238.]

AN ACT RELATIVE TO CLAIMS OF CITIES AND TOWNS FOR THE CARE OF TUBERCULOSIS CASES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would greatly inconvenience the public, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter five hundred and ninety seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eleven, as amended in section one by section one of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and twelve, by chapters fifty-seven and one hundred and ninety-seven of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and sixteen and by chapter two hundred and ninety of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and seventeen is hereby further amended by striking out said section one and substituting the following:—Section 1. Every city or town which places its patients suffering from tuberculosis in a county, municipal or incorporated tuberculosis hospital, or in a building or ward set apart for patients suffering from tuberculosis by a county, municipal or incorporated hospital shall be entitled to receive from the commonwealth a subsidy of five dollars a week for each patient who has a legal settlement therein, provided that such patient is unable to pay for his support, and that his kindred bound by law to maintain him are unable to pay for the same; but a city or town shall not become entitled to this subsidy unless, upon examination authorized by the department of public health, the sputum of the patient be found to contain bacilli of tuberculosis, nor unless the hospital building or ward be approved by said department; and the department shall not give such approval unless it has, by authority of law or by permission of the hospital, full authority to inspect the same at all times. The department may at any time withdraw its approval. In the case of hospitals having a bed capacity which, in the opinion of the said department, is in excess of the number of beds needed for the localities which these institutions serve for patients exhibiting tubercle bacilli in their sputum, the subsidy above provided for shall be allowed for such patients not exhibiting tubercle bacilli in their sputum as, in the joint opinion of the superintendent of the institution and the district health officer of the district in which the hospital is situated, are bona fide cases of consumption and have been in the institution more than thirty days.

SECT. 2. The department of public health shall certify in the case of each hospital, building or ward, approved by it as provided in the preceding section, the number of patients for whom the city or town is entitled to the said subsidy, and upon such certification the subsidy shall be paid from the treasury of the commonwealth in the same manner in which other claims against the commonwealth are paid.

SECT. 3. No claim hereunder for a subsidy covering more than ten days prior to the date when notice of the claim is received by the department of public health shall be approved. [Approved April 2, 1920.]

[CHAPTER 240.]

AN ACT TO PERMIT, UNDER PUBLIC REGULATION AND CONTROL, CERTAIN SPORTS AND GAMES ON THE LORD'S DAY.

Whereas, It is highly desirable that this act should take effect immediately, in order that its benefits may be enjoyed during the summer months of the current year, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. In cities and towns which accept the provisions of this act it shall be lawful to take part in or to witness any amateur athletic outdoor sport or game on the Lord's Day between the hours of two and six in the afternoon as herein-after provided.

SECT. 2. Such sports or games shall take place on such public playgrounds, parks or other places as may be designated for that purpose in a permit or license issued by the mayor and city council or body exercising similar powers in cities or by the selectmen in towns; provided, that if, under any statute or ordinance a public playground or park is placed under the exclusive charge and authority of any other officials, such officials shall, for that playground or park, be the licensing authority; and provided, further, that no sport or game shall be permitted in a place, other than a public playground or park, within one thousand feet of any regular place of worship.

SECT. 3. The said sports or games shall be conducted subject to such regulations and restrictions as shall be prescribed by the mayor and city council or body exercising similar powers in cities and by the selectmen in towns, and the same shall be stated in the license or permit.

SECT. 4. This act shall not be construed to prohibit participation at other hours on the Lord's Day in other outdoor exercise not involving the element of contest, nor shall it be construed to permit horse racing, automobile racing, boxing or hunting with firearms.

SECT. 5. No admission fee shall be charged directly or indirectly, and no business or other enterprise shall be conducted, and no collection shall be made at any such sport or games.

SECT. 6. The respective authorities described in section two may at any time and without previous notice revoke permits to conduct the said sports or games if they have reason to believe that any provision of this act, or any regulation or restriction prescribed under section three, is being or will be violated.

SECT. 7. For the purposes of this act an "amateur" sport or game is defined to be one in which the contestants do not receive and have not been promised any pecuniary reward, remuneration or consideration whatsoever, directly or indirectly in connection therewith.

SECT. 8. This act shall take effect for the current year in any city upon its acceptance by the mayor and city council or body exercising similar powers and upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters of any city voting thereon at the municipal election in the current year, or in any subsequent year, it shall take permanent effect in such city, subject to the provisions of section nine. At every city election in the current year, the question of such acceptance shall be submitted to the voters, but in any subsequent year said question shall be submitted only upon a petition signed and filed as provided in section nine. It shall take effect in any town upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters voting thereon at an annual or special town meeting, and the selectmen of a town shall, upon the petition of not less than ten per cent of the registered voters thereof, call a special town meeting for the purpose of voting upon such acceptance.

SECT. 9. In any city or town the voters of which have accepted this act as above provided, the act shall again be submitted to the voters at the municipal election held in any year subsequent to the year in which the act was so accepted, provided that a petition to that effect, signed by not less than ten per cent of the voters, is filed with the city or town clerk not less than thirty days before the election. If, upon such resubmission a majority of the voters voting thereon vote against the act, it shall cease to have effect in that city or town until reaccepted by the voters as hereinbefore provided. [Approved April 2, 1920.]

The registrars shall make suitable regulations for the government of the assistant registrars whose doings shall be subject to their revision and acceptance. Assistant registrars shall be subject to the same obligations and penalties as registrars. Registrars may remove an assistant registrar, and may fill any vacancy in the number of assistant registrars for the remainder of the term. [Approved April 2, 1920.]

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I move that this matter be postponed until after the recess, in order that the whole Council may get a chance to vote for or against the appropriation bill. I think every councilor will want to go on record upon the bill. It doesn't make much difference, I suppose, at this juncture, whether or not Coun. Hagan talks on the bill now or later, as I suppose he intends to talk upon it, anyway; but I do think that when the vote is taken there should be a full attendance. Of course I don't want to interfere with Coun. Hagan if he wishes to talk at this time.

Coun. HAGAN—No, that satisfies me.
Action on the budget was postponed until after the recess.

Coun. HAGAN submitted the following amendment:

That from the total amount appropriated in Schedule A for the following departments we deduct the sums as set forth against the respective departments, as known slack, that will positively develop within each respective department during the present fiscal year, and will, therefore, not be needed by the department head to pay all salaries and wages, as individually itemized in the budget for this fiscal year:

Assessing Department.....	$1,000 00
Building Department.....	8,500 00
Election Department.....	450 00
Health Department.....	2,500 00
Park and Recreation Department.....	4,500 00
Public Buildings Department.....	3,200 00
Public Works Department, Central Office.....	2,000 00
Public Works Department, Bridge Division.....	3,000 00
Public Works Department, Paving Division.....	29,000 00
Public Works Department, Sanitary Division.....	1,000 00
Public Works Department, Street Cleaning Division.....	5,500 00
Public Works Department, Sewer Division.....	4,000 00
Street Laying-Out Department.....	1,500 00
Treasury Department.....	1,200 00

Action on the amendment was also postponed until after the recess.

Later in the session Coun. FORD called up the bill, and the question came on the adoption of Coun. Hagan's amendment.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I realize very well in presenting the amendment to the report of the Committee on Appropriations that every member of this Council has firmly made up his mind and that I am, in a sense, talking to deaf ears and to no avail, and practically only to our official stenographer, who probably would not listen but he must in the discharge of his official duties. I apologize to him for this digression only because I realize that he is most anxious to earn that increased salary which has been awarded him. In the amendment as proposed I have not even attempted to go into great detail. Were I to do so I would be discussing the budget here until day-break tomorrow. As a matter of fact, I have not thoroughly analyzed all the items in the budget, and what I am offering are only examples of conditions as I find them and conditions that in my judgment need correction. As far as the figures themselves are concerned, as applying to the respective departments, the amount involved is very small, for the amount that might be saved in the budget is far in excess of the figures as itemized here. I have, for example, taken from only a few of the departments amounts totaling $67,300, whereas as a matter of fact the unexpended balance from the appropriation orders of the last fiscal year, representing money that reverted to the city treasury, was $619,396. That was money that was appropriated by the City Council of last year on the say-so of the Mayor and the department heads, who believed and convinced the Council of last year that that money was required for the proper functioning of all city departments. We find, however, in the auditor's report, that $619,000 of the money appropriated was not used, was not needed, and reverted to the city treasury. As a greater amount of money is being appropriated for this coming fiscal year, with very similar conditions existing, the consequence will be that the unexpended balance at the end of this fiscal year will probably be $800,000 and possibly $1,000,000, that is now going to be appropriated in the budget as under consideration. I am personally opposed to appropriating money for any specific purpose that will not be spent for that particular purpose, for there are too many urgent needs for every city dollar. I believe that money should be properly appropriated or left unappropriated until the emergency does come up; and unless money has been appropriated it cannot, of course, officially be used for any other purpose than that for which it is appropriated. I found in my casual analysis of the budget that in some of the departments $120,528 last year was appropriated for salaries and wages of men in the city service which was not used for the purpose for which it was appropriated, and during the last fiscal year was turned from Schedule A, the salary list, into Schedules B, C, D and E, for supplies and materials, giving clear, positive and direct evidence of the adroitness of the department heads in getting nuggets, as it were, safely tucked away somewhere that might be used for any and all emergencies as they might develop in his department, but providing a means, as I think, for wastefulness and inefficiency that is always apt to crop up when there is too much money in evidence—for what gives us all pause and makes us all trim our sails is need and necessity, not overindulgence in funds. I find that even after transferring $120,528 from Schedule A to Schedules B, C, D or E, as the case may have been, at the end of the fiscal year, the same departments left unexpended the sum of $73,181, which reverted to the city treasury. And bear in mind, and let me repeat, that I have not covered all the departments in the city service, for the sum total of unexpended balance as reported by the auditor is $619,000 odd. I realize, of course, and must in justice say, that some of those departments are not under the control of the City Council and the Mayor absolutely and entirely, those listed in that $619,000. For example, there are the Police Department and the School Department. My object, Mr. President, in bringing this matter up here now is to make no attempt to change any man's mind, but to give publicity, as a matter of duty, as I see it myself, to the fact that a condition exists that should not be permitted to continue, a condition that has been known for some time: a condition that the Mayor of this city knew the day he was inaugurated Mayor of the city, a condition that the Mayor promised that he would correct and that he has made no endeavor to correct. It is to possibly bring the attention of the citizens and taxpayers, the people of this city, to this unscientific, loose and inefficient method of handling budget arrangements that I am talking today. This condition was known to the Mayor, as proven by his own words—and I read from his inaugural address at Faneuil Hall:

"To operate any organization on a sound basis a system of accounts is essential which shall clearly indicate the expenses and the purposes for which the money is appropriated.

"The first step in this plan of municipal economy was the adoption by the City of Boston a few years ago of the segregated budget. Not only has this budget been the means of saving a considerable sum of money, but it has enabled the City Council to gain a far better knowledge of the purpose for which each appropriation is made. Its method of operation, however, has curtailed its benefits to the city. There have been altogether too many transfers from one appropriation to another during the financial year after the budget has been adopted. Some few transfers may be unavoidable, because unforeseen contingencies are likely to arise in any year, but they should be kept at a minimum. To make the budget a success two things are necessary—careful preparation of estimates by the department heads, and rigid adherence to the policy of making no salary increases except in the budget itself. A segregated budget is not a self-executing agent of economy and efficiency. Its principles must be lived up to; it must be regarded as the controlling plan of expenditures for the year, and must represent the joint work of all branches of the city government, the departments, the City Council and the Mayor. A system should be provided by which the Mayor can receive advice and assistance in the formation of the budget, and by which the City Council as well can get assistance in the proper understanding of its items.

"The plan for the budget now in use represents a distinctly forward step in the financial administration of the city. The segregated budget system has not, however, realized all its possibilities. This is due in part because the terms of the existing city charter require the budget to be compiled and sent to the City Council by the Mayor within thirty days after his inauguration, and because the City Council as yet has been provided with no expert assistance or guidance in its consideration of the various budget schedules. Two years ago the Budget Commission fully realized this, but felt that if the principles of segregation were adopted the additional machinery could be provided later.

"I suggest, therefore, that the City Council should consider the advisability of re-establishing a commission constituted like the Budget Commission of 1915. It is not my idea that this proposed Budget Commission should assume any power now exercised either by the Mayor or by the City Council. Its functions should be advisory only and it should continue in existence no longer than is necessary. I suggest that the Budget Commission be an unpaid body as was its predecessor of two years ago, but that a sum of money not exceeding at the most $5,000 be appropriated to cover the cost of clerical and other assistance required by the commission in its work. It may be suggested that the proposed commission should consist of one member designated by the Mayor to serve as chairman, one member nominated by the City Council, one by the Boston Chamber of Commerce, one selected by the Mayor from nominations submitted to him by the directors of the Boston Real Estate Exchange and the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange and one member nominated by the Central Labor Union. A commission selected in this way and properly provided with assistance in its study of the problem would undoubtedly prove of great help."

Mr. President, I have heard from members of this Council considerable adverse criticism regarding this segregated budget under which we labor, and I have said to them privately and publicly that the budget never has been placed here before us in a completed form. The purpose was to introduce the segregated budget system into the city government in Boston and, having it introduced, then perfect the machinery at some later date. This the Mayor had prophesied would be his course of action, as outlined in his inaugural address; and following that thought, I presented an order to this Council carrying out the provisions of his recommendation. In due course it was referred to a committee. I was informed within a very few weeks by a member of this Council that the Mayor was in opposition to my proposed order. I then thought I would wait, and if there was any decided opposition I believed the Mayor would send for me and repeat his position to me. I then heard from another member of this Council that the Mayor was in opposition and, strange to relate, both members were men who opposed the Mayor's election, whereas I was an advocate of his election as Mayor of the city. I bided my time, and finally went and saw the Mayor. He told me that he had changed his mind and that he thought the matter had better rest entirely in the hands of the Mayor. I proposed to him that if the plan as outlined and suggested by himself was not acceptable and needed a change, the necessity and need of making a change and perfecting the budget so that it would be workable and scientific, applicable to the needs of the city, still existed, and asked if he would think up some other plan, or any plan looking to an improvement would appeal to me. I hardly thought it was fair to expect too much along this line of the Mayor of Boston in the first year of his administration, but I thought before presenting the budget in the second year there might be some change. However, none was forthcoming, and now we have received another budget from him, which has had the same degree of consideration from the Mayor and his advisers that the previous budgets have had, and that has been little, indeed, compared to what was actually required. It has received consideration from the members of the City Council sitting as the Committee on Appropriations. But, Mr. President, it is well known and understood, always has been and always will be, that members of the City Council, trained as they are in their various vocations, experts as they may be in their particular lines, are not by training and education well acquainted with matters of finance or accounting systems. That has always been and always will be so, and while that condition exists, of course, the budget can receive no thorough expert opinion or advice. The policy and plan of the city government should be to perfect that budget, so that we will get out of it the good that is possible, but we are only getting a very small fraction of that now. Practices are developing through the years of making transfers indiscriminately, right and left, that, if continued, will break down what little good exists in the budget. For if $120,000 can be appropriated for salaries and wages, as was done last year, and can easily be transferred to supplies and materials, it shows right there a weakness that will break down the system and that should not be permitted to exist. What I want to bear down upon here is that the figures which I have presented in Schedule A are but 50 per cent in the respective departments of the unexpended balances of last year, and 50 per cent of the unexpended balances of last year would be approximately about 25 per cent of what will be the unexpended balances of this fiscal year. I have made no attempt to be drastic; I have made no attempt to cut out anything like the sum total of the auditor's unexpended balance of last year, $619,000. I have taken a small proportion of that for an example. I want to say, and perhaps it is best to say it now, that last year, while this $120,000 was transferred from the salary schedule into the other schedules of the budget, there was not a man employed by the city who did not receive full compensation, his full salary or wage as provided for and what he understood he was to get. What was unexpended was slack, money that should not have been appropriated because it was not needed, money that was not going to be spent because of the various human elements that come up within the course of a fiscal year, due to sickness, death, transfers, resignations and other contingencies. What I am asking here should be taken out of Schedule A is slack. Under no conditions will I permit it to be said—in fact, it cannot be said and said truthfully—that there is going to be one dollar taken from the salary or wages of any man now on the salary list and in the city's service, if this course is adopted. Again, I have recommended a casual analysis of the budget as shown in other schedules—B, C, D, and E—with savings. A substantial saving of $40,000 or $50,000 might properly and with absolute safety have been made in the Park Department, for instance. I don't think there was any special need of appropriating $15,000 for a fence around Mt. Hope Cemetery to keep the kids out, because the gates are open and the kids can get in. I don't think, where money is urgently needed for some other purposes, as is the case here, that there was a need of appropriating $10,000 additional for music, exhilarating and soul-inspiring as music is. The money appropriated, in my judgment, was sufficient. I don't think there was any need of appropriating in any city department money for a dead man's job, that in all human probability, as nearly as I can understand, will not be filled during the present fiscal year. But the budget will carry that particular item, and there are instances in various departments of the city where a similar course has been taken. I believe the investigation now being made of conditions at Long Island has already brought out something well worthy of our most serious thought, Mr. President, and doubt that investigation is finished I have little doubt that it will bring out in even more glaring colors the fact that waste and inefficiency have been in existence there. That is because the city departments are permitted at the beginning of the fiscal year to have a greater sum of money than their requirements demand, and that always invites inefficiency and wastefulness. It has already been brought out that there is considerable waste in the food supplies of $100,000 at Long Island; and when the City of Boston appropriated $100,000 for food for the inmates of Long Island it was certainly intended that the food should be eaten by those inmates and that there should be no waste or inefficiency, while allowing a plentiful supply of food for legitimate requirements. I have heard something there, that has not yet been clearly analyzed, of the wearing apparel at Long Island not being sufficient; yet the budget requirements show me that there was $9,500 appropriated for wearing apparel for the inmates at Long Island last year. Yet they have no clothing. What was done with the $9,500? And so it is all down the line. I might go into this matter in a great deal of detail. But I am simply trying to bring a few of the salient things to your attention briefly. In brief, the entire budget, as submitted by the Mayor, to my mind proves conclusively that the Mayor's office and the City Council are not receiving the benefit of the expert advice that would be helpful; that the budget when it comes to us has not received that careful scrutiny from the Mayor of this city that it properly deserves. For one, I will say that I have brought to his attention in committee meetings here unexpended balances of last year, as reported by the auditor, and the look on the Mayor's face was convincing to me that a bit of news was being conveyed to him—and it should not have been a bit of news. He should have known it before I knew it. I don't think that the easiest way is always the best way. In going to the Legislature, as the Mayor has, and asking for more money, he is increasing the tax rate of the taxpayers of this city. That is a fact that must always be borne in mind. Just as soon as more money is given by the Legislature the tax bill goes up. And, Mr. President, I am giving no thought or consideration whatsoever to the big operator who pays taxes in the downtown portion of the city. He is well able to take care of himself, and the increase that he is going to obtain will be far in excess of his requirements to meet his tax obligations. I am having in mind the small property owner who, when the rate is raised, must pay it. It comes directly on him, while the other fellow passes it along to somebody else. The small property holder, for instance, living in the suburban districts of the city, where property five years ago was assessed for more than it could be sold for in the open market, is having each and every year an increased tax bill. That means that if he occupies the whole house the whole burden comes upon him; that if it is a three-flat house, for instance, and he occupies one flat himself, he has to bear the entire burden of the one flat and has to get more rent from the other two tenants. In accepting and passing the Mayor's budget and agreeing to the conclusions advocated by him at the Legislature, under which he got more money for the city and an increased tax bill, we are raising the rate of every tenant living within the confines of municipal Boston. Our very act at that time served that purpose, whether we willed it or not, in the last analysis that is now, as it always has been, the result, and it will be the result until the crack of doom. The consumer, the tenant, carries the load. It comes back on him in every case. We investigated the matter and an honest effort was made to see if it would not be possible to have the Mayor grant a little higher wage scale to the laborers and mechanics in the employ of the city. The Mayor came before us with figures that he had not analyzed, but repeated, because somebody had given them to him. His simplicity on these matters is appalling, Mr. President. He stated that the laborers in this city were receiving 60 cents an hour. If they work eight hours a day and get 60 cents an hour, that is $4.80 a day. The Mayor says they are averaging 60 cents an hour, but he is only providing $4 a day for them in the budget. He has some peculiar line of figuring on vacations that they are paid for, as if that called for special commendation of the City of Boston. That is a matter of law, is provided for by law, and the laborers are under no obligation to the Mayor or the City Council for the granting of privileges that the law provides shall be theirs. There are deductions of that sort. The fact is that they are not receiving 60 cents an hour, because if they were they would be receiving a wage scale of $4.80 a day. We have labored to get them $4.50 a day. The Mayor states that $4 a day is enough, although $4 today is no better than $2 in 1915. Four dollars today will buy no more of the necessities of life than did $2 in 1913, and $2 was not enough then and $4 is not enough now. Whether the Mayor of Boston agrees with that conclusion or not does not change my opinion, nor will it change my effort to do some good in that direction, so far as it may be possible for me to do so individually. Other cities, smaller than Boston—Salem, Lynn, Woburn, for instance—are paying $4.25; other large cities in the country, like Seattle and other western cities, are paying the laborers more. Boston, in a great big burst of generosity, if we believe the Mayor's statement, is paying them $4. I think he really believes that that is being generous, as I think he believes pretty nearly everything that is told him. It nevertheless is not so. We are not generous. What did this Council ask the Mayor for? An increase of 50 cents a day, the munificent increase to the laborers of about 6 cents an hour, which has been refused. Mr. President, had that been granted, then on the seventh day, the day of rest, it is quite possible that with that extra fifty cents on one day's wage the laborer might for a brief thirty minutes enjoy the pleasant and exhilarating exercise of canoeing on the Charles. He cannot do it, however, for more than thirty minutes because it costs a dollar an hour for a canoe. I might go into this, Mr. President, and bring to your attention the fact that one item of unexpended balance in the budget of last year was in the City Auditor's department. We presume that figures emanating from that source are absolutely reliable, and I have the greatest admiration for our competent and efficient City Auditor. I know he underestimates all city income, and I know any other man in a similar position would do likewise. They play safe. But here is a case where he ought to have known that he was going to be required to pay the interest on city bonds, and yet we have an unexpended balance of $76,455 in interest charges in the last fiscal year that was not used for that purpose. And, gentlemen, it could not be used for any other purpose because it had been appropriated for this specific purpose. I am pointing that out as another example of the unwisdom of appropriating money for a purpose that it will not be used for and denying us the privilege and opportunity of appropriating that money for other purposes that it can be used for and very properly should be used for. I think, Mr. President, that it is just as well at this time to call attention to certain conditions in the Fire Department. I know that during the administration of the predecessor of the present Mayor a condition existed where every year we were appropriating, and rightfully appropriating, so that we might equip with motor apparatus our Fire Department, approximately $100,000 a year, and this year $150,000 is being so appropriated. During the administration of ex-Mayor Curley our contracts for fire apparatus went to one concern in New Jersey, and whenever a question was asked by any member of this Council we were told that that was the only company in the world able to make a perfected fire apparatus, that they were 100 per cent efficient, that they had no competition, that it was a waste of time and energy on the part of any of us to look the field over. There was nobody else who could do the job. I did not know any better. I was green at the business, and I swallowed that hook and line.

Coun. DONOGHUE—And sinker!

Coun. HAGAN—And sinker, too; and then there was a change in administration and a new Mayor was elected in the City of Boston; and, strange to relate, over night the Seagrave people of New Jersey sank down from 100 per cent to a cipher of efficiency; they did not make any kind of apparatus that was worth a continental hurrah, and nobody would buy it. And nobody has since. But a new company came into existence in Mayor Fitzgerald's term, and that company went from a cipher to away up over 100 per cent of efficiency; and so every contract since has been given to the American-La France people as being the only concern that can make the grade of fire apparatus suitable for the City of Boston. There is a charter requirement that says that all contracts of over $1,000 shall be given out under competition. I want the Mayor of Boston to read that and get a little bit acquainted with that part of his job. I would like to see the $150,000 spent wisely. I want to see all money spent wisely, all city funds; for when we are appropriating, as we are, $32,000,000 in this budget, if one million, one and one half million or two million of that is spent unwisely, inefficiently—and whether the talk is about graft or waste makes no difference as far as the loss of the money is concerned—the money has gone. And it has not gone for a good purpose. And when the money has been spent it is not available, it is not at our command. We cannot place ourselves in the position of doing for the city laborers, for the city employees in all the city departments, that which they require, that of which they are deserving and that they would get if there were a more diligent and careful study of the budget requirements. I know that you, my colleagues, agree with these conclusions. I know that you feel that, having in mind this situation and the unexpended balances, the thing is not being done the way it should be done. Each and all of you have been frank and generous enough in committee to say that to me, to say that such was your belief and judgment, "but." Oh, that "but" is what is driving Boston to destruction. We cannot do this and cannot do that because of the effect that it may possibly have on you and me as individuals and on our political aspirations. It is too bad that, in order to further the political aspirations of myself or any member of the City Council, the man who pays rent in this municipality next year must pay more rent through an increased tax levy that is destined to come to him just as surely as the setting of the sun tonight. It cannot be avoided, because he carries the burden and the load from the cradle to the grave. Let me repeat in conclusion that I know this budget is going to be accepted. I am going to vote against it, even as a minority of one. I am going to vote against it as an honest protest by one who knows that this condition is most deplorable and should not be permitted to continue. I am going to vote against it as a protest that I hope may reach the public, to enlighten them and to show them that there is need and necessity of a change in budget consideration in this city government, and that until that change does come a million dollars or more of the city's money is going to be wasted every fiscal year in efficiency and wasteful methods. And may I say here that I have no thought or disposition to make any personal attack in any words of mine upon the honored Mayor, the man occupying the honored position of Mayor of this city. I have advocated his election; I have always got along very well and happily with the Mayor. I have not bothered him much. I hope our relations will always continue. I don't want it, gentlemen of the Press, played up tomorrow that I have made a vicious or violent attack on the Mayor. I have not done anything of the sort, or at least I have not meant to do so. I am saying to the Mayor that it is time for him to give a careful study to the needs and conditions of Boston, a careful personal study, not taking the say-so of somebody else as being final, decisive and positive, and requiring no mental effort on his part. I am saying to him that the system is wrong, and am condemning in the strongest language I can use the entire system of appropriating the public funds as wrong; and I am trying to get him to realize it, so that he will wake up to the needs and necessities of a change, doing some of the things that he has said he contemplated doing in his inaugural address, and two years afterwards has not even made a start to do.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, as one member of this body I cannot quite appreciate the logic of the gentleman opposite when he states that he is sincere in his desire to increase the salaries of the employees to keep them working, and in the same breath is going to vote against providing the money to keep them at work. I cannot quite see where sensible logic prevails there. In the second place he says he might save one million dollars in the budget, and then he follows up by an attempt to save $933,000 less than he says he could save. If that is business ability I know why I am not a business man. I, for one, appreciate the fact that the question of increasing certain deserving city employees' salaries has become a valuable asset to at least one member of this body, for some purpose which I don't know. Perhaps he does. We all have dreams occasionally, and maybe he is having his now. I have no desire to enter into any controversy with him, because I think at times he is sincere. I really mean what I say, that I think at times he is sincere; and he has some mighty good ideas. But I am free to confess that this is not a time when I can agree with him that it is a good idea to keep the men at work and then vote against a budget that is going to provide the money to pay them. He knows, just as well as I and every other member of the body knows, that the Mayor has told us—and we must believe him because he has the power to do what he says he will do—that if this budget is not passed today the salary increases dating from April 1 will not be effective. In other words, all the increases dating from April 1, 1920, down to the time of the passing of the budget will be lost to the employees of the city. I, for one, cannot stand here and vote even to save $67,000 for some purpose for which I don't know that the Mayor might use it, and by doing that take out of the pockets of every city employee at least three dollars a week for several weeks. In these days an employee by five weeks' saving of $3 a week would be able to buy a pair of shoes at the member's place. He speaks about increased rent, he has not hesitated to increase the cost of shoes. Of course not, he is a successful business man. He has to provide the means to conduct his establishment. But I am not going to get into any controversy with him. I will say that if it were in my power to take from the budget money sufficient to guarantee the raising of laborers' or city employees' pay to an additional amount I would stand here all night and vote with him. But he knows as well as I know, that any saving we make in the budget will go into the Reserve Fund and that at the end of this year, if the Mayor so desires, he can use it for any purpose he wishes, and that we will not be accomplishing anything along the line the gentleman desires. I have no defence to offer of the Mayor. I did not support him. In that matter my judgment was better than that of the gentleman opposite. But I do want to say this. If there can be a million dollars saved here, why does the gentleman not include it in his amendment? It is just as sensible as including $67,000. There might be some incentive for us to vote for a change that might make some decrease in the size of taxpayers' bills next year. With these few words, let me say that I shall vote against all the amendments the gentleman has offered, not because they are not justified, perhaps, but for the principal reason that if the budget is not passed today the increases will not be operative from April 1. That is one reason. Secondly, I intend to vote against them because the gentleman knows just as well as I do that the slack in the A schedule last year was because of innumerable men in the service who had not returned from across and come back to their jobs. But in the budget they had to be provided for, and their vacancies could not be filled. That explains a large part of the slack. I want to be in the position of providing the departments with all the money possible under Schedule A, in order that no advantage will be taken of the situation by any head of a department to lessen the working force of employees of the city. I know that I drew the fire of the gentleman opposite, and I trust that I have not offended him.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I would not answer the gentleman opposite were it not for the insincerity of his statement, and were it not that he is bringing up a feature that I absolutely deny, and that I did speak upon when I was on my feet before. I have stated, as plainly as I can talk English to any man whose mind is open and who is willing to hear, that the figures proposed were only offered as an example of what might be; that they were 50 per cent only of the unexpended balances of last year, which would be equivalent to 25 per cent of what will be the unexpended balances of this year, and that all taken from Schedule A for the proposed purpose as submitted was slack. The gentleman tries to convince somebody that the reason for the slack last year was because of men who were in the service. There was not 1 per cent of slack developed from that cause. If the gentleman had given me the benefit of his wisdom and experience during the progress of the budget, if he had devoted at least fifteen or twenty minutes to consideration of the budget at that time, he might have stood here and gotten away with that, with an atom of sincerity. The gentleman does me the honor to say he thinks that sometimes I am sincere, but I don't think he ever is. (Laughter.)

Coun. WATSON—I will give the gentleman credit for being as frank as I am, anyway. I thought he might be as charitable as I, giving me credit for being sincere occasionally, as I did him. But one instance of slack in the pay roll that I pointed to was in the auditor's office. The slack there was the result of an employee of the department being in the service, being away, not returning in time to take advantage of the appropriation for his position.

Coun. HAGAN—I have not included that in the list.

Coun. WATSON—Whatever that is! President MORIARTY—The question is on the adoption of Coun. Hagan's amendment.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, there is not much to say on the amendment except that in some things we can agree with the gentleman opposite and in one or two things we cannot agree with him. I agree with Coun. Hagan in reference to this system of budget making. It is wrong as far as we have got, but we have only made a start. I was rather surprised at what he said about the Mayor being unwilling to attempt to place the thing on a correct basis. If I am wrong, I wish the councilor would correct me. If I understood Coun. Hagan, he said the Mayor had changed his views, as expressed in his inaugural address, in reference to the appointment of this committee. Do I understand that that is true, from some private conversation, councilor?

Coun. HAGAN—The Mayor has so told me, and has not supported me, has not co-operated with me; and my order has been permitted to remain in committee for two and one half years, where I think it has died a natural death.

Coun. FORD—Of course if the Mayor of Boston has refused to carry out what he said in his inaugural address, then the Mayor of Boston is absolutely responsible for this poor system of budget making that we have in the City of Boston. The councilor opposite is absolutely right when he says that what we lack in the making of a budget is expert advice, such as other cities have, where the matter is gone over before it reaches the City Council. Why, we pass a budget involving many millions of dollars without any knowledge whatsoever except what is given by the Finance Commission, and most of us do not have implicit confidence in that commission, because of wrong advice that has been given us in the past in reference to certain items. We have not expert advice. There is nothing we can learn in reference to the budget itself unless we sit here month in and month out and go over each individual item, and then we send for the head of a department and ask, "Do you think you can get along with less?" and he always answers, "Well, I have got to get along with what is allowed, but I certainly need all of that." That is about what the interrogation amounts to. What we ought to have is expert advice in reference to the budget. I have always wondered why the Mayor did not carry out his own recommendation in his inaugural when he said:

"To make the budget a success two things are necessary—careful preparation of estimates by the department heads, and rigid adherence to the policy of making no salary increases except in the budget itself."

It would have been a mighty fine idea to have put all the increases of salary in the budget in the beginning, so that we might have control over numbers and rates, which we don't have as the budget is made now, because on the ground of emergency through political preferment or influence, some men have obtained increases in salaries where others have not, causing most of this unrest and discontent in departments, because all are not put on an equal plane, where there would be no reason to correct discrepancies. If the Mayor of Boston after the next two years retires from office without making some step in advance in the matter of budget making, then he will have failed in one of his most important duties to the citizens of Boston. The reason why this budget came into being was because of the fact that certain men who had the proper idea of the problem thought the system of budget making for the then Mayor was not the correct system; and it is rather a strange fact that after that budget system was established in 1915, when a particular organization then thought it controlled the Mayor of Boston, that organization itself, as far as I can remember, never made one step to advance this system of budget making. There was really a natural reason for that, and the reason was this, that they, reasoning like certain other groups of citizens, thought that that Mayor was satisfactory to them, and they cared not one iota whether another step towards correct budget making was made. The reform organizations did the proper thing when they instituted this budget, but they have been as neglectful as the Mayor himself in taking proper steps to get a proper form of budget making. As far as I am individually concerned, I endorse what the gentleman opposite says in reference to budget making, and want to see a proper system adopted. There has got to be a change in many directions. To sum up what Mr. Hagan has said, he recommends the cutting of a few items and then says that this could be done in the whole budget. I may or may not agree with him. In order to make it definite I will say that the budget cuts in B, C, D, E, F and G would have to be arbitrary, because of the fact that we have not the benefit of that expert advice that might tell us whether or not we could do this particular thing or not. I do not agree with him in cutting either the $15,000 for the cemetery fence, which I think is needed and protects the grounds, nor in the cutting of the $10,000 for music, which I think is one of the greatest benefits the people can have. With reference to his suggestion that we cut the totals, in my opinion the gentleman opposite is absolutely wrong in that, because of the fact that if we cut the totals and then add the specific items themselves, as I pointed out in committee, there is a discrepancy between the addition of the specific items and the totals themselves. So, when the gentleman opposite recommends that we cut the totals, it would be necessary for him to come in and cut the individual salary items in Schedule A, and if cuts are made in specific items, these men depending upon slack, it would necessarily mean that the matter would have to be dealt with later on, and then those men might or might not be at the mercy of the Mayor in reference to the restoration of the salaries. Here is where the difficulty would come. What particular salary items will be cut? Will there be an arbitrary cut, or will we take this salary or that salary, or, better, will we take this group or that group, and arbitrarily make a deduction for slack? There is one place in the budget, with reference to the city laborers, where there is an arbitrary deduction for slack, and the reason for that is, as I understand it, because the slack is so large that that can be done. But I disagree with him when he says there can be an arbitrary cutting of totals without the necessary cutting of specific items. In reference to the city laborers and the attempt that was made in this body to make reductions in other items, having in view an increase for them, I don't think that even the gentleman opposite will claim all the credit for that. I know how fair he is, and I think he will agree with me that there was not one member of this Council who was not in favor of getting a larger amount for them. There were not seven members of the Council, there were not eight, but there were nine members, and I think I can say this today without fear of contradiction, every one agreeing that the city laborers of the City of Boston should get at least $5 per day at the present time for wages; and we would also like to see a proportional increase for the mechanics and other men just above them. Talking about wages, with reference to this particular class, we provide the wages when we vote for the segregated budget in full. Those of us here want to take some credit for that situation, those of us who have been here and were the first majority to vote for a budget where the increases were provided. The year before I came into this Council, when the vote was five to four in reference to a segregated budget, every increase that Mayor Curley sent in with the budget was stricken off for the purpose of providing something for streets; and the sum of $40,000 was requested, in order that he could make increases as he saw fit. I have always said that that was a wrong system of budget making. It placed in the hands of the then Mayor $40,000, to put into effect increases according to the political influence the individual might have. When the salaries came in the next year there was a controversy, and I think the vote was again five to four, except in the other direction, when we left in the budget every increase that was then provided for by the Mayor. Since I have been here, and this is my fourth year, and the same with Coun. Watson and some of the other members here, we have voted for the increases that came in the budget, for this simple reason, that we could have control over numbers and rates, and that men in a certain class might know, when we sent back the budget, that they were entitled to an increase, and would not have to see you, Mr. President, or other members of this Council, in order to get an increase. Now, if the system that the councilor recommends were to go into effect, and we were to cut totals, there would be a discrepancy between the totals and the amount of addition of the specific items, and we would then go back to the lump sum budget, because we would have to strike out all the individual items, as the total would not agree. That is my idea of what the situation would be. The men would not know whether or not they got the increases, and we would go back to the lump sum budget. They would then be left to the mercy of the Mayor himself as to whether or not the increases should go into effect during the fiscal year.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I would like to correct one impression which seems to have lodged in the mind of Councilor Ford. As to the cut from the grand total from Schedule A, let me say it is the slack that is taken into account, which has always developed and which always will develop. It is an impossibility to provide for that slack by going over the names of John Smith and Bill Brown and Tom Jones. We don't know where that will come. No man can tell. It must be taken from the total. If not, will somebody tell me how else it can be taken? If I knew of another way I would advise that way; if I knew a better way I would advise that way. I think perhaps if a commission had studied it there might have been a better way found than that which my feeble mind has developed. But there is no better way in which it can be done, in my judgment, at the present time, and it is being done the same way today in the budget which you are going to pass, for the Public Works Department as applied to the laborers. They have taken the slack out. It is done in the Police Department and the other departments, but not sufficiently. It was done in the Sanitary Department last year, and it is not taken out this year, and you are going to pass it as it is presented this year, although they took it out last year. That is the only way of dealing with the matter that has suggested itself to me, and if anybody can give me another way I shall be only too glad to give it thought and consideration.

Coun. DONOGHUE—I want to say, as chairman of the Appropriations Committee this year, that I want to thank the individual members of the Council for the way in which they co-operated with me in the tiresome and tedious work involved in the handling of this budget. I think all the members of the Council are entitled to credit for the laborious work that they did upon the matter. I voted in committee with Coun. Hagan on his idea of striking out a certain percentage of slack from Schedule A, although, if we are going to live up to a segregated budget, I am willing to admit that if we cut any amount out of Schedule A we would then be changing the form of budget from a segregated budget to a lump sum budget. That was done in the days gone by, when they cut out $500,000 from Schedule A to provide for the repair of city streets, and by that act they did away with the form of budget that they claimed represented the segregated form in which a budget should be made up. I feel that the system under which we are dealing with this budget lies directly under the control of the Mayor, and it is up to the Mayor absolutely to send in his budget in whatever form he sees fit, and under the restrictions of the city charter the City Council, to my mind, has very little to say on the entire proposition. It has been pointed out time and time again that when a transfer is asked for out of courtesy, if it happens to come before the first of December it is placed before the City Council for their sanction, but after the first of December it is entirely in the hands of the Mayor and the City Auditor. So if the Mayor of the city felt, in connection with a particular budget, that his judgment was correct in regard to certain items, there would be nothing to prevent him, if he should see fit to wait until the first of December, from putting in every item that had been stricken out. On the other hand, it is my contention that if he cared to do that at any time previous to the first of December under the charter he has the right to do so. So, therefore, I think the great handicap we are laboring under is not the form of segregated budget but the city charter itself, as far as it relates to the duty of the City Council. I feel that the City Council should have more jurisdiction over these matters than has been allowed them under the charter, and I think if a new day ever does come we should have something more to say in regard to the budget. I think, referring to some of the items which Coun. Hagan has suggested taking out, that he has taken them out rather indiscriminately. When these matters came up in the committee we had a vote on the various items suggested to be stricken out by any member of the Council, and the majority vote naturally prevailed. I agree with some of the things that Coun. Hagan advocated, but I think in the final analysis he has reached the wrong conclusion when he says he is going to vote against the entire budget. I am not going to vote against the entire budget, because I feel, as some of the other members of the Council feel, that unless we pass this budget today we are not going to allow the increases to go into effect that have been provided by the Mayor; and I think the city laborers, the mechanics and all other employees of the city are entitled to at least the increases that have been granted to them. I personally feel that they are entitled to a larger increase. But I think that is neither here nor there now, and that we have nothing to do with getting them an additional increase; that that lies entirely in the hands of the Mayor. I feel that all the criticism that can or might be heaped upon him at this time is not going to add one dollar to the pay envelope of any of the city employees. So, therefore, I feel that the budget must be passed, that there is no other alternative. We have got to pass the budget in order to provide money to pay the salaries and wages of men engaged in the different activities of the city. While I feel that some of Coun. Hagan's conclusions are correct, it would require a great deal of time to sift the matter and efficiently cut out a sufficiently large sum of money to make an appreciable difference in the budget. When you cut from a budget aggregating $32,000,000 only $122,000 or $125,000, I think that is a mere drop in the bucket. I don't think it is going to provide any appreciable amount so that you can say to the Mayor, "There is so much money that could be used for this purpose or that purpose." I don't think in the final analysis any reduction of this kind is going to make any material difference in the size of the tax rate, even though the money is not provided for any particular purpose. I want to make myself clear on the proposition that I have voted to change the form of budget, if need be, in order to provide a sufficient amount of money to try and get the increase for the laborers and mechanics and other employees of the city, but, failing, I think the only thing to do is to vote for the budget as it is.

Coun. HAGAN—May I say that I entirely understand and respect the position of the gentleman opposite, and I will say that in my conclusion and decision to register my vote against the budget here today I simply do so in honest protest individually against the irregularities and inconsistencies of that budget and of the entire budget system as it is being handled today. I will say, to be utterly frank and to deserve the plaudits of the gentleman opposite, and so that I may be considered sincere in this matter, that if the passing of this budget depended upon my individual vote I most certainly would vote for it as does Coun. Donoghue; but, realizing that the passing of the budget is certain, realizing that the votes are here in sufficient number to pass it, I take the opportunity of registering my individual protest as against the budget by voting "No" upon it. If there were a question of a tie, or anything of that sort, I would frankly vote for the budget today, as a matter of getting it out of the way, as I believe it is the only thing that can be accomplished at the present minute.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I am glad that the gentleman admits that it is not a question of principle or sincerity.

Coun. Hagan's amendment was rejected.

The report was accepted and the appropriation orders were passed, yeas 8, nays 1, Coun. HAGAN voting nay.

Adjourned at 5.10 p. m., on motion of Coun. BRICKLEY.

HEARING BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL.

Tuesday, April 13, 1920.

The Council resumed the Long Island hearing before the City Council in the Council Chamber, at 2 p. m., President MORIARTY in the chair. All present.

Appearances, same as before.

Arthur P. Moran, chief officer at Long Island, continued his testimony as to the routine of the island. He stated that the reason why the inmates were not allowed to stay in the wards during the day was that the beds and rooms might be kept aired and clean, but that the inmates are free as to their movements apart from that. Shortage of towels, etc., has been due to lack of laundry facilities since the burning of the laundry building a year ago. He explained the custom as to bathing once a week, when clean shirt, underwear, stockings and towel are furnished. Calculate to buy one suit a year for an inmate, but sometimes use what is left over or left behind by those leaving the island. If clothes don't fit, the inmates can change them. Underwear which used to cost 37½ cents per garment now costs about 75 cents; suits that formerly cost $4.50 now cost $12, and other things accordingly. Additional chairs have now been furnished in the library, giving the men much better seating accommodations. He was responsible if the fire pails were not filled with water in the institution building, as reports to that effect should be made to him, but it comes directly under the supervision of the watchmen. He had not seen such a book of rules as had been produced, and is not operating under them. He had general supervision, etc. There has been a slowness for some time in delivery of clothing.

Nurse Marcella A. Conway spoke in high commendation of the cleanliness and facilities of the hospital as compared with other hospitals.

Eugene A. Metcalf, a patient in the hospital, had no fault to find with the cleanliness of or care given. In a year he had gone from 155 to 200 pounds.

Mrs. Mary Waldron, head matron, described the routine to insure cleanliness of patients and quarters. Continual care is exercised to destroy vermin.

Mrs. Katherine Tait, supervisor of nurses, said the only trouble was the unavoidable shortage of help for some time past. There are but eleven pupil nurses where there should be fifty or over.

Miss Annie Dwyer, a head nurse, considered the patients well cared for, with plenty of good nourishment, linen and attendance.

Miss Helen McLeish, a pupil nurse, said the hospital was clean, but short of help.

Dr. Albert S. Hyman, resident physician, said a superintendent of a large modern hospital is not supposed to go upon the ward for a daily visit; that on January 12, when the trustees were informed by telephone that there was no doctor on the island, there were two physicians there, Doctor Cuddy and Doctor Leavitt. Doctor Rockwell had been called to town and he himself had to visit a dying girl on Rainsford Island, being away about an hour. The hospital is much undermanned, one person doing the work of four. With the class sometimes coming to the hospital, treatment for vermin, such as gets in the skin, sometimes takes ten days. Bugs are kept away from the hospital. He felt that Doctor Donlan measured up favorably with the best executives he had met in different hospitals. There were thirty-eight—not forty-four, as published—deaths from the "flu" among the inmates, the patients averaging seventy-two years of age and 98 per cent of them having serious organic disease, greatly lowering the power of resistance. The Board of Health nurses absolutely forsook patients after a short period of service, leaving them alone, saying that the work was too hard.

Dr. Thomas Cuddy, assistant resident physician, said that he and Doctor Leavitt were on the island on the 12th of January, when it was reported that the island was left without a physician. He supported the other witnesses in regard to the cleanliness and care observed, as did Mrs. Laura P. Cutler, who until April 2 had been in the hospital as a nurse.

Thomas E. Murphy, in charge of the laundry department, explained the laundry difficulties, beginning with the burning of the laundry building April 26, 1919, which have resulted in a severe handicap that has never been entirely overcome.

The hearing was adjourned to Wednesday, April 14.

HEARING BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL.

Long Island, Boston Harbor,
Wednesday, April 14, 1920.

The hearing was resumed by the City Council in the institution building at 12.19 p. m., President MORIARTY presiding. Absent, Coun. Hagan and Watson.

After a view was taken, inmates were given a chance to be heard, some particular witnesses being asked for by members of the Council. It was understood that the names of witnesses should not be made public. General testimony was given as to conditions, some witnesses claiming that there was shortage of food, abuse by certain subordinate officers, etc., while others claimed that things were well run. There was general complaint of lack of towels, and that certain available toilet facilities were not afforded during the daytime.

The hearing was adjourned at 4.30 p. m., to Thursday, April 15, at 2 p. m., in the City Council Chamber, Boston.

Thursday, April 15, 1920.

Special meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President MORIARTY in the chair, and a quorum present.

The Clerk read the call for the meeting, as follows:

City of Boston,
City Council Chamber, April 14, 1920.
To the Members of the City Council:

Gentlemen,—You are hereby requested to assemble in the City Council Chamber, City Hall, on Thursday, April 15, 1920, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of taking the necessary action on the jury list.

Yours very truly,
JAMES T. MORIARTY, President.

Placed on file.

JURY LIST.

To the City Council.

Passed.

Adjourned at 2.44 p. m.

HEARING BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL.

Thursday, April 15, 1920.

Continuation of Long Island hearing before City Council, in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President MORIARTY presiding and all the members present.

Appearances, same as before.

Receiving Officer and Relief Watchman John J. Murphy explained his duties,—to receive inmates when admitted, act as watchman and relieve other men, book the men correctly and send the report to the office, and to go around the building ringing in clocks in different places. He had not noticed any outs about the fire pails, and considered that the inmates were properly treated in the matter of clothing, food and otherwise.

Watchman James J. Hobbell explained his duties in connection with the care of the men and the institution, seeing that men were provided with proper eating utensils and necessary food and that the cripples were given a chance to get seats first. He said that at any time when complaint was made about conditions, or they were observed to be improper, they were rectified. He had not noticed that the fire pails were empty. There has been a shortage of towels.

Drs. Albert B. Murphy, Thomas W. Leavitt, Cyril G. Richards and Llewellyn Rockwell testified to conditions on the island from the medical standpoint, stating that the only reason for criticism at the time of the "flu" epidemic came because of an unavoidable shortage of help.

John H. Kane, clerk and stenographer, stated that when Dr. Donlan left the island he left a list of the telephone numbers where he could be found with Mr. Hoynes, and that the list was also given to the witness. While Dr. Donlan was frequently away afterwards, he was on duty early in the morning and during the forenoon, and remained on duty after his return to the island, well into the evening, with the witness and with Doctors Hyman and Murphy.

Nurses Theresa J. Fogarty, Katherine Donahue, Helena A. Devlin, Katherine Tait and Josephine D. Ralli testified to their duties in the hospital and the treatment accorded patients, stating that, while everything was clean and well kept up, there was a shortage of help. They explained the details in the care of patients, bathing them, carbolicizing beds and mattresses, etc. The great trouble at the time of the "flu" epidemic was shortage of help.

Charles C. Ware, X-ray technician and infirmarian, stated that his duty was to give out medicines in the infirmary and to take and develop X-ray pictures. The men received treatment at any time that they needed it, when called for.

Matrons Eliza J. Dennis, Katherine Creed, Sarah Geary, Margaret A. Malloy and Mary L. Sharkey described their duties at the almshouse and hospital, telling how the dormitories, beds and clothing were kept clean, being changed frequently and whenever necessary. The habits of the inmates—such as constant hiding of food in different places—is such that constant watchfulness and attention is required. The women get up at half past five in the morning, the beds are aired from then until after breakfast, when they are made up, and the wards are cleaned. On certain days the inmates are bathed, some more frequently than others, where necessary; but every woman has a bath once a week at least and all her clothing is changed when needed. They had not observed lack of water in the fire pails. Some of the inmates have a tendency to spill food over themselves. As to utensils, in the upper wards they take care of their own spoons, and the infirm people in the lower wards have them taken care of for them. The spoons are given to inmates at meals and taken away and cleaned and returned to them for subsequent meals.

Margaret Sherman, the head cook, said she did the pastry cooking for the paid help, looked after all the other cooking in general, saw that the utensils were clean and that everything cooked was clean. If she did not get enough food to answer the requirements she went to the butcher or storekeeper and got more, regardless of requisitions, with which she had nothing to do.

After discussion as to probable duration of the case and procedure, in which no decision was reached, the hearing was adjourned at 5.22 p. m. to Thursday, April 22, at 2 p. m.

HEARING BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL.

Hyde Park, Tuesday, April 20, 1920.

Hearing by the City Council in the Everett Square Theater, Hyde Park, at 8 p. m., upon petition of the Hyde Park Board of Trade for revocation of the track locations of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company in Hyde Park.

President MORIARTY was in the chair and a quorum of the members was present. His Honor Mayor Peters was also in attendance.

Hon. Francis W. Darling, Mr. John P. Robinson, Dr. David B. Hanlon, Mr. George W. Earle, Legion Commander Clement H. Norton, Mr. Henry F. Arnold, Mr. John A. Kiggen, Dr. John F. Rattigan, Mr. Edward R. Bodfish, Representative F. B. Phinney and Mr. E. C. Jenney, members of the Hyde Park Board of Trade and citizens of Hyde Park, stated at length the case against the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company,—that they had not measured up to the requirements of the district for years; that it had not, as it might have done, assisted in the commercial and residential development of the section; that its existence independently of the Boston Elevated Railway Company meant the payment of the double fare to and from Boston; that it had acted as a dog in a manger, not in itself performing the services that could be reasonably required by the district and not being willing to yield to a corporation that was willing to perform that service; that it had absolutely fallen down, not only during the height of the recent blizzard, but for an unreasonable length of time afterwards and that it is now proposing to cut out a large part of the already poor service upon which the citizens of the district have to depend for transportation. The desire expressed by the speakers was that the franchises of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company should be revoked and that an arrangement should then be made whereby the Boston Elevated Street Railway Company would take over the street transportation service of the district, thus giving to Hyde Park as a part of the City of Boston the same facilities that other parts of the city now possess.

M. r. Frederick A. Cummings, representing the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, felt that the present trustees should not be too severely criticized for a situation which they had inherited and for which they were not responsible. He admitted that there had been much cause for complaint about the service, but said that the trustees were doing their best to straighten out the difficulties and hoped, if allowed to continue, to be able to show an improvement.

The hearing was adjourned.

On April 28 to John H. McCarthy Company for delivering meats to various departments for part of the month of April, as per following communication and schedule of bids:

BOSTON, April 26, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising same, to the John H. McCarthy Company, the lowest bidder, for meats to be delivered during the remainder of the month of April to the various city departments.

The reason for this request is that the Blackstone Supply Company, who were originally awarded the contract for furnishing meats for the entire month of April, have failed absolutely to fill the requirements of their contract. We have letters on file at this office from heads of departments to whom this company was to furnish meats, containing strong objections to the manner in which their orders were filled by the above-named company, and also to the quality of the meats furnished.

For the reasons outlined above, I respectfully ask that the permission requested be granted.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,

Superintendent of Supplies.

On April 27 to the East Boston Coal Company as per following communication and schedule of bids:

BOSTON, April 15, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids on anthracite and semibituminous coal which were publicly opened and read in this office under date of April 14, covering deliveries to be made through the year beginning with May, 1920.

I respectfully recommend that the bids on anthracite and semibituminous coal for the harbor institutions be readvertised as we were unable to secure any bids on these requirements, and I also intend to readvertise for the anthracite coal to be used in the public buildings of the City of Boston for the reason that the prices today for this commodity are, in my opinion, too high because of the unsettled condition of the hard coal market at this time.

I respectfully recommend that I be authorized to enter into contract with the East Boston Coal Company, the lowest bidder, for delivery of semibituminous coal for the whole city at $11.65 per ton. In explanation of this award would state that the following prices were received within a week on coal for delivery to the following institutions:

Postoffice Department, 1,200 tons of semibituminous coal, 25 cents under current retail price, which is now $11.75.

City of Revere, $11.50 per ton for delivery before September 1, 1920.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Education (Normal Art School), current price at time of delivery.

These prices quoted above make no provision for the upward adjustment of freight rates, which is bound to ensue very shortly, which will mean an increased cost for the coal delivered later in the year, while the price quoted by the East Boston Coal Company of $11.65 per ton is a flat price covering deliveries until May 1, 1921, regardless of any increase in freight rates or labor which may develop.

I am also attaching recommendations submitted by Perry Barker, fuel engineer, in connection with these bids.

Yours respectfully,

G. J. CRONIN,

Superintendent of Supplies.

EXPLANATION.

By "Current" price is meant the market price at time of delivery.

The Whittemore Company's bid for anthracite and semibituminous coal was irregular on account of their bid not being submitted on our form.

851 OLD SOUTH BUILDING,
BOSTON, April 14, 1920.

MR. GEORGE J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies:

DEAR SIR,—We have examined proposals opened on April 14, 1920, for furnishing anthracite and semibituminous coal for certain public buildings and departments of the City of Boston and now have to report as follows:

Anthracite.—One proposal was received for furnishing anthracite coal and this was for the requirements in Roxbury (District 4), Dorchester (District 5) and Charlestown (District 6) only. D. Doherty Company quoted $16 per ton for furnace, egg and stove sizes and $6 per ton for screenings in the above districts.

In view of the present market prices of anthracite coal, together with the fact that a large portion of this coal can be delivered early in the summer, these prices are too high and we recommend the rejection of this proposal.

Semibituminous.—D. Doherty Company quoted $12 per ton for furnishing the semibituminous coal (5,000 tons) required in Roxbury (District 4) and Dorchester (District 5) only. This proposal specified "Davenport" coal having a heating value of 14,250 B. t. u. per pound as delivered and 8.25 per cent of ash in dry coal. These figures, on the basis of the above price, represent a cost per 1,000,000 B. t. u. of 42.1 cents.

The East Boston Coal Company submitted a proposal for furnishing the entire requirements of all districts (14,025 tons) at a price of $11.65 per ton. This bid specified "South Fork, Pennsylvania" coal having a heating value of 14,100 B. t. u. per pound as delivered and 7.50 per cent of ash in dry coal. These figures represent a cost per million B. t. u. of 41.3 cents.

We recommend the acceptance of the proposal of the East Boston Coal Company.

Respectfully submitted,

PERRY BARKER.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, April 22, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Wilson & Tomlinson, 79 Milk street, Boston, Mass., is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance, but by the abutters, and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

April 28, 1920.

The authority requested is hereby given.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

On April 29 to the Pitometer Company, for a waste water survey of Charlestown as per following communication:

BOSTON, April 23, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

One of the recommendations of the Committee on Sources of New Revenue which reported to you a short time ago, relative to the operation of the Water Division, was that measures should be taken to detect waste in operation of the water system.

I have secured a proposition from the Pitometer Company of New York for a waste water survey of the Charlestown district, for the sum of $3,800, and respectfully ask your permission to award a contract to this firm, without advertising for bids therefor.

The methods employed are the most modern in the line of waste determination. In this case they propose to account for all the water delivered into Charlestown from the metropolitan system, dividing it up into domestic consumption, industrial consumption, unavoidable and avoidable waste. It is this latter item "avoidable waste" with which the survey is primarily concerned, the object being to actually locate the waste, after which it is a simple matter to effect a saving of water by making repairs. In addition to locating waste from the main pipes and services, the Pitometer Company will measure the flow, if any, through all fire pipes and through large services, at the same time reading the meters upon the services. In this way the work should prove valuable, as it will determine whether water is being stolen through fire pipes and whether meters are accurately registering the amount of water used.

The Pitometer Company of New York is the only concern, as far as I am aware, equipped for work of this kind. They have been employed in many cities throughout the country, including New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Detroit, Elmira, Trenton, Dayton and Albany. Their work has been particularly efficient in Buffalo and Detroit, where they are still employed. During the past year they made a complete survey of the City of Cambridge, Mass., and I am informed by the general superintendent that their work was very satisfactory and thorough, resulting in a direct financial gain to the city.

The conditions for affecting a substantial saving by restricting waste are distinctly favorable in Boston. We are in a better position to lower our consumption than is any other city or town in the Metropolitan Water District, for the reason that our per capita "night rate," or consumption between the hours of 1 and 4 a. m., is now much the highest in the district and can more readily be lowered by restricting waste than can the "night rate" of any of the other cities and towns. The "night rate" is a measure of the waste occurring, as the legitimate consumption during the early morning hours is comparatively small. The Charlestown section has been selected for trial as the conditions there appear favorable for satisfactory results.

As the state assessment is based two thirds in proportion to the respective consumption of water by the different cities and towns of the district, it follows that a saving of water by any particular city or town must result in a direct saving of money by that city or town, provided the others do not make a corresponding reduction.

A modern method of waste restriction is absolutely necessary from the point of view of good waterworks practice. It will result in a direct financial gain to Boston, and will postpone the time when a large expenditure must be made to extend the works of supply of the metropolitan district.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

On April 23 to the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, as per following communication:

BOSTON, April 21, 1920.

of $775 each, total amount of contract $2,325, from the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, delivery to be made to the Collecting Department, City Hall Annex. These machines have been specially improved and changed to meet the requirements for which they are to be used at the Collecting Department, and for this reason no particular benefit would accrue from asking bids in the open market.

I am attaching herewith letter from the City Collector in relation to the award of this contract.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

MAYOR'S OFFICE.

The following communication has been sent to the secretaries of various organizations in Boston requesting a conference with the representative of the United States Government on war risk insurance.

DEAR SIR,—The Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the United States Government is making every effort to bring to the attention of ex-service men their rights and benefits under the War Risk Insurance Act. With this in mind, the Bureau has located in Boston Mr. H. Burlingame as special representative for Massachusetts, and it is his wish that he have an opportunity to consult with the various organizations that may be in a position to reach ex-service men.

Not only does the Bureau desire to have ex-service men secure adequate life insurance protection for themselves and their dependents but it wishes to lay before the people of the Commonwealth in a manner as effective as possible certain features of the work of the Bureau.

In order to place Mr. Burlingame in touch with those organizations which will be most helpful to him in disseminating throughout the Commonwealth the facts which the War Risk Insurance Bureau desires to bring before the public, I am calling a conference for Wednesday, May 19, at 2.30 p. m., in the old Aldermanic Chamber, second floor of City Hall, on School street. I trust it will be possible for an appropriate representative of your organization to be present at that time.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

RENT AND HOUSING COMMITTEE.

From the date of the organization of the committee March 26, 1920, to April 22, 1920, conclusions have been reached in 205 cases, as follows:

Rent adjustment.....	35
Rent increase not unreasonable.....	34
Tenant and owner to adjust.....	22
No rent increase until repairs are made...	9
Extension on vacate notices.....	36
Extension on vacate notices refused.....	19
Referred to Board of Health.....	10
Referred to Police Department.....	1
Referred to other cities.....	6
Referred to Legal Aid Society.....	1
Information asked by tenants for future action.....	9
Adjusted at State House.....	2
Outside scope of committee.....	4
Vacate notice illegal.....	2
No recommendation necessary.....	1
Request to hold notice of complaint.....	2
Return of deposits made with owners.....	3
Miscellaneous.....	9

Of the total number of cases adjusted by the committee there were 125 which could be conveniently analyzed. From these analyses it was shown that while the old rental ranged from $11 to $60 per month most of the cases were in the neighborhood of from $20 to $30 per month and that the average for the entire month was $25 per month.

It was also shown that while the new rental ranged from $16 to $75 per month most of the cases were in the neighborhood of from $30 to $40 per month with an average for the entire number of $34 per month.

The average increase on these cases is therefore shown to be $9 per month or 36 per cent.

SPECIAL PNEUMONIA SERVICE.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,
 BOSTON, April 21, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
 Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—You are aware of the fact that we have had a special pneumonia service at the hospital during the past year. The work on the service has been very heavy during the last few months, so much so that the resident has been able to do merely routine work. To make these investigations worth while and to complete the laboratory work, the trustees desire to employ for a period of four months, beginning April 1, 1920, Dr. Dwight O'Hara, at a salary of $75 per month. I therefore respectfully request, on behalf of the trustees, the approval of your Honor to expend this sum under Item C-2, which was set apart in the budget for just such purpose.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH P. MANNING,
 President, Board of Trustees.

Executive approval, April 28.

STATEMENTS OF RICHARD J. LANE, CHAIRMAN, OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

BEFORE THE COMMITTEE ON MUNICIPAL FINANCE APRIL 28, 1920 ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1567 TO INCREASE TAX LIMIT FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.

The School Committee have been concerned for some time with the seriousness of the proposition of housing the school children of the City of Boston. Since 1916 we have been unable to keep abreast of the needs of the system on account of the high cost of constructing school buildings. A doubtful expedient has been adopted of meeting this situation by largely increasing the number of portable buildings. At the present time we have 160 portable buildings housing 8,000 children.

In the George Putnam District there are eleven portables in the school yard of that district. These portables are connected by wooden runs and, in the opinion of the committee, are a dangerous fire hazard.

In the Lewis District there are nine portables in the school yard, and three basement rooms are being used.

The same situation exists all over our city, and the School Committee have come to the conclusion that this policy of building temporary portable buildings is unsound, and we must immediately start erecting permanent school structures.

The matter was taken up with the Mayor of the City of Boston and gone over in great detail with him, and he has given his approval to the program that we are now presenting to the Legislature. We thought it better to adopt a three-year building program at this time because it will give us an opportunity at the end of three years to take account of stock, so to speak, and see where we will stand at that time. We, therefore, ask for each of the three years, in addition to the 68 cents we are now allowed by law per $1,000 of valuation, 95 cents additional per $1,000 for new school buildings. In addition to that we are asking 49 cents per $1,000 in addition to the 35 cents allowed under present law for repairs and alterations of existing school buildings; this amounts in dollars to the following sums: The 95 cents represents $1,415,000, the 49 cents additional amounts to $730,000. These amounts, if granted, will not allow us to make any extensions but to simply meet the increased cost of construction and repairs as reported to us by the Schoolhouse Commission. They have reported to us, after a careful investigation, that the cost of construction and the cost of making repairs has gone up over the figures of 1916 fully 140 per cent.

The Mayor felt that out of the money thus allowed we should complete the Public Latin School in the first year, and in the second year take a sufficient amount of money to enable us to complete the administration building. According to the report of the Schoolhouse Commission $600,000 is needed in addition to the $750,000 allowed by the Legislature in 1919 to complete our Public Latin School. This $600,000 must be taken out of the 95 cents asked for this year on the present bill. In 1921 it will take $450,000 to complete the administration building. It may be proper to state to the committee that the School Committee believes in the policy that was adopted at the time that Samuel W. McCall was governor, to meet the expenses of erecting school buildings and repairing school buildings out of current taxes rather than to pursue longer the policy of erecting such buildings out of borrowed money.

At the present time the City of Boston is under an indebtedness of $16,000,000 for school buildings that have been erected in the past. The Schoolhouse Commission inventory these buildings at a value of not over $30,000,000. Of course, it is unfortunate under the present conditions to add anything to the tax rate of the city, but I believe that the taxpayers of Boston will have no complaint to an addition to their taxes when the money is to be used for school purposes. The amounts we are asking are from figures submitted us by the Schoolhouse Commission. Possibly the members of this Legislature understand that in Boston the School Committee merely appropriates the money and it is entirely the duty of the Schoolhouse Commission to erect the school buildings.

The Superintendent of Schools of Boston will be introduced to explain in detail the needs that exist throughout the city of housing the school children.

Relative to the increased cost of the Public Latin School, the authorized amount of $750,000 was arrived at as a rough estimate, and the Schoolhouse Commission soon explained after that bill was enacted in 1919 that they had not included the cost of furnishing the building—an item of $60,000, and that architects' fees and the expense of a clerk of works had not been included in the $750,000. This would be an additional amount of some $65,000. In addition to that on account of the danger from water seepage the building had been elevated over original plans involving an increased cubage. This, with the increased cost of construction, might amount to $600,000. The present bill is so drafted that we do not bind ourselves to the full amount of $600,000, but the amount is not to exceed $600,000.

The needs for an administration building are well known, they are most pressing and cannot longer be postponed. The need of a central location for the administration building is apparent to everybody. It will house the Business Agent and the Schoolhouse Commission who deal largely with business concerns in the center of the city. The administration building is visited daily by hundreds of teachers who come from all sections of the city. The present building is old and unsanitary, and unfitted for the purposes for which it is being used.

The entire program involves a sum of a little more than $6,000,000, extending over a period of three years, but this when considered in view of what other cities throughout the country are spending for school construction is a very, very modest sum. In Detroit they expect to spend $17,000,000 on school construction, in New York, $25,000,000, in Cleveland, about $16,000,000, and in Buffalo, $12,000,000.

STATEMENT OF COMMITTEE ON NEW SOURCES OF REVENUE.

HEARING ON PLANS HELD THURSDAY, APRIL 29, 1920.

On the second day of January, 1920, Mayor Peters appointed a committee consisting of Nathan Matthews, Chairman, William B. Munro, Francis R. Bangs, Edward T. Kelly, W. Eugene McGregor, Malcolm E. Nichols, A. C. Ratschesky, John A. Sullivan and Edgar N. Wrightington to consider and report upon additional sources of municipal revenue. In the letter sent to the members of the committee by his Honor the Mayor, the need of additional revenues was pointed out and emphasis placed upon the unduly high proportion of taxes paid by real estate as compared with other sources of revenue.

The present cost of labor and building materials, together with the high taxes upon real estate, has resulted in seriously checking building operations in the City of Boston and elsewhere. Unless reduction in the cost of erecting and maintaining buildings, including taxes thereon, can be effected, building operations will be brought practically to a standstill. In that event the city can have no further growth. Already the building program has fallen far below the needs of the community and consequently rents have greatly increased.

Whether the situation demands new revenues created for the purpose of relieving real estate in part and distributing more equitably the burdens of government, and, if so, what new sources of revenues may properly be devised, is the problem before the committee. If new sources are found the money thereby raised should not be spent on unnecessary objects or in extravagant ways. To properly restrict the use of such funds a limitation might well be put in the legislative act authorizing their collection, as for example, a provision requiring the application of the new revenues to payments on the principal and interest of the public debt.

With these considerations in mind and after frequent consultation with Corporation Counsel Arthur D. Hill and conferences with Mr. W. D. T. Trefry, State Tax Commissioner, Mr. Alexander Holmes, Deputy Tax Commissioner, Mr. J. Alfred Mitchell, City Auditor, and others, the committee has prepared tentative plans for providing new sources of revenue which are hereinafter set forth. Criticisms and suggestions are invited by all persons interested in the subject and for this purpose a public hearing will be held in the old Aldermanic Chamber at City Hall on Thursday, April 29, 1920, at 4 p. m.

The plans so far considered by the committee are:

I. An excise at the rate of 1 per cent upon gross sales at retail of all goods, wares and merchandise.

II. An excise of 1 per cent upon the gross receipts of the following occupations: Advertising; amusement enterprises; barber shops; bathing establishments; billiard halls; bowling alleys; brokers; building movers and wreckers; check rooms; clothes cleansing establishments; collection agencies; commercial agencies; dance halls; detective agencies; dyeing establishments; employment bureaus or agencies; funeral directors, undertakers and embalmers; garages, public; hack, carriage or automobile stands; hair dressers; junk dealers or collectors; laundries; livery stables; messenger service; money lenders; pawnbrokers; renting rooms by innkeepers and lodging house keepers; rendering plants; roller skating rinks; roller coaster; salvaging; scenic railways; second-hand dealers; sight-seeing bus; shoe-shining stands; shooting galleries; soapmaking; stockyards; slaughtering establishments; storage warehouses; theater and railroad ticket brokers; transportation, not including street railways and railroads; vending or weighing machines; and,

An excise of three-tenth of 1 per cent upon the gross receipts of the following callings: Architect; assayer; attorney-at-law; auctioneer; accountant, public; bacteriologist; chemist; chiropractor; clairvoyant; dentist; designer; engraver; engineer, civil, electrical, chemical or mechanical; lithographer; manicurist; masseur; oculist; optician; osteopath; physician; surgeon; and veterinary.

III. An excise substantially like that levied under the Federal War Revenue Act of 1918 upon theater admissions, soft drinks and other so-called luxuries.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

HEARING BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL.

Thursday, April 22, 1920.

Continuation of Long Island hearing before City Council, in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President MORIARTY presiding and all the members present.

Appearances, same as before.

Watchman James W. Curran described his duties at the island. He told how the smokers' hall was hosed and scrubbed out every night or every second night, and how the lame and blind were given preference in being seated at the table.

Florence Earner, plumber, told about conditions that were found in the second floor toilet room, near the library, that led to its being closed.

Irene A. Newton, dietitian, told how the diet was balanced under the calories system, and about the cleanly and hygienic conditions under which the food was prepared.

Chief Engineer William Lynch said the only reason why heat had been shut off at any time from the living quarters of the inmates was because of a broken gasket which needed repair, necessitating the heat being cut off for the short time necessary for such repairs. As for keeping the fire pails properly filled with water, he considered that the duty of those in charge of the different buildings. The tendency is for the female inmates particularly to use the pails for washing stockings, etc., if they are not closely watched. As for fire arrangements in case of a bad fire the soldiers at the fort now respond. He had seen fire drills, but it was not a part of his duty to participate in them. He considered that such prevention equipment as there is on the island had been properly kept up. He did not personally know of abuse of inmates by officers; had heard harsh language used by one of the officers to inmates, had spoken about it to Doctor Donlan, and it has not occurred since to his knowledge. Recommendations made by fire investigators as to installation of sprinklers and better locations for hydrants, etc., have not been carried out. There is not apparatus for weighing or keeping track of coal. He considered the power house one of the best constructed buildings on the island and that the men who did the job earned their money. The refrigerating machinery was not installed according to specifications, but was accepted for the city by a carpenter, a man who had no knowledge whatever of machinery. Figures have been secured for repair of the tank, but the thing has drifted along. It has now been repaired, but it is impossible to get ammonia to run it. The smoking room could be heated if necessary, but it has been felt in the past by the chairman of the buildings and grounds that if radiators were placed in the room the inmates would use it as a loafing space rather than a smoking room, and it would be difficult to keep them out of the room when they should be working. Since the laundry was burned down adequate facilities had not been provided for the laundry work of the institution.

Charles F. Gaynor, Institutions Registrar, said he had told the new Board, and believed, that it was not wise to attempt to run the institution under an unpaid Board; that he considered Doctor Donlan a superior executive, and that he felt that the Long Island Hospital was equal to any hospital he had seen in Massachusetts, being, in his opinion, in many respects superior to the City Hospital.

Joseph P. Manning, of the trustees, said the Mayor had called him up in regard to serving on the Board about the 8th of January, not wishing to appoint a permanent Board and then have to legislate them out of office; at the first meeting, on January 12, a question came up as to Doctor Donlan's absence, and Mr. O'Callaghan said he understood Doctor Donlan was out of town, and Mr. O'Brien said he understood he had gone to Cuba for two weeks, without leave of absence. Upon calling up the island it appeared that Doctor Rockwell, Doctor Hyman and Doctor Murphy were not on the island, that there seemed to be nobody in charge but the chief clerk. A visit by Trustees Manning and Murray to the Mayor's office showed that no leave of absence had been granted by the Mayor, although a letter had been received from Doctor Cunningham asking for leave for Doctor Donlan. While the Mayor had no objection to the doctor's going, he referred him to his Board of Trustees, and the doctor had not applied to the Board. At the next meeting a motion was carried to suspend Doctor Donlan from the pay roll, pending explanation of his absence on vacation without leave of absence. At a subsequent meeting, about January 27, the doctor appeared and explained that pressing business took him out of town and said he did not feel that he wanted to apply to what was left of the old Board before the five new members came in, as he did not wish to humiliate himself, and he assumed that his absence was understood and not objected to after the conversation he had had with Mr. O'Brien in regard to the matter. A visit by the trustees to the island brought forth complaints about poor food, etc., and the buildings were found to be rather the worse for wear. There was lack of paint, ceilings were broken, and the laundry was out of commission, owing to the fire. The ice plant was also out of commission, and there was lack of provision for fire. Eight or nine water pails were unfilled. There was complaint of lack of towels and lack of heat. The tubercular ward was the only bright spot in the whole place. There was no proper system of checking up food supplies by requisitions, the amounts asked upon requisitions bearing no relation to the amount allowed. There was also complaint about clothing of the inmates, some of them saying that they had had a suit for a year and a half. The clothes were ragged, soiled and generally filthy.

To Mr. Lundy, Mr. Manning said that the Mayor had told him that he intended consolidating the departments, but did not say why, perhaps because Mr. Manning had a copy of a report of a committee, one of the members of which was from his Board at the City Hospital, and knew why. Doctor Donlan's name was not mentioned by the Mayor at any time, and he had no personal knowledge of other members of the Board of Trustees conferring with the Mayor from time to time. They had not cared to have Doctor Donlan go with them on their trip around the island because they wanted to see how things were for themselves. He had not heard that he and other members of the Board had been termed or considered "dummies." The purpose in appointing him on the Board, or in appointing other members, so far as he knew, was not to remove Doctor Donlan. The idea in wishing Doctor Donlan to be present at the meeting on January 12, at which time he was away from town, was to take up with him questions concerning the condition of clothing of the inmates, lack of heat and towels, and food conditions. He did not know whether his concern had sold any tobacco to the institution on the 1st of April or not, but if it had the city got 100 cents on the dollar. The Board found friction between Doctor Donlan and the visiting staff, headed by Doctor Minot. To use Doctor Minot's words, there was no co-operation. Doctor Minot said the reason why the visiting staff did not go down more frequently was on account of their services being unpaid—that the doctors could not afford to do it; that owing to lack of boat facilities they would have to waste a great deal of time when they went to the island. Doctor Walsh seemed to be the principal visitor. Doctor Donlan had refused to "O K" the bills of Dr. Ward H. Cook, the pathologist, who was supposed to get $2,800 a year for his services, on the ground that the services rendered did not warrant the payment of any such amount, and Doctor Cook had claimed, on his side, that when he went there the work was not prepared so that he could go on with it. He did not recollect Trustee O'Brien arguing on the matter of Doctor Cook's bill, saying, "I would rather fight Doctor Donlan than fight the visiting staff." Mr. O'Brien had taken the stand that the visiting staff were the ones to run the medical end of the hospital and that the trustees should have no jurisdiction or say over their work. With that position the witness disagreed. The trustees started with no feeling whatever against Doctor Donlan. The witness was present at the preliminary drafting of the specifications; all the trustees agreed on the charges to be preferred, voting on them as a body about the 26th or 27th of March. He felt that it was up to the superintendent that conditions complained of in the specifications were remedied, that the institution was kept up properly, bringing any matters that needed attention and which required action of the Board to the Board's attention.

The hearing was adjourned at 6.20 p. m. to 8 p. m., when the hearing was resumed.

At the evening session, John P. Keogh, storekeeper at Long Island, said he had told the trustees about the way his department was run. Requisitions are made out by heads of departments for certain amounts of specific articles of food, but the amount delivered does not always agree with the amount requested, as Doctor Donlan's orders have been to give the kitchen everything they ask for and if it was not in stock to order it. The witness had charge of all freight to Long Island, deliveries of goods from the store on requisitions, of the sewing room, giving orders for stuff to be made for the island, and taking up passes on the boat in the afternoon. The goods are ordered from the chief clerk on a book, and he puts them on a requisition from the Supply Department. The Supply Department is supposed to send a yellow slip stating when the goods are to arrive. Sometimes the goods are used before the yellow slip arrives. When they come to the store they are subject to requisition from heads of different departments. Witness also told about the difficulty he had had in getting sufficient cash for towels, with the result that, instead of having some of the towels a yard in length, he had tried making them 20 inches in length. The fire had destroyed a large amount of towels, as well as sheets and pillow cases, and the department had not yet caught up. While away from the island over Sunday the keys were left with Mr. Moran and sometimes in the witness's box, and those wishing things for the kitchen sometimes go and get them and do not always mark it down. The witness has no paid assistant who can act in his absence.

Dr. Charles E. Donlan, superintendent of the Long Island Hospital and Almshouse, said he was appointed superintendent under Mayor Hibbard's administration in 1908, and had since been superintendent. Fire hazard has been the predominant worry, as well as deteriorating condition of the buildings, these and other matters having been repeatedly called to the attention of the trustees in annual reports and special communications, even to the point of pestering them. An appropriation was made about three years ago to put in sprinklers, but they have not yet appeared. He was absent from Long Island from January 12 to on or about January 28, 1920, but had permission given to him in conversation with Mr. Thomas C. O'Brien. The matter was referred to in conversation with Trustee O'Brien on January 6 and January 10, the witness saying on January 10 to Mr. O'Brien, "I am going on the Colonial Monday morning, and will be back about the first of the month." Mr. O'Brien merely saying, "I am sorry you won't be at that meeting Monday, but it is all right, anyway." He had never been absent from Long Island for a long or short stay without leaving a telephone or other address where he might be expeditiously reached. There is no waste at Long Island; has been the most perfect conservation of everything there, with the exception that there are old, deteriorating buildings. There has been no lack of care shown for fire equipment. Of course, an inmate might probably empty pails at any time. He had not been apprised of the rules of 1906, and it stood out clearly in his mind that the predecessors of the present Board officially recognized the fact that there were no rules. Mr. Lyall, representing the City Auditor, did map out a requisition system, but the old Board of Trustees failed to carry out his wish, and up to the present time, so far as the witness was aware, the new Board had taken no action in the matter. There are no records at the island inaccurately or inadequately kept; there has been no failure to provide proper sanitary facilities. The reason for closing the lavatory back of the library was that it was used rather as a garbage can than as a lavatory and had to be closed. The present trouble is the culmination of a personal feud that had existed for more than ten years between Dr. James J. Minot and the witness, the crisis being precipitated by the persistent refusal of witness to approve department pay rolls carrying the name of Dr. Ward H. Cook, a protégé of Doctor Minot's, for full time, unless Doctor Cook performed his full duty. Doctor Cook's position was that of resident pathologist. He never resided at the hospital, rarely came there, and upon the few occasions that he did come remained not more than an hour and a half or two hours. The neglect of Long Island by the self-creating, self-perpetuating, socially elect visiting medical staff has been marked, the only considerable unpaid medical attendance recently rendered having been by Dr. Edmund Walsh, and when Doctor Minot cannot dominate the superintendent there is precipitated a contest. The witness said there had been a steadily deteriorating personnel of the trustees culminating in the past few years. While the Mayor is not to be charged with the initial responsibility for the steps begun two years ago for the disruption of Long Island, if he had taken the trouble to learn something about the island as an institution, rather than a mere subject of controversy and squabble, he would have had no problem in it. For fifteen months he permitted two persons whom the court had found to be unworthy to unlawfully act as a Board of Trustees and to exercise an authority that could not be theirs to maliciously hamper the superintendent personally and in the administration of his office. During this period Mayor Peters took no action and, as the endurance of neither the two former trustees nor the superintendent seemed likely ever to be exhausted, a new solution was thought out, involving the closing up of Long Island itself. A scheme for the merging of all the harbor institutions was evolved and carried forward to the Legislature, not with the aim of benefiting all or any of the institutional units concerned, but of eradicating Donlan. Mr. T. C. O'Brien has set no limit to his personal activity to bring about the witness's removal. When he denied that he told the witness at Long Island on January 6 that Miss Dierkes and Mr. Donnaruma were to be removed as trustees and four "dummies" appointed with him to make a quorum, and that the witness's going to Havana was discussed, and when he also denied that on January 10 he told witness that the "dummies" had been appointed and that he regretted he should not be able to meet them at their first meeting on the following Monday, that he granted witness permission to go to Cuba and asked the probable date of his return, he uttered a deliberate and unmitigated lie. Witness quoted from his own report of January 31, 1920, setting forth a resume of the work of the year. Mr. O'Brien immediately after the attack of Coun. McLaughlin in the City Council asked witness to analyze the speech he made and report to him, which witness did. Mr. O'Brien concealed this report from his colleagues and produced and read it to them only after witness had called their attention to its existence and demanded that it be read. The witness here read said report under date of March 24, stating conditions on the island, in answer to Coun. McLaughlin's statement. Witness said that substantially every charge made by Mr. McLaughlin was a pure fabrication and fixed in his mind before he pretended to inquire. He felt that the councilor's attack was an unconscionable insult to the patient body generally and an unwarranted slander upon the faithful and overworked nursing personnel, all of whom made uncomplaining sacrifices, one nurse even giving up her life cheerfully. But one of the Board of Health did desert her post during the influenza epidemic after only three days' service, assigning as her reason that she was tired and that the work was too hard. Witness also quoted his own letter to the Mayor, under date of March 27, suggesting a minute investigation of all the hospital activities of the city on parallel lines by an unbiased jury. He asserted that the Mayor does not dare institute such a comparative investigation. In the interests of economical education and the public welfare he now suggested an exhaustive comparative investigation of the administration of Long Island and Deer Island, and he said that the Mayor and the Penal Commissioner do not dare to follow that suggestion. If a general comparative investigation is either feared or deemed unwise, he merely asked for an investigation of parasites of all kinds at Long Island, the City Hospital and Deer Island, with a comparison of expenditures in recent years for their extermination. As to condition of clothing, many men who work today have to live with only one suit a year, and an old man with paralysis agitates will spill his food on his chest at the first opportunity, so that even if he had a new suit daily he could hardly be kept clean. But ample orders of clothing were issued on November 13, 1919, and deliveries were not completed until March 13, 1920, and when they were made did not tally with the original order and bills. The law compelling the institutions to buy from correctional institutions anything they may turn out in the way of manufacture is a serious hardship. It is wholly unfair to an institution of the character of a hospital to compel it to buy an inferior article at a price at which superior goods can be bought in open market. As for towels, every man was furnished an individual towel. After the laundry was destroyed by fire the washing that the institution could not do was sent to one of the city laundries, but with the advent of Mr. O'Brien that was stopped, he saying that Deer Island could do it. Deer Island has failed to do it, and any shortage is chargeable directly to Mr. O'Brien. The burning of the laundry was, of course, a very severe handicap from which the institution has never recovered. It is generally conceded that a superintendent is responsible only for the carrying out of the policy laid down by a Board of Trustees or other representatives of the public, and where there is no policy there is naturally nothing for the superintendent to follow. Mr. O'Brien and the Board knew that the witness intended retiring from the place on the 1st of May, but the possession of the place was not enough. It was necessary for the influences behind the trustees that Donlan should either be driven forth on a forced resignation or dismissed in discredit. To insure success Donlan must be broken and discredited. It seems an outrage that these conscienceless influences should be permitted to prevail and sacrifice the happiness and well-being of a thousand persons to punish a lack of subservience in one. To Mr. T. C. O'Brien the witness said he had not received any salary for the time he was in Cuba; that the fact of his name being on the pay roll was a sufficient request for it, but aside from that he had made no personal request. In testifying as they did as to what transpired the day witness returned from Cuba, Trustees Murray and Manning lied. He had missed the testimony of Trustees Wilson and O'Callaghan, but those he heard lied, and all those who had testified for the commission in this case, relating to that instance, had lied.

Council G. E. O'Brien made for the respondent the following requests for rulings:

1. The hearing is "in the nature of a trial."
2. "The proceedings before the tribunal should be according to the law of the land which is the common law wherever the statute is silent."
3. The tribunal had no control over the charges; it could not enlarge the charges as laid.
4. The respondent as a matter of right was entitled to specifications.
5. The complainant was bound by his answers to specifications.
6. The tribunal was restricted to matters set forth by the complainant in his answers to specifications.
7. The tribunal had no right to hear witnesses other than the complainant in support of the charges against the objection of the respondent.
8. The tribunal had no right to receive testimony as evidence in support of the charges not given under the sanction of a proper oath.
9. The tribunal had no right to receive as evidence over the objection of the respondent any statements made by persons not made in the presence of or in the hearing of the respondent.
10. The tribunal had no right to receive as evidence over the objection of the respondent any conclusion of any witness in support of the charges, even if such conclusion was given under oath, if such conclusion was formed or based upon statements made to such witness by persons not under oath and the author of which statements the respondent had no opportunity to cross examine.
11. The tribunal has no right directly or indirectly to take part in the removal of the respondent from his public office.
12. The members of the tribunal must give specific reasons for their action in the matter and subscribe their names thereunto.
13. The good faith of the complainant in bringing the charges and the probable cause of the charges were in issue.

Corporation Counsel Hill advised the Council that they were not called on to give any rulings, but that the requests for rulings should be received and considered in connection with the appropriate action to be taken by the Council, and President MORIARTY stated that that would be the ruling of the Council.

On advice of Corporation Counsel Hill the hearing was then closed, at 10.40 p. m.

Monday, April 26, 1920.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President MORIARTY in the chair and all the members present.

GAMES ON SUNDAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 26, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of chapter 240, the so-called Sunday Sport Law, licenses for the playing of certain games on public grounds may be automatically granted by the Park and Recreation Department. The law provides, however, that permits for the playing of certain games on grounds other than public grounds may be granted by the Mayor and City Council.

I have consulted with the Corporation Counsel as to this regulation, inasmuch as several applications have been received at this office for permits for the playing of certain games on non-public grounds within the City of Boston, and the opinion of the Corporation Counsel is as follows:

"First.—This act is to be interpreted as authorizing the licensing of certain places for the purposes enumerated. There is nothing which indicates that individuals must secure licenses or permits. If this were not the proper interpretation, the execution of the statute would be impracticable and almost impossible.

"Second.—The permits or licenses provided for by the act are to be issued by the Mayor and City Council. The most convenient and appropriate method of doing this would, in my opinion, be for the City Council to pass an order substantially in the form annexed, marked 'A.' The licensing clerk could then issue permits in the form marked 'B.'"

I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That amateur athletic outdoor sports or games on the Lord's Day between the hours of two and six in the afternoon be and they hereby are permitted and licensed upon every parcel of privately owned land within the limits of the City of Boston of which a description is filed by the owner or lessee or their legal representatives in the office of the Mayor of the City of Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

NEW POLICE STATION, DIVISION 2.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 22, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Several years ago the City of Boston acquired as a site for a new station house for Police Division 2 the parcel of land at the corner of Arch street and Hawley place, at a cost of $135,000. Until recently war conditions made it inadvisable to attempt to build a new station house on this site.

Last fall I talked with the Police Commissioner about a new building for Division 2. There is no doubt that it is badly needed. When we were about to make definite arrangements for the construction of the building the city received a very favorable offer for the Arch street property. I immediately began looking about for another site equally suitable for the location of the new building. Such a site was found in the parcel of land at the corner of Milk and Sears streets. I brought the proposed new site to the attention of the Police Commissioner and he stated that for his purposes it was more desirable than the Arch street property for several reasons. In the first place, the property on Milk street is larger. This is an advantage, for it is now the intention of the Police Commissioner to house in the new building, which will have two separate sets of quarters, the regular force assigned to Police Division 2 and also the new traffic squad, which is now a separate unit. In addition, the building located on the property on Milk street would have better means of approach and egress for motor vehicles than the property on Arch street. There is still another factor which makes the Milk street site even more desirable than the Arch street property. The former can be purchased for its assessed valuation of $89,000. The latter can be sold for not less than its purchase price of $135,000 and probably for more. In other words, not only will the city acquire in the Milk street site a location more desirable for the new station house for Police Division 2, in the opinion of the Police Commissioner, but a saving will be effected for the city of at least $45,000 in the cost of the land.

Yesterday I received a letter from the Police Commissioner urging immediate action on the station for Division 2. As his remarks are particularly pertinent to the general question presented in this communication, I am attaching a copy of his letter for your information.

On March 29 the owners of the Milk street property notified me that their offer would die on April 1. In the hope, however, that the City Council would see the wisdom of permitting the city to acquire the new site in place of the property at Arch street and Hawley place, I secured an extension of the time limit on the offer until April 10. Inasmuch as it is obvious that the majority of the members of the City Council are favorable to the new location, I have again secured an extension of the time limit on the offer of the property on Milk street to April 30, 1920, and I am now recommending to the City Council the immediate passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston, Police Department,

Office of the Commissioner, April 21, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—As your Honor recollects, on April 10, 1919, over a year ago, I forwarded to you a letter relating to the building of a new police station and the remodeling of others, accompanied by an exhaustive report made by a committee which I appointed on March 6 of that year for that purpose. In that letter I pointed out that Station 2 called for immediate action, and in the report there was shown that the station was built in 1850 and remodeled in 1893 to accommodate sixty officers, and there were at that time 125 officers in the house; there are now 110. I pointed out to your Honor that neither the cells nor the sanitary conditions complied with the rules of the State Board of Health. The report clearly substantiated the fact that Station 2 was inadequate and unfit.

The building housing this division is located in Court square at its junction with City Hall avenue and is a three-story affair with a slated pitch roof, of second-class construction; that is to say, it has exterior brick walls, but the floor, roof and partition construction throughout is of wood—a fire menace—for many years a type of building construction prohibited in the downtown district. On the first floor are located the booking office, guardroom, captain's office and the records, neither conveniently arranged nor of proper size. There are no sanitary arrangements on this floor. There are seven small rooms on the second floor and six small rooms on the third floor, used for sleeping quarters for the men. The plumbing fixtures for all the sleeping rooms are a shock to one's sense of moral decency, both in number and type, venting directly into the sleeping quarters on all floors. In the attic space under the rafters of a leaky roof, with hardly headroom enough to stand upright, are eighteen beds in almost continuous use—a foul smelling sweat box at all times during warm weather and at all times wholly unfit for the purpose for which we have been compelled to use it. In the basement, 6 feet below ground, are ten small cells, each with a plank bunk board about 20 inches wide and hardly long enough for a 6-foot prisoner, with about 20 inches of clear space between the bunk board and the wall to stand in. Each cell contains a block type wood cover water-closet without vents and the whole cell room lacks even the suspicion of a proper system of ventilation. The heating plant is in City Hall and the heating coils for the cell room are on the walls opposite the cells. Either the Board of Health or the Building Commissioner would be absolutely justified and be well within the law in prohibiting the further use of this building for police purposes.

At the time I forwarded the report the city owned land on Hawley street which it had acquired for the purpose of constructing a new building, and on December 15, 1919, you wrote me, asking me to consider approving the sale of the land on Hawley street and purchasing in place thereof a location on the corner of Sears and Milk streets. You based your request largely on the ground of a financial benefit to the city. I made examination of the property at Sears and Milk streets and found it to be an adequate and a proper site and therefore wrote your Honor on December 17 as follows:

"If your Honor cares to dispose of the Hawley street property so that there will be no delay in the construction of a new Station 2, I favor the purchase. My great concern is that we should immediately have a new Station 2 as the present station is absolutely unfit for occupancy as a police station."

Your Honor replied on December 23, advising me that immediate steps would be taken to secure the property at the corner of Milk and Sears streets and to dispose of the Hawley street property, and your Honor said:

"Of course, the latter probably will not be sold until the Milk street location has been secured."

Apparently the present situation is that we are no nearer a new Station 2 and the intolerable conditions still obtain. I must, therefore, call to your Honor's attention section 8 of chapter 291 of the Acts of the year 1906, and to that part of section 8 where it says:

"The City of Boston shall provide all such accommodations for the police of said city as said police commissioner may require."

and I notify you again under said chapter and section that as Police Commissioner I require a new and adequate police station for Division 2, and I much prefer the Milk and Sears streets site to the Hawley street site because it will be possible to construct a building there which will not only adequately house Division 2 but the traffic squad and the officers of the property clerk. It will also be possible to construct such a building on that site as will provide a suitable drill hall and a revolver range.

Very respectfully,

E. U. CURTIS,

Police Commissioner for the City of Boston.

Ordered, That the sum of $89,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated for the purchase of a new site for Police Station 2, the same to be met from the unappropriated cash remaining in the treasury January 31, 1920.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

VETO—J TNEY LICENSE, HYDE PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 14, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the application of the Hyde Park Motor Lines, Inc., for a license to operate motor vehicles in the City of Boston for the purpose of carrying passengers over the routes mentioned in the application, for the following reasons:

I have had several conferences with the representatives of the trustees of the Elevated and the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company in an endeavor to solve the transportation problem in the Hyde Park district, and the trustees of the two roads are now working on some arrangement under which the Boston Elevated will operate the lines of the Eastern Massachusetts. It is essential that nothing should be done which might in any way impede any arrangements which the two roads are making, for, after all, a permanent solution of the transportation problem in Hyde Park is the result which we all desire to see achieved.

Apparently with this in mind the Hyde Park Board of Trade has written to me as follows:

"It is the unanimous opinion of the Hyde Park Board of Trade and of the Special Committee of Fifteen that it would be most unwise to grant any license to jitneys in this district at present. We trust you will not approve any such application as our people are a unit for Elevated service in this district."

It is obvious that were a jitney company allowed to begin operations in Hyde Park the transportation problem in that district might be further complicated.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

VETO—CITY TAKING FOR TAXES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the ordinance passed by the City Council on April 5 providing that "From and after the date of the passage of this ordinance the City Collector shall exercise the power of taking to enforce the lien for taxes."

This year I have petitioned the General Court to grant the City of Boston a tax limit of $11.52 for the fiscal year 1921-22. I understand that the committee to which the bill was committed will probably report in favor of a tax limit of $11.

The budget for this year amounts to $22,945,000. There is no reason to believe that there is the slightest possibility of a budget of a less amount being submitted for the next fiscal year, that is, 1921-22.

Next year, however, it will be necessary to provide for the present rate of salaries for twelve months, provision having been made for them for only ten months this year. The additional sum for the extra two months will be $375,000. The operation of the sliding scale in the Police and Fire Departments will make it necessary to provide $150,000 more next year than this year. It will, therefore, be necessary to provide $525,000 more for salaries in the budget of 1921-22 than in this year's budget. In other words, the smallest possible budget upon which we can figure for 1921-22 will be approximately $23,470,000.

If the city is given a tax limit, as requested by me, of $11.52, we will have available, including general revenue, the sum of $22,168,000, or $1,302,000 less than our budget estimates. If the Legislature grants us a tax limit of only $11 we will face a deficit of approximately $2,000,000. It is therefore obvious to even the most casual observer that every effort must be made to aid the City Collector in closing the fiscal year with a large surplus, and it is equally important that the collector's task should be made no more difficult than it is at present.

It is by no means certain that the collector will be able to provide the city with a surplus either of $2,000,000 or of $1,302,000. If such a surplus is not provided at the end of the fiscal year, it will be necessary for the city to curtail its service and there will be a consequent necessity of discharging city employees.

I know of no more effective way of hindering the collector in his task of gathering the city taxes than to force him to take property to enforce the lien for taxes. Any curtailment of the collector's power means a decrease in the efficiency and effectiveness of his collections. This is so obvious that it needs no elaboration.

The collector needs every facility that the law now gives him and I have no hesitancy in stating that were the law to be changed as the City Council now suggests there would not be the slightest possibility of the city treasury showing a surplus at the close of the next fiscal year.

Without a substantial surplus material cuts would have to be made in the service which the city renders to its citizens. Numbers of city employees who would thus be deprived of their opportunity for employment would necessarily have to be discharged. Although the City Council has seen fit to recommend a course which would bring about such an unfortunate condition, I cannot convince myself that such action would be a fair one either to city employees or to the taxpayers at large.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

BOSTON, May 3, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing crushed stone, screenings, pea stone and dust opened at this office under date of April 21, 1920. I respectfully recommend that the contracts be awarded to the lowest bidder in each district with the following explanation:

In the Brighton district I respectfully request permission to award the contract to the Beatty Construction Company. I understand from the Commissioner of Public Works that this company has rendered very satisfactory service in the past.

In the Dorchester and Ashmont district, I would request permission to award the contract to William J. Barry, whose price is the same as two of his competitors, the Rowe Contracting Company and the West Roxbury Trap Rock Company, for the reason that both the Rowe Contracting Company and the West Roxbury Trap Rock Company are low in one district other than Dorchester and Ashmont while William J. Barry is low in this district only.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

On May 3 to the bidders indicated in the following communication and schedule of bids, for furnishing bank gravel and sand during current year:

BOSTON, April 27, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing bank gravel and sand to various districts of the City of Boston during the present year, which were opened at this office under date of April 21, 1920.

I respectfully request that the contracts be awarded to the lowest bidders in each district with the following explanation: D. M. Biggs & Co. submitted the lowest bid in the South Boston, East Boston, Charlestown, Dorchester and Ashmont, Roxbury, City Proper, District 8, City Proper, District 10, and Hyde Park, but subsequent to the opening of these bids I received a letter from this concern stating that they would be unable to furnish me the material bid upon in all the districts in which they were low, and requesting that they be awarded the contract for furnishing bank gravel and sand in the South Boston, Dorchester, Roxbury, City Proper, District 8, and Hyde Park districts, and stating that they would be unable to take care of the remainder of the districts in which they were the lowest bidder. It is my intention to retain the check for $500 submitted with this bid as a penalty for such failure and to award the discarded districts, viz.: East Boston, Charlestown and District 10, City Proper, to A. DeStefano, the second lowest bidder in these districts, and also to make an award to D. M. Biggs & Co. of the districts which they have informed me they are able to handle, viz.: South Boston, Dorchester and Ashmont, Roxbury, District 8, City Proper, and Hyde Park.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

On May 5 to bidders indicated in following communication and schedule of bids for furnishing hay, grain and straw during month of May:

BOSTON, May 4, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing hay, grain and straw to the various departments of the city during the month of May, which were publicly opened and read at this office under date of April 29, 1920. I respectfully recommend that the contracts be awarded to the lowest bidder in each district as indicated on the attached sheet, with the following explanation:

In the proposal submitted to this department by Landy Brothers the district bid upon was Roxbury, but in the duplicate copy submitted to the City Auditor the district bid upon appears as the city proper. As this mistake on the part of Landy Brothers would have the effect of throwing out their bid for either district, I have been obliged to award the contract for oats, shorts and corn to the Whittemore Company.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

On April 30 to the Racine Rubber Company for three months' supply of pneumatic tires, as per following communication:

BOSTON, April 22, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request that I be permitted to enter into a contract, and purchase, without advertising, from the Racine Rubber Company, three months' supply of pneumatic tires for the Fire Department, prices to be based on the list prior to March 8, 1920. On March 8, 1920, a new price list was adopted by all tire companies, which had the effect of raising prices from 14½ per cent to 17½ per cent. The total amount of this contract will approximate five thousand nine hundred and seventy-eight dollars and thirty-two cents ($5,978.32).

I also request permission to enter into a contract and purchase, without advertising, solid tires in accordance with list shown in the Fire Commissioner's letter of April 10, 1920. These tires to be purchased from the Goodrich Sales Company and Snow, Coombs & McBeath. Total amount of the contract for solid tires will be approximately three thousand four hundred and twenty-four dollars and eighty-eight cents ($3,424.88), to be divided between the two companies named in this paragraph.

The Racine tire mentioned in paragraph 1 has been in use in the Fire Department for the last six years and is very satisfactory. The Goodrich and Firestone tires are pressed on tight and have given very good satisfaction.

In view of the fact that the Racine and Goodrich tires are to be paid for on the old price list, I believe that it is to the best interests of the city to enter into contracts for three months' supply.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

On May 4 to Joseph Breck & Sons Corporation, as per following communication:

BOSTON, April 30, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request authority to enter into a contract, and purchase, without advertising, from Joseph Breck & Sons Corporation, one (1) model "H" walk type motor lawn mower 30 inches, at four hundred dollars ($400), and one (1) model "J" motor lawn mower, at fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500). This last mower to be as manufactured by the Coldwell Lawn Mower Company of Newburgh, N. Y.

A bid was received from the Philadelphia Lawn Mower Company amounting to fifteen hundred and twenty-five dollars ($1,525). The bids were referred to the chairman of the Park and Recreation Commission, who states that the Philadelphia riding mower has not been used to any great extent and is a lighter mower, and built with less strength than other motors of that type.

The chairman of the Park and Recreation Commission recommends that the bid of Joseph Breck & Sons Corporation be accepted, with which recommendation I concur.

Attached hereto is letter from the chairman of the Park and Recreation Commission.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

On May 4 to the Kelly-Springfield Motor Truck Company, as per following communication:

BOSTON, April 30, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request authority to enter into a contract, and purchase without advertising, from the Kelly-Springfield Motor Truck Company, one (1) one and one-half ton motor truck at twenty-three hundred and ten dollars ($2,310) for use in the Sealing of Weights and Measures Department.

The Sealer of Weights and Measures received the following bids:

Northway motor truck, $3,400; Mack truck, $2,930.55; White truck, $3,154.25 G. M. C., Buick truck, $2,714.50; Federal 6 M. C., Buick truck, $2,714.50; Federal truck, $2,681.75; Kelly-Springfield truck, $2,310; Stewart truck, $1,975; Wilson truck, $2,632.80; Commerce truck, $1,700. All prices are net; an allowance being made for old Kelly-Springfield truck.

The Sealer of Weights and Measures recommended both the Federal and Kelly-Springfield trucks, saying that the Federal Truck Company, while somewhat higher in the net price propose making monthly inspections and free repairs for a year, whereas, the Kelly-Springfield Truck Company will make monthly inspections for a year, but will not guarantee to fix any parts that break beyond three months after delivery. Inasmuch as I believe that any defect in workmanship or material will develop within three months after the truck is delivered, I recommend that the Kelly-Springfield truck be purchased at twenty-three hundred and ten dollars ($2,310).

Attached hereto is letter from the Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

STATEMENT OF MAYOR PETERS
ON "WAGE PROBLEM" OF MOTORMEN AND CONDUCTORS
OF THE BOSTON
ELEVATED RAILWAY COM-PANY.

BOSTON, May 3, 1920.

MR. H. WARE BARNUM, General Counsel,
Boston Elevated Railway Company:

DEAR SIR,—Absence from the office for several days because of illness has prevented my making an earlier reply to your letter of April 26, suggesting that you will be glad to put in the records of the hearing on the demands of the motormen and conductors of the Elevated any evidence which I may desire to present and which seems material to the issues, providing such evidence is presented to you before the company's case is closed. I note your request that I furnish you with a statement of the present salaries and hours of firemen, school teachers, and any other class of persons on the pay roll whose wages or salaries would seem to furnish some criterion for determining the proper wage for the street car employee.

Since the time that the daily papers carried the announcement of the demands of the motormen and conductors I have been considering the propriety of writing to the Elevated in order to lay before the trustees certain facts which should be considered by any Board which might be appointed to pass upon the demands of the employees. The facts that I have in mind have not, I fear, been given proper consideration in the past, and if they are not considered at this time a grave injustice will again be done the citizens of Boston as a whole.

I believe it may safely be said that the public interest is predominant in industrial disputes, especially in the case of public utilities, and it is my duty as Mayor to defend the public interest. This observation is the more readily applicable to the case at hand, for any deficit in the operation of the Elevated must be met by the cities and towns which it serves. The demands of the carmen cannot therefore be considered as an isolated unit; they must rather be treated as only a part of a question in its relation to the whole. Increased compensation to motormen and conductors in the Elevated system at the present time will certainly react most unfavorably, not only on the industrial situation in Boston but on the citizens as a unit.

I wish it distinctly understood that I am in no way attempting to abrogate the right of the workingman to better his condition when such an endeavor on his part may achieve success without injustice being done to other workmen. In short, the recognition of a right cannot and must not mean the failure to recognize other equally important rights. Therefore, as the chief executive of the city, I feel it my duty, as well as my responsibility, to impress upon the Arbitration Board the fact that the interest of the public at large is paramount, and if this interest is served that of the carmen cannot suffer. I write this letter only after the most deliberate consideration, for I appreciate that my action is not only unusual, but almost without precedent, and for that reason I have made absolutely certain of my ground before proceeding.

In the case of thousands of city employees it would be very difficult to compare their duties and terms of employment with those of the carmen of the Elevated. On the other hand, there are certain groups of city employees whose compensation and conditions of public employment are such that the comparison with the work and compensation of the carmen would be justified. I have in mind four groups: policemen, firemen, mechanics and laborers.

Both in the Police and Fire Departments privates are on the same salary basis. They enter the service at $1,400 per annum and progress $100 a year for four years until they reach the maximum of $1,800. The motormen and conductors, on the other hand, need work only one year before the maximum is reached. Therefore, on a daily wage basis we find the salary schedule over a period of four years as follows:

	Police and Firemen.	Motormen and Conductors.
First year.....	$3 83	$4 00-$4 40
Second year.....	4 11	4 80
Third year.....	4 38	4 80
Fourth year.....	4 66	4 80
Fifth year and after.....	4 93	4 80

The police receive one day off in eight and they receive no overtime. Firemen receive one day off in three and it should be remembered that practically all of the two days they are on duty must be spent at the fire house. Both receive two weeks' vacation without loss of pay.

I believe, and I think it is generally admitted, that the firemen and police are receiving a fair compensation for the work performed. I have no hesitation in stating most emphatically that I believe it is the opinion of the majority of our citizens, and I believe this opinion is sound, that the duties and the responsibility of the firemen and police are greater than those of the motormen and conductors, and without any reflection on the Elevated's carmen, I think it may fairly be admitted that the police and fire departments demand a higher average of competency than is required of the motormen and conductors. The conclusion is obvious. The firemen and police are receiving a fair compensation for the work performed; their responsibilities are greater than those of the conductors and motormen, the Police and Fire Departments requiring a higher average of competency; therefore, any increase in the salary of carmen, which would automatically yield them a higher salary than the police and firemen, is not only unwarranted, but it would work an injustice to certain municipal employees.

The only other two classes in the city employees which are susceptible to comparison are the mechanics and laborers. In the new budget mechanics are receiving $4.50 and $5 a day, the greater portion receiving $4.50. The laborers are now receiving $4 per day. The terms of their employment give them two weeks' vacation without loss of pay. No overtime is paid, time off being given to offset overtime.

It would be very difficult to attempt to compare the salaries of teachers with those of motormen and conductors for there are far too many groups. I am, however, submitting with this letter a schedule showing the new salaries for teachers as fixed by the School Committee and a copy of the new budget as recently passed. These, I believe, will give you the information you desire.

It must be generally admitted that where one class of employees receives increases out of all proportion to increases which have been granted to a great many classes of public or quasi-public employees, a disastrous disturbance of industrial conditions must result. I make this observation for I wish to refer very briefly to the increases which have been granted to motormen and conductors during the past ten years.

I have before me a statement showing the rates of wages for motormen and conductors during the past thirty-two years. In January, 1910, the hourly rate was fixed at 23 cents. This has gradually risen, until in July of last year the hourly rate, after one year of service, was fixed at 60 cents, an increase in ten years of more than 150 per cent. Certainly no corresponding increase has been granted to other public employees.

The Boston Elevated is not in what could be termed a prosperous condition. I believe I voice the sentiments of a great majority of our citizens when I say that it would be most unmoral to grant any increase to the employees of the Elevated were it by any possibility to cause a deficit in the Elevated's finances. Under such conditions the primary consideration is the great public.

The Elevated carmen are at the present time receiving a good wage, and, I say this only after the most mature deliberation, they should not receive any additional compensation until they have shown themselves worth more by causing the Elevated to show an increased earning capacity. They must not forget that they are part and parcel of the Elevated System. They have it in their power to increase or decrease the earning capacity of the company through an improved service to the public. Until they give the public a service which enables the Elevated to show a greater earning power, they are not entitled to a higher wage, and not until that time should they be given increased compensation. This is a doctrine which I believe has been too much disregarded in the past and it cannot be over-emphasized at the present time.

I feel so strongly on one point that I hope you will pardon my apparent reiteration. I am convinced that the time has passed when industrial disputes, particularly these affecting public utilities, can be settled without reference to the effect that such settlements may have on the public as a whole. Arbitration boards in the past have been prone to lose sight of the large questions of public policy which may be involved, and certain groups of employees have been inclined to take this same attitude in pressing their demands. The time has come when we can no longer shut our eyes to the fact that employees of public service corporations should enforce their rights only as far as they do not conflict with or encroach upon the greater rights of the public. I hope that the Arbitration Board will have this fact in mind at all times, and will not lose sight of the fact that the motormen and conductors received an exceedingly liberal increase last summer. The members of the Arbitration Board are invested with a public trust, and I feel certain that no personal prejudice will prevail in their decision, and that they will make their decision purely in the interest of the public, for, after all, the best interest of the public as a whole is the only insurance of the welfare of individual groups of employees.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor.

HIGH PRESSURE FIRE SERVICE. CONTRACTS SIGNED FOR ITS OPERATION.

Mayor Peters announced May 7 that contracts between the City of Boston and the Boston Elevated Railway Company and the Edison Electric Illuminating Company for pumping stations for the high pressure service, has been signed, thus insuring the actual operation within a few months, of the service which for the past eight years has seemed to the general public the most elusive public improvement of all time.

The pumping station to be operated by the Elevated will be located in their Lincoln Power Station at Commercial and Battery streets and this one will be in operation in about six months. It will consist of two steam turbine driven multi-stage centrifugal pumps of a capacity of 3,000 gallons per minute each and 300 pounds pressure, with three independent sources of water supply, one from the domestic low service system, one from the high service system and one from salt water.

The Edison Company will operate two pumping stations. One at its plant on Atlantic avenue opposite Pearl street and one on Stuart street near Berkeley street. The equipment at the former plant will consist of:

(a.) Two electrically driven multi-stage centrifugal pumps of a capacity of 3,000 gallons each at 300 pounds pressure, with three sources of supply as at Lincoln Power Station and with room available for the installation of a third 3,000 gallon unit. In addition to a very safe and conservative system of feed wires supplying current to this station, there is available on the premises a large storage battery for emergency use that would provide for the operation of these pumps over almost any conservative emergency period.

And at the latter plant:

(b.) Two electrically-driven multi-stage centrifugal pumps of a capacity of 3,000 gallons per minute each, at 300 pounds pressure, supplied with water from two sources, namely, high and low service. The supply of electricity for the motors is safeguarded in a most conservative manner and, in addition, a large storage battery is available on the premises.

The original layout of the high pressure fire system when the loan of $1,000,000 was authorized by chapter 312 of the Acts of 1911, consisted of a central pumping station on Boston Common, with 12.8 miles of piping. Immediately following the passage of this act, a detailed study for construction showed that the mileage of the system should be increased to 14.5 miles, owing to the adoption of the duplex system in the gridiron. The proposed location of a pumping station in the North End and the location of one of the three present proposed stations on Stuart street has caused a further increase in length of piping, so that the total number of miles in the gridiron will be 18.6 of which amount one half, or 9.3 miles, is laid, equipped with 262 hydrants. This piping has been thoroughly tested and is in perfect condition.

The installation of four pumps which it is proposed to make this year will furnish 12,000 gallons per minute at 300 pounds pressure, or approximately 18,000 gallons per minute at 200 pounds pressure, which is at least as high a pressure as will be maintained in actual operation. When the Stuart Street Station is put in operation, approximately 9,000 gallons per minute will be available at 200 pounds pressure, and when the two extra units are added at Lincoln Power Station and at the Edison Station on Atlantic avenue, the total capacity of the system will be 24,000 gallons per minute at 300 pounds pressure, or approximately 36,000 gallons per minute at 200 pounds pressure.

The location of the three separate stations is a decided advantage in that any serious accident at any one of the stations would not prevent the operation of the balance of the system.

The need of a high pressure fire system for the City of Boston has been urged for many years by fire insurance underwriters and property owners in order to provide additional fire service and reduce the risk from conflagrations.

In 1899 Boston established the first high pressure fire service in any of the eastern cities. The service consisted of a mile of 12-inch underground pipe with hydrants. The water was supplied by connections made at the waterfront with the fireboats which pumped salt water directly into the pipe line. This system supplied only a small section of the city and was held in reserve to be used in case of large fires.

The further increase of hazardous conditions in Boston resulted in a public movement for the installation of a modern high pressure fire system which would be sufficient to meet the needs of Boston. The system advocated was to consist of a pumping station or stations supplying both fresh and salt water under pressure to the hydrants and of sufficient capacity to protect the high valued and congested district of the city.

In 1911, as the result of this movement, a bill was introduced into the Legislature and passed (chapter 312, Acts of 1911), which authorized the city to construct such a system. It was stated at that time that while the installation of the system would be expensive, eventually there would be a large saving to the taxpayers because of the lesser insurance rates in the business district and the further fact that the values would be increased in the center of the city because of the erection of larger buildings.

The contracts for valves, hydrants and castings were awarded prior to February, 1914; the contract for pipe was awarded in June, 1912, and the contract for the installation of electric pumps was awarded

January 30, 1914. The contract for pumps was broken. (See statement hereafter made.)

When Mayor Peters assumed office approximately seven years had elapsed since the act of the Legislature had been passed which empowered the city to install a high pressure fire service.

Three years should have been ample time to have installed the system. Yet no practical advancement had been made in seven years towards its installation except the laying of a portion of the pipe lines required. The pipes in question to a great extent were improperly laid, full of leaks and generally defective. No definite site was picked out for the pumping station or stations. The construction of the motor engines and pumps which were to be installed in the stations had not even been commenced. This was due in part to the fact that the men responsible for the inspection of the construction on the pipe lines and the other work necessary for the installation of the system were not allowed to properly supervise the work.

The defective method of installing the pipes is best illustrated by the fact that the joints leaked so badly that the greater portion of the system was useless. In correcting these defects caused by leaks the best that could be done was to compel the contractors to caulk the pipe joints so as to reduce the leakage to two gallons per lineal foot of lead pipe joint per twenty-four hours. Contrast this condition with the laying of pipes under Mayor Peters' administration. The pipes have been so well laid that there has only been a leakage of less than one half a gallon per lineal foot of lead pipe joint per twenty-four hours. In addition to the lack of proper supervision being responsible for the condition in which Mayor Peters found the high pressure system, was the further fact that no definite location had been picked out for the pumping station. Approximately eleven different locations were considered. The following are seven of the most important locations considered.

1. The Charles River Basin, on the southwesterly side of Cambridge Bridge.
2. Boston Common, near Soldiers' Monument.
3. Boston Common, near Charles street.
4. Public Garden, near Charles street.
5. Underground station in Charles street, between Common and Public Garden.
6. The Charlesbank Playground, westerly of the Cambridge Bridge.
7. Fort Point Channel.

Of the above seven locations some of them were actually decided upon as suitable and the plans for the pumping stations and pipe laying were prepared accordingly. A different location being decided upon later brought about a change in the plans and necessitated in some instances the payment of considerable sums for damages because of changes and new plans.

The dilatoriness which marked the installation of the high pressure system during the administration of the predecessor of Mayor Peters is shown from the fact that in Baltimore the high pressure system was begun September 16, 1909, and completed April 23, 1912. The high pressure system in the city of Toronto was installed in four years and in Winnipeg in two years.

The high pressure system when completed will do away with the necessity of using fire apparatus such as motor pumps, steam engines, etc., at fires in that section of the city where the system is installed. The Fire Department will use instead high pressure wagons which will be hose wagons, run by motor, and equipped with approximately two thousand feet of hose, the greater portion of it being three inches in diameter. The department is about to contract for three high pressure wagons, modelled in such a way as to have the best features of the high pressure wagons used in New York, Baltimore and other cities.

With the installation of the system, both as regards the stations, pipes, hydrants and new apparatus, the Fire Department should be in a position to minimize the extreme hazard now existing in Boston of a conflagration and so improve the fire service as to materially reduce the fire risk.

I find that the Public Health Service is now using Eastern Avenue Wharf under an agreement made between Commissioner Bates and the United States Public Health Service at the rate of $50 per month.

Subject to your approval I shall agree to furnish wharfage facilities at the same rate, from June 30, 1920, to June 30, 1921. May I have an immediate reply as the proposal must be received by the Health Service before noon, Monday, May 3.

Executive approval, April 30.

WAGES OF CITY EMPLOYEES WHO SERVED IN THE WAR.MAYOR'S OFFICE,
BOSTON, April 27, 1920.

To the Heads of Departments:

GENTLEMEN,—I have approved the acceptance by the city of chapter 235 of Acts of 1920 whereby municipal employees who served in the World War, whether they enlisted or were drafted, will be entitled to receive the difference between their military and their municipal pay during the period of their respective service.

To give effect to this just and beneficial act, it becomes necessary for the heads of departments to prepare and submit to the City Auditor a list of the employees in their respective departments who are affected by the provisions of this act and who have not hitherto received the difference in compensation due them.

You will therefore prepare and forward to the City Auditor such list as soon as possible.

To facilitate payments under the act, employees should be informed that it will be necessary for them to furnish the City Auditor full proof of their respective claims by proper affidavits, stating the amount of compensation received while in the service, including aid to dependents, the amounts and dates of any increases in pay, the branch of service, the date of their entry into service and their discharge therefrom, and any other pertinent information.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

REPAIRS ON STEAMER "GEORGE A. HIBBARD."

BOSTON, April 27, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—On March 24 I wrote you relative to repairs to the steamer "George A. Hibbard" and you approved of the trustees contracting with the George Lawley & Sons Corporation for complete overhauling and repairs at a cost not to exceed $5,000.

Upon receiving the boat at their yard, it was discovered that the condensor, which was repaired last year, and which it was assumed had been retubed, was in extremely bad condition; that it was necessary to replace a number of the tubes and that the cost would be somewhat in excess of the original estimate of $5,000.

I wrote you about the condition of the condensor and suggested that you have the Finance Commission investigate the performance of last year's contract. I have talked with Mr. Emerson, engineer for the Finance Commission, and I am informed by him that the cost of retubing the condensor alone might be approximately $1,500.

The Lawley Company has agreed to do this work and make other repairs necessary but are obliged to increase their estimate to not more than $5,500, for which amount the contract is drawn.

Trusting that this may meet with your approval.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS C. O'BRIEN,

Chairman.

Executive approval, April 30, 1920.

by him by being struck by a Boston police patrol automobile in East Boston, on the first day of this year.

I have had the Law Department make a most careful investigation of all the facts in the case, and I am convinced that Mr. Webber is entitled panying orders.

Respectfully yours,

MARKET LICENSES FOR FARMERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 3, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a report of the Superintendent of Markets in connection with the public markets established in Boston under the provisions of chapter 119 of the General Acts of 1915, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order designed to carry out the excellent suggestions embodied in the report of the Superintendent of Markets.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Market Department, April 17, 1920.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Public markets were established in Boston under the Statutes of 1915, chapter 119, for the first time. Farmers were allowed to come from any part of Massachusetts and sell direct to the consumer. It was a new undertaking and a hardship at the time to convince the farmers that it was of benefit to them as well as to the consumer.

During the years 1917, 1918, 1919, the markets were a success both to the farmers and buying public. Every city in the state that operates public markets places a charge upon the farmers, with the exception of the City of Boston.

The city of Cambridge during the year 1919 received a revenue of $2,800 for markets two days a week. All the cities in Massachusetts paid overhead expenses.

Boston markets have the indorsements of the Commissioner of the Necessaries of Life, and also the State Board of Agriculture, whose former secretary informed the deputy superintendent that a charge should be placed on all farmers, as that was the intention of the Statutes of 1915.

The deputy superintendent has talked this matter over with the farmers and they have agreed to pay. It would be a good idea to pay the expenses. It is our intention to open two more markets, one in Mattapan and one in Hyde Park, which will make a total of eight markets. I therefore most respectfully desire your Honor's approval to charge 50 cents per day to each farmer, the same to be turned over to the City Collector on the following date.

Yours respectfully,

PATRICK J. MCGOURTHY, Superintendent.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Markets is hereby authorized to establish, subject to the approval of the Mayor, reasonable fees or charges for the issuance of permits and licenses to farmers and other persons for the use of the public market places now and hereafter provided and maintained under the provisions of chapter 119 of the General Acts of 1915.

On May 11 to bidders indicated in following communication and schedule of bids for furnishing bank gravel and sand to various departments:

BOSTON, May 7, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing bank gravel and sand to various departments of the City of Boston during the present year, which were publicly opened and read at this office on April 21, 1920.

The D. M. Biggs Company, the lowest bidder in South Boston, East Boston, Charlestown, Dorchester, Roxbury, City Proper, District 8, City Proper, District 10, and Hyde Park, under date of April 21, 1920, wrote me to the effect that although they were low on these eight districts they would be unable to take care of but five of the districts named. On receipt of this information I notified D. M. Biggs Company that it was my intention to retain their check for $500, submitted with this bid, as a penalty for such failure, and at the same time I awarded the discarded districts, viz.: East Boston, Charlestown and District 10, City Proper, to A. DeStephane, the second lowest bidder in these districts, and agreed to allow D. M. Biggs Company to retain contracts for the districts which he stated he could handle. Under date of May 6 Mr. Biggs personally informed me that he would not accept the contract for the districts which he stated in his letter of April 21 he would be able to handle adequately.

In view of these circumstances I respectfully request permission to award the eight districts in which D. M. Biggs Company was originally the lowest bidder as follows: South Boston, East Boston, City Proper, District 10, and Charlestown to A. DeStephane, the second lowest bidder in these districts; to award the Dorchester and Roxbury districts to George H. Noone, the second lowest bidder in these districts; to award the City Proper, District 8, to Thomas Joseph McCue, the second lowest bidder in this district, and to award the Hyde Park district to George H. Noone, the second lowest bidder.

The awards in the other districts I respectfully request permission to award to the lowest bidder as indicated on the attached list.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising therefor, to furnish one (1) Ford touring car and five (5) Ford runabouts to the Weights and Measures Department. All the recognized Ford dealers in the City of Boston were canvassed for bids on these machines, and the prices submitted were identical in every respect, both for the new cars and for the exchange value of the old machines.

In view of the fact that the Mattapan Square Garage has guaranteed this office delivery of the cars within eight (8) days, which is a better delivery than can be made by any of the other Ford agents, I respectfully ask permission to place this contract with the Mattapan Square Garage.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

One Ford Touring Car.—Burnett & Sherman, $769.50, less $205 allowance on 1916 Ford touring car; Mattapan Square Garage, LaLime & Partridge, and Snow, Coombs & McBeath bid the same.

Five Ford Runabouts.—Burnett & Sherman, $743.50 each, $3,717.50; less allowance on 1915 roadster, $155; less allowance on 1916 roadster, $360, total allowance, $515, making a total cost of $3,202.50; Mattapan Square Garage, LaLime & Partridge, and Snow, Coombs & McBeath bid the same.

On May 13 to the Coastwise Coal Company as per following communication and schedule of bids:

BOSTON, May 7, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Authority is respectfully requested to award a contract, without requesting proposals therefor by advertising, to the Coastwise Coal Company, for furnishing approximately 1,000 tons of semi-bituminous, low volatile coal, same to be delivered alongside the Cow Pasture pumping station and South Ferry, at a price of $13 per gross ton.

In view of the fact that this department has been unable to secure satisfactory bids for their yearly requirements of semi-bituminous coal and also because the departments named above are in immediate need of this coal, prices were secured from various coal dealers, as per the attached list.

In explanation of the price submitted by the Coastwise Coal Company, $13 per ton, and the price submitted by the New England Coal & Coke Company, $12.95 per ton, would state that the coal bid upon by the Coastwise Coal Company is a low volatile coal, while the grade of coal which the New England Coal & Coke Company bid upon is the high volatile coal, the use of which would prove far more expensive to the city because of its higher volatility.

In accordance with the information outlined above, I respectfully request that the authority asked be granted.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

One lighter for Cow Pasture, and one lighter for ferries, approximately 1,000 tons.

New England Coal & Coke Company, $12.95, alongside, high volatile (Pennsylvania); Maritime Coal Company, $14.25, New River, no coal; Burton-Furber, no bid; Logan Coal Company, $15 (Pennsylvania); Northern Coal Company, no coal; C. H. Sprague, no coal; Casterer, Curran & Bullett, $13.25 (Pennsylvania); Coastwise Coal Company, $13, alongside, low volatile (Pennsylvania).

On May 13 to Walker H. Morton Corporation, as per following communication:

BOSTON, May 8, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Walker H. Morton Corporation, for installing a 25-55 horse power four-cylinder Model F-M used Sterling engine in the launch "Watercrest" now in use by the Water Service, Public Works Department, for the sum of $1,200. A new engine of this type would cost $2,800. In view of the fact that the engine to be installed is a very high grade machine and also considering the fact that the cost of repairs necessary to put the old engine in good condition, will be approximately $800, I respectfully request that the permission asked for be granted. We are attaching a letter from Mr. McInnes, Division Engineer of the Sewer Service, regarding this award.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

On May 13 to the Boston Woven Hose Rubber Company, as per following communication and schedule of bids:

BOSTON, May 12, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I attach hereto a list of bids received on 2,000 feet of 2½-inch twoply double jacket woven hose, in accordance with Boston Fire Department standard specifications. I respectfully request authority to enter into a contract, without advertising, with the Boston Woven Hose Rubber Company, whose bid is $1.07½ per foot. This is the highest bid, but the time for delivery is shortest, viz., ten days. This recommendation is made in view of the Fire Commissioner's letter of May 5 in which he says that reserve supply of hose is very small and the demand for new hose at this time is very large in view of the fact that the Fire Department is making their annual inspection of hose and find quite an amount of defective hose.

When the bids were sent out dealers were informed that delivery would be an important factor and the bidders were urged to state the shortest possible time in which delivery could be made.

I attach hereto letter from the Fire Commissioner dated May 5 in which he requests that I obtain from your Honor authority to purchase, without advertising, 2,000 feet of Fire Department standard specification hose.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Warren Brothers Company, 142

Berkeley street, city proper, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance, but by the abutters, and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

Commissioner of Public Works.

Executive approval, May 13.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION.

TREE PLANTING IN PUBLIC STREETS.

STREET LAYING-OUT DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, May 10, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your letter of April 29 last, in the matter of tree planting, I beg to say that this Board agrees with you that it would be desirable to adopt the policy of planting a certain number of trees each year in public streets.

This department's part in the matter would be to mark on plans of streets to be laid out, widened or extended, places where trees might be set out. Mr. Shea, chairman of the Board of Park and Recreation Commissioners, thinks these markings ought to be about forty feet apart and that the space to be indicated for the trees ought to be about four feet in diameter. Places so marked could be passed over by the Public Works Department, leaving them free from either the brick or granolithic used in sidewalk construction. It would then be easy to dig for tree planting, no damage would be done to the sidewalk, and the expense would be slight.

Henceforth, in the making of plans for highway improvements, this policy will be followed.

Very truly yours,

JOHN J. O'CALLAGHAN,
Chairman.

TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE FRANKLIN UNION.

BOSTON, May 10, 1920.

THE FRANKLIN FOUNDATION,
Boston, Mass.:

GENTLEMEN,—In accordance with Article III. of the By-Laws, I beg leave to submit the following report:

A SCHOOL FOR THE MANY AS WELL AS THE FEW.

The standing and reputation of a school is often rated by the severity of its educational requirements. The more severe and exacting its requirements, the smaller the number of its graduates, and the larger the number of its students who are dropped by the wayside, the higher the standing of the school. It is fitting and desirable that each community should maintain schools of higher standing for the few who excel in brains and ability. It is equally fitting, however, that opportunity for training should be offered the many who lack the means or the ability to utilize the higher courses of training. Franklin Union is endeavoring to fit directly the needs of men and women in industry. The school is distinctly a product of modern times organized to meet present day conditions. Its sole tradition is Franklin's vision of universal helpfulness. It encourages attendance for two, three and four year evening courses leading to certificates, but it also offers a large number of courses of three and six months' duration. It trains the exceptional man for the exceptional job, but it also offers the most elementary technical instruction to the man of modest mental and industrial preparation. Graduates of colleges and engineering schools continue to find its training useful, and, likewise, men who have not mastered long division continue to find classes suited to their particular needs.

HONEST EVENING INSTRUCTION A RECOGNIZED FACTOR IN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT.

It is inevitable that evening classes must always be cramped for time. It seems impossible to adequately cover the prescribed subjects within the evenings available. There is ever present the risk of criticism that courses appear superficial, particularly if they are short. In evening training, however, the seemingly impossible is accomplished. The intense earnestness of the ambitious evening student is unequalled in day school or college. The knowledge acquired at night may be said to sink in, and to take root during the day. The evening course deals with essentials and omits much of the superfluous subject matter usually included in day programs. The mature man or woman, though slow to grasp new truths, outspeeds youth in applying the knowledge acquired to industrial problems. Thus it naturally follows that the results of hard, enthusiastic evening study appear to fully warrant the introduction of short, practical, flexible courses of training such as are included in the Franklin Union program, courses which may appear superficial when compared with traditional day studies, but which are proving a constant source of encouragement and satisfaction to both students and teachers. Criticism of evening courses is kept alive by the misleading claims and exaggerated statements, which too often creep into the advertising matter of otherwise reputable institutions. If the course of study is honestly and truthfully advertised, and honestly conducted, be it ever so humble, it may hold a place of distinct utility and value in fitting men and women for greater usefulness.

A RECORD YEAR.

The registration of twenty-nine hundred and twenty-seven ($2,927) different individuals is 40 per cent in excess of the largest previous registration which occurred in 1917. The enrollment of twenty-one hundred and seventy-seven (2,177) in the regular evening classes alone, exceeds that of the entire school in any previous year. The demands for instruction have exceeded the limits of Franklin Union space and Franklin Union finances. In spite of the organization of Saturday evening classes, thus utilizing the building for instruction every weekday evening, it was necessary to turn away several hundred men from the courses in Electricity, Mathematics and Automobile Engines. During the entire twelve months Franklin Union has had in continuous day training between three hundred and fifty and four hundred and fifty disabled soldiers and sailors, assigned by the Federal Board for Vocational Education. This work has utilized all the available space in the Franklin Union Building and also nearly the entire Parker Memorial Building across Appleton street. Two special afternoon classes in automobile ignition have been conducted for the Boston Fire Department. During the day the building has provided quarters for nearly six hundred second-year English High School students. When account is taken of the use of the plant by the New England Watchmakers, the Experimental Engineers, the Wireless Club, the City Collector's Department, and some two-score other organizations, there appears to be some justification to the claim that this is the most used school building in the state.

FUNDS URGENTLY NEEDED.

Franklin Union illustrates the all too common condition of an institution with a magnificent plant, an unprecedented and increasing opportunity for usefulness, and a meagre and almost negligible income from endowment. The Franklin Fund (first portion) was available only for the building and equipment. The Carnegie donation provides less than twenty-two thousand six hundred dollars ($22,600) per year for maintenance. Except for Mr. Carnegie's gift, not one cent has ever been given for maintenance, and yet there is probably no public charity in or around Boston which brings greater return to the community for each dollar invested. The registration fees charged for instruction are designedly merely nominal and do not begin to pay the cost of the training offered. The school is conducted with the most rigid economy consistent with high grade instruction. It is to be hoped that in the no distant future there may be those who will include The Franklin Foundation in the list of their benefactions and will thus make possible the full utilization of the unique institution which owes its origin to Benjamin Franklin and its present development to Andrew Carnegie.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER B. RUSSELL,
Director.

EMERGENCY HOUSING REPORT ISSUED BY BOSTON RENT AND HOUSING COMMITTEE.

The Rent and Housing Committee has been in existence since the end of March. During this brief period it has held many conferences, the object of which was:

1. To take such steps as may be necessary to relieve the present distress caused by housing shortage.
2. To determine to what extent Boston is in need of dwellings.
3. To co-operate with the city government and any other public authority or with any person or body of persons in the formation of a plan for the relief of the housing shortage.

CASES ADJUSTED.

The committee from the outset has been called upon to act as a Board to adjust difficulties arising between landlord and tenant. It has made a preliminary report of cases brought to its attention and herewith submits a second report of cases brought up to date.

Rent adjustments.....	95
Rent increase not unreasonable.....	55
Tenant and owner to adjust.....	40
No rent increase until repairs are made.....	9
Extension granted on vacate notices.....	83
Extension impossible to grant on vacate notices.....	16
Referred to Board of Health.....	15
Referred to Police Department.....	2
Referred to other cities.....	17
Referred to Legal Aid Society.....	3
Information asked by tenants for future action.....	23
Adjusted at State House.....	2
Vacate notices illegal.....	2
Requests to hold notice of complaint.....	10
Miscellaneous.....	21
Pending in court.....	3
Disposed of by tenant.....	9
Total.....	405

A rough idea of housing needs may be gained from the following figures submitted by the Building Department upon dwellings suited to three families or less.

HOUSE BUILDING STOPPED.

In the thirty-year period from 1885 to 1914 the number of such new dwellings constructed was 33,464, or an average of 1,116 per year.

A five-year average on these figures is 5,580 dwellings.

A five-year average from 1910 to 1914 was 4,630. A similar five-year average from 1914 to 1919 was 2,300.

In 1915 there were 952. In 1916 there were 923. In 1917 there were 281. In 1918 there were 24 and in 1919 there were 120.

A total of 3,280 buildings would have to be erected if the total number of buildings erected during the last five years were to be made to equal a five-year average of the thirty-year period ending with 1914. In other words, such new construction would call for an increase of a little over 140 per cent of the total for the last five years.

A comparison of the number of houses built for dwelling house purposes with other types of construction shows in the past ten years a striking increase in favor of business construction.

During the thirty-year period from 1885 to 1914 the number of manufacturing, mercantile, office and theater buildings constructed averaged 48 per year. During the past ten years the average per year for these buildings, including moving picture houses, is 109.4.

The average for the past five years is 142.5 per year. To state the matter in another way, much capital needed for dwelling houses is obviously being placed in some kind of business blocks.

NATURE OF SHORTAGE.

The study of housing shortage is supplemented by the observations of this committee upon the more precise nature of the shortage. It was stated at one of the earlier conferences of the committee that there were a large number of vacant houses in the city. The figures contained in the yearly reports of the Board of Assessors showed these vacancies to be as follows:

1915.....	2,171
1916.....	2,336
1917.....	2,726
1918.....	2,473
1919.....	1,917

The number of vacant houses reported to the committee for 1920 by Mr. Edward T. Kelly, Chairman of the Board and a member of this committee, is 2,000.

FEW VACANT TENEMENTS.

Very little information could be had at the outset as to the availability of these houses. So the committee opened the list to the public for what it might be worth, but proceeded forthwith to obtain as much additional information as possible. A questionnaire was therefore mailed to the supposed owners, asking detailed statements as to accommodations, condition of property and amount of rental. To 1,400 letters already mailed the committee has received 470 replies. These replies are largely from Charlestown, the South End and South Boston. All but 100 indicate that the accommodations are meagre and that the average monthly rental is $12. In 100 cases the owners stated that the property would not be repaired or was beyond repair.

THESE NOT SERVICEABLE.

The failure of a little over 60 per cent of these supposed owners to answer the questionnaire indicates that there is not much to be said in favor of the availability of the balance of the 1,400 dwellings. Additional addresses are being covered by the questionnaire.

The $12 average rental is considerably below the rentals which are raising difficult questions between landlord and tenant. The controversies apply to rentals somewhere between $18 and $40. Tenants paying a rental lower than $18 have presented few cases for the consideration of the committee.

It seems fair to assume from these figures that distress arising from an increase in the lower level of rentals has been partly met by the crowding of those unable to pay higher rents. This crowding would have been greater were it not for the ability of many families through higher wages to seek more attractive accommodations.

COMPETITION IN HIGHER RENTALS.

There has been a consequent pressure upon the moderate upper level of rentals which are paid nominally by relying on investment income or tenants engaged in professions or business, where the increases in wages has been less marked. This tendency has also proceeded towards the level of higher rentals.

The result of this pressure coupled with the demand among tenants in the higher rental areas for adequate housing has caused among such tenants keen competition for housing and a great deal of distress and anxiety. While longer study would reveal a more varied story of conditions at this point we are of opinion that the persons who are now suffering most from the housing shortage are those who ordinarily pay from $25 to $50 a month rental.

To this group of rent payers must be added a group who pay in excess of $50 per month ordinarily and whose wants are now beginning to be manifested to the committee.

REDEEMING OLD PROPERTY.

The tendency shown in the above figures caused the committee soon after its formation to consider the plan of redeeming houses whose owners through lack of capital had found it unprofitable to do the work. This plan comprehended the laying out of certain areas in various parts of the city where a group of houses might be made attractive and an undesirable neighborhood made desirable.

Several studies of house changes were prepared with this end in view. Such improvement has already been done in one instance through private initiative.

This of course is only a small part of the housing problem and is involved with the difficulty of overcoming natural objections on the part of rent payers to live in a part of town far from the locality where they really desire to live. Besides, such improvements cannot be made without dispossessing tenants.

THE IMMEDIATE NEED.

We do not think the problem is exactly like the one frequently encountered in providing homes for factory operatives, although it undoubtedly includes such a problem.

The immediate need is for the construction of houses with a rental value per family of $40 to $50 a month.

The second need is for cheaper houses which would be attractive to smaller wage earners and be serviceable in days to come when lower wages drive many wage earners from high priced to cheaper apartments.

We think his Honor the Mayor has proceeded correctly in calling together a meeting of men prominent in banking, business and finance for a consideration of the problem.

We feel that there should soon be made available several millions of dollars to be devoted to the purposes above outlined.

Boston has not an exceptional housing crisis. Other large cities have it even to a greater degree. So great has been the menace of the housing shortage in New York and Chicago that several practical housing projects financed on a grand scale are already under way in those cities and elsewhere.

FINANCIAL PROBLEM.

This twofold need should be studied by a financial organization which can advance at a reasonable rate of interest as much as 80 per cent of the full value of land and building and give the purchaser twelve years or more to pay the amount of his loan.

Another way would be to advance most of the loan as a second mortgage, allowing the saving bank to take the first mortgage.

A convenient form of contract might be found in a long time lease, at the end of which if all payments shall be made the property is to be conveyed.

It will be noted that in one of the Chicago plans the monthly payment includes not merely interest and payment on principal, but a life insurance policy securing to the family a deed of the house without further payment in event of death of the purchaser, a fire insurance policy and a health and accident policy. This form of contract would have to be authorized by legislation.

STATE HOUSING COMMISSION.

We think it important that the Legislature should not prorogue without providing for a housing commission to make an adequate survey of the situation not only in Boston but throughout the state, and that its findings and recommendations be reported to the next General Court. This commission would prove of great value to any housing organization like the one herein proposed for immediate consideration of the legislative needs of housing.

ANTI-PROFITEERING LEGISLATION.

There is need of immediate legislation to curb rent profiteering and unjust summary process. Time has been insufficient for a satisfactory study of the difficult legal questions involved. Nevertheless it is our opinion, based upon the cases presented, that such a profiteering bill should provide that all rental property, owing to the severe housing crisis, is affected with a public interest and that rents, charges and other terms shall be fair and reasonable, based upon a fair cash value on the investment. Rules should be established for the ascertainment of this fair cash value. What is fair and reasonable should be left to the discretion of the Board or commission to which the case is brought, and there should be a right of appeal. Inasmuch as the measure is clearly to cover an emergency it should perhaps be limited as to time.

Such Board or commission might have the unqualified right to require sixty-day notices to quit instead of the present thirty-day notices.

In ejectment proceedings the court should have the right to grant a maximum stay of six months.

Constitutional objections will be raised against this measure as against any profiteering measure. But we believe that a law intended to cover the field of these recommendations would go before the court with the support of very strong public opinion.

THE QUEST FOR NEW SOURCES OF REVENUE IN AMERICAN CITIES.

By A. C. HANFORD, SECRETARY TO THE COMMITTEE ON NEW SOURCES OF REVENUE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

Within the last few years practically every large city in the United States has been confronted with the serious problem of devising new sources of revenue to meet the increased costs of material and wages and to offset the loss of income formerly obtained from liquor licenses. The City of Boston prior to 1919 derived over $1,000,000 per year from liquor licenses, while Chicago's proceeds from this source were over $7,000,000 annually and those of New York about $6,500,000. A recent report issued by the comptroller of the city of Chicago points out that between the years 1913 and 1919 there was an increase of over 87 per cent in the cost of machinery and other supplies purchased by the city and of over 67 per cent in the cost of fuel and power. As an indication of the way in which the costs of material have risen in Boston we may take the case of iron pipe used by the Water Division which has increased from $32.74 per ton in 1916 to $75 per ton in 1920, or a jump of over 125 per cent in four years.

In order to find out what is being done elsewhere to recoup the above-mentioned losses and to meet the need for new sources of revenue, letters have been sent to public officials and civic organizations in practically all of the larger cities. The replies received to date indicate that the following plans have been resorted to in the various communities:

1. Increase in the general property tax.
2. Assessment of property at higher values.
3. Increases in existing license fees and the establishment of new license fees for occupations and callings not already subject to regulation.
4. Miscellaneous sources such as rental fees for underground areaways and sub-surface structures; excises on the sale of gasoline at filling stations; wheel taxes on vehicles, etc.
5. Adoption of occupation and business taxes.

THE GENERAL PROPERTY TAX AND INCREASED ASSESSMENTS.

Whenever additional revenue is required by a municipality, the line of least resistance is to increase the rate of the general property tax or to raise the assessed value of property. This course is followed especially in cities where property is assessed much below its actual value. Replies from officials in a few cities such as Philadelphia and Providence indicate that the tax rate has been increased or that such a policy is under consideration in order to provide additional revenue, while in St. Louis it is stated that the "greatest source of revenue is obtained by increasing the valuation of real estate."

In most communities, however, property is already bearing the greater share of the burden of taxation. A recent report of the United States Bureau of the Census shows that in the ten largest cities of the country taxes on property produce from 56 to 73 per cent of the total revenue receipts. The tendency, therefore, in a majority of places has been to look to miscellaneous sources of revenue rather than increased taxation of real estate as the proper solution of the problem.

LICENSE FEES AS SOURCES OF ADDITIONAL REVENUE.

What have been the most important sources other than the general property tax to which cities have resorted in their quest for new revenue? In a number of places there has been a movement to increase the fees for ordinary regulatory licenses such as those for theatres, pawn-brokers, auctioneers, advertising signs, the storage and sale of explosives and so on. Such licenses and permits are issued primarily for the purposes of regulation and the charges are intended to cover merely the cost of administration and inspection; incidentally, however, they produce a considerable revenue in many cases. Among the more important cities that have extended their licensing systems within the last few years are Chicago, New York, St. Paul, Syracuse and New Haven. Other cities having a similar policy under consideration are Detroit and Toledo.

Chicago has perhaps gone further than any of these cities in adding to her present list of licenses. On January 5, 1920, a resolution was adopted by the City Council directing the committee on judiciary to prepare ordinances providing for the licensing of a number of occupations, professions and industries, as for example: Automobile agencies; billboards; signs; railroad and steamship agencies; osteopaths; opticians; physicians; dentists; architects; photographers; wholesale bakers; brick yards; hotels; fruit and vegetable dealers; retail and wholesale confectioners; warehouses; commission merchants; vending machines and some forty-four other businesses. In line with this general policy the Chicago city council has passed a series of ordinances providing for the licensing of numerous occupations and enterprises which have not been subject to license in the past. Ordinances have also been adopted increasing materially some of the fees for licenses already in existence such as those for livery stables which have been raised from $15 to $100, and those for theaters in which the minimum has been changed from $1,000 to $1,500 per year. Thus it would seem that the city of Chicago is moving in the direction of the licensing of practically all businesses and occupations as a means of producing additional revenue.

New York City during the last four or five years has widened her licensing system and has also centralized the issuing of licenses in a single department instead of scattering the work among six different offices as was formerly the practice. Among the newer licenses and permits in New York are those covering advertising signs, sub-surface areas and vehicles. An interesting feature of the system in that city is the rather elaborate schedule of permits for the manufacture, storage and sale of explosives and combustibles. The fees for such permits vary from $1 to $300 per year according to amount; and in 1919 the proceeds from this source were over $250,000. In Boston a permit for the storage, sale or transportation of explosives costs only $1 per year regardless of the amount.

MISCELLANEOUS SOURCES OF NEW REVENUE.

A review of the situation in cities other than those already mentioned shows that all kinds of miscellaneous sources are being looked to as methods of producing additional income. St. Louis has adopted an excise of $\frac{1}{2}$ cent per gallon on gasoline sold at filling stations, while Detroit has a similar plan under consideration. In Detroit and Toledo the establishment of rental fees for all areaways under the streets has been proposed.

A source of revenue which is attracting considerable interest in several cities is a wheel tax under which an annual charge is levied on all vehicles as compensation for the wear and tear upon the city's streets. Such a system is not at all novel and has been in operation for several years in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Mo., Duluth, Minn., Omaha, Neb., and other places. In Chicago the tax varies from \$5 per year for a one-horse vehicle to \$30 for a motor truck. During the year 1919 over \$1,300,000, or approximately $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of the total receipts of the city of Chicago, were derived from this source. The use of these funds is limited by ordinance and statute to street improvements and repairs.

OCCUPATION OR BUSINESS TAXES.

A few cities, however, have felt that it was necessary to go further than an extension of their ordinary regulatory licenses and have adopted rather complete systems of business or occupation taxes, levying excises upon practically all enterprises, occupations and callings carried on within the city. The justification for this plan of taxation lies in the fact that business is responsible in a large measure for the expenses of city government, especially in the way of police and fire protection, the administration of justice, street improvements and so on. In fact it is alleged that the expenses of government in a modern metropolitan city bear a more direct relationship to the volume of business carried on therein than to the assessed valuation of real property. It is also claimed that such a system would distribute the tax burden more equitably throughout the community and also stimulate greater interest in municipal government than does the present arrangement under which a comparatively few property owners pay the greater part of the taxes.

Business or occupation taxes have been imposed in southern cities from the earliest times and statistics compiled by the United States Bureau of the Census indicate that there are eleven cities of over 30,000 population which obtain more than ten per cent of their annual income from this source. Within the last year or two several northern cities have adopted occupation taxes, the most important of these being Los Angeles, Cincinnati, San Francisco and Reading, Pa. Of these places, San Francisco and Reading have taken such steps during the last thirty days (i. e., during April, 1920).

LOS ANGELES BUSINESS TAX.

Among the various ordinances that have been reviewed to date that of Los Angeles is the most complete and far-reaching. This ordinance levies a license tax on approximately 350 various classes of businesses, occupations and callings, all of which are carefully enumerated. The list includes advertising; billposting; the distribution of hand-bills and advertising samples; amusement parks; auctioneering; automobile stations and garages; ticket agencies; barber shops; baseball exhibitions; bowling alleys; pool rooms; vending machines; boxing and wrestling exhibitions; wholesale and retail business of all kinds; theaters and concert halls; business schools and colleges; undertakers; attorneys; architects; dentists; and professional occupations of all descriptions except clergymen.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President MORIARTY in the chair and all the members present.

APPROPRIATION FOR SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 7, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Supplies in which he requests an additional appropriation, which is necessary to effect a reorganization in his department. I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Supply Department, May 6, 1920.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully recommend that an appropriation of eleven thousand eight dollars and thirty cents ($11,008.30) be secured to enable the Supply Department to reorganize. This appropriation will be expended as follows:

	Per Year.	Per Week.	Total.
A-1. 5 clerks.....	$1,200	$23 01	$4,256 85
2 stenographers, 1,300		24 93	1,844 82
1 stenographer.....	1,200	23 01	851 37
1 weigher and inspector....	1,600	30 68	1,135 16

(Thirty-seven weeks from May 14, 1920, to February 1, 1921.)

B-2. Postage.....	$250 00
B-27. Testing materials and supplies....	2,500 00
C-9. Office equipment, 2 new typewriters.....	170 10

If this amount is allowed the Supply Department, it is my intention to reorganize the department into five (5) sections, as follows:

- (a.) Chief clerk's section.
- (b.) Requisition section.
- (c.) Order section.
- (d.) Record section.
- (e.) Contract section.

This reorganization will facilitate the procuring of supplies for the city. It will enable me to keep a proper record of prices, and it will furnish an inspector and weigher of meats and food products. It will put the Supply Department on an efficient basis. The department is now very much undermanned; it cannot do any more than to keep up with the requisitions which are received here from day to day. Very important data relative to purchases cannot be obtained because of the small working force.

Respectfully yours,
G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $11,008.30, to the appropriation for Supply Department, A-1, Permanent Employees, Clerks, 5 at $1,200 per year, $4,256.85; Stenographers, 2 at $1,300 per year, $1,844.82; stenographer, 1 at $1,200 per year, $851.37; Weigher and Inspector, 1 at $1,600 per year, $1,135.16; B-2, Postage, $250; B-27, Testing Materials and Supplies, $2,500; C-9, Office, $170.10.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PUBLIC BATHS, OLD STATION 6 BUILDING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 7, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—In accordance with the request of the City Council on April 26 the Superintendent of Public Buildings has prepared an estimate of the cost of establishing suitable public baths in the old Station 6 building, South Boston. This report I am herewith transmitting.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department, May 6, 1920.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Replying to an order of the City Council under date of April 26, 1920, that the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested through your Honor to submit an estimate to the City Council of the cost of establishing suitable public baths in the old Station No. 6 building, South Boston, I respectfully submit the following:

The building is poorly arranged for changing over into bathing facilities without considerable expense as the greater portion of the first floor would have to be removed and be replaced by iron beams and reinforced concrete. Also, the removal of the old brick cells (three tiers high) and continuing the first and second floors through to the rear wall would be necessary.

This would give a floor area of approximately two thousand square feet, which would provide accommodations for waiting room, attendants' room, thirty-two showers and forty clothes lockers on first floor. The basement would require the grade to be lowered one foot, after which a granolithic floor would have to be installed. This space would then provide for heating apparatus, hot water tanks, etc.

The cost can only be made approximately as there are no scale drawings to show the work more definitely.

The following list will show the estimated cost:

Iron beams and reinforced concrete slabs.....	$13,935 00
Excavating and removing present cells, Thirty-five showers (slates and fixtures) at $200.....	7,000 00
Asphalt floor (mastic) at $3 per yard..	6,000 00
Plastering.....	2,500 00
Electric work and fixtures.....	2,250 00
Water heater and tank.....	750 00
Plumbing and fixtures.....	3,000 00
Carpentry.....	4,500 00
Heating.....	1,500 00
Masonry.....	1,200 00
Painting.....	750 00
Architects' fee.....	4,518 00
Total.....	$49,703 00

Respectfully yours,

FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REPAIR OF ASHLAND STREET BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 7, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a communication just received from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to the appropriation for the repair of the Ashland Street Bridge, West Roxbury, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, May 4, 1920.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

On March 3 an inspection of the Ashland Street Bridge, West Roxbury, over the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, was made by representatives of the Public Service Commission, the Boston Elevated Railway Company and this department, and the report of the bridge engineer of the Public Service Commission stated, "In several places the webs of the girders are rusted through and some of the shelf angles also are considerably corroded. The bridge as a whole is in such a condition that it ought to be replaced in the immediate future, and until it is replaced I recommend that the loads passing over it be restricted to a 25-ton box car.

This work should be done this year, and it would be advisable to start as soon as possible in order to complete it before winter. An order has been passed by the Public Service Commission for the alteration of this bridge in accordance with plans prepared by this department, and the Corporation Counsel advises that the city could properly go ahead with the reconstruction of the bridge without prejudicing its rights in any way in the matter of appointment of the cost.

The cost of reconstructing this bridge might properly be taken out of a loan if such money is available, or, if not, it should be granted in the form of a special appropriation. The amount required is $65,000.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That the sum of $65,000 be and hereby is appropriated for the reconstruction of Ashland Street Bridge, the same to be met from the unappropriated cash remaining in the treasury January 31, 1920.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

HOUSING FACILITIES FOR BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 7, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a communication received from Frederic H. Fay, acting chairman of the City Planning Board. As it is self-explanatory, there is no need for me to comment on it, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City Planning Board,
Boston, April 14, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Pursuant to an order passed by the City Council at its meeting March 8, 1920, i. e., "Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consult with the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Boston Real Estate Exchange, the Master Builders' Association, the Boston Central Labor Union, and any other organization that he may consider advisable, and examine into the feasibility of forming a corporation of public spirited citizens who will undertake and finance the project of providing housing facilities for the great number of people in this city who are not properly provided for," which was referred to this Board by virtue of the provisions of the legislative act in accordance with which it was created, specifying that one of its duties shall be to "make plans for the development of the municipality, with special reference to the proper housing of its people," several conferences on the subject have been held in this office.

These conferences have been attended by representatives of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, Boston Real Estate Exchange, United Improvement Association, Boston Society of Architects, Boston Society of Landscape Architects, Boston Society of Civil Engineers, Master Builders' Association, Central Labor Union, Catholic Charitable Bureau, Federated Jewish Charities, Women's Municipal League, Commission on Necessaries of Life, Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League, Boston Housing Association, Committee on Rents and Housing, Associated Industries of Massachusetts, Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce, as well as representatives from various city departments in a position to co-operate in the work.

While it is the consensus of opinion that a housing shortage exists which is not likely to be met by the investment of private capital, the exact nature and extent of this shortage has never been determined. It was the sense of these meetings that the only way this information could be definitely and accurately secured was by a survey of the industrial plants, and of the other large employers of labor, within the city limits, or adjacent thereto. This would mean the assembling in each case of information as to whether there was a scarcity of houses among their employees, the average or approximate rental basis, general information with regard to size and price of vacant areas in the vicinity, the attitude of the employer with regard to assisting in financing a housing scheme should one be considered feasible, and other data of a similar nature. This would put the matter on a definite basis and clear the way for concrete action should the results indicate such a course to be justifiable and necessary.

It was also the sense of the meeting that the city as a municipality should undertake and finance this next step as outlined. It is estimated that a survey of this sort, necessitating the employment of investigators, the defrayal of traveling expenses, postage, stationery, and general office expense, would involve an expenditure not to exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000). Considerable information has been already assembled by the City Planning Board which would, of course, be made available, and all further assistance possible would be rendered. The Associated Industries of Massachusetts have furnished a list of all Boston members affiliated with its organization, and placed its complete file of prospective members at the disposal of the committee. In fact every organization represented has expressed a willingness and a desire to be of service in the movement.

In the meantime a committee has been organized, composed of the acting chairman of the City Planning Board as a chairman and one representative from each of the organizations thus far called together, to carry the movement forward until such time as the definite facts indicated above are assembled.

If the appropriation suggested is made available the work will be immediately begun. While the more flagrant cases of rent profiteering are being met at the present time by the Committee on Rents and Housing, there is a demand beyond that for houses for private ownership on the part of the people able and willing to pay for accommodations if such can be made available. This situation is daily becoming acute, and with the return of vacationists in the fall, conditions may readily assume the proportions of a panic. The same conditions prevail in practically every city throughout the country, and a movement similar to what is indicated above is on foot in Worcester, Holyoke, Bridgeport, Portland, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Pittsburgh, New York, and many other communities.

Respectfully yours,
FREDERIC H. FAY,
Acting Chairman, City Planning Board.

Ordered, That the City Planning Board be authorized to incur expenditures not exceeding two thousand dollars ($2,000) to meet the necessary expenses in connection with the investigation of housing conditions, said expenditures to be charged to the appropriation for Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

VETO—RESOLVE CONCERNING VETERANS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 6, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the following resolve passed by the City Council on April 26, 1920:

"Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation to provide that John J. Cronin and others, veterans of the World War, may be reinstated in their former positions in the Fire Department of the City of Boston."

The facts in the case seem to be as follows:

John J. Cronin was appointed to the Fire Department April 30, 1910, and resigned June 23, 1913, to enter the Police Department. Mr. Cronin resigned from the Fire Department to better his own condition. He left the Police Department September 9, 1919, and was one of the striking policemen whose positions were declared vacant by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth. He served in the navy during the World War.

Under the heading, "Others, Veterans of the World War" who, under this order may be reinstated, are approximately twenty-nine men in addition to Mr. Cronin, made up as follows:

Fourteen striking policemen who left the Fire Department to better their condition and joined the Police Department, some of them as far back as April, 1910. (One of these men joined the Metropolitan Park Police.)

Twelve men who resigned at various times to follow a more profitable employment.

Two men who were pensioned.

One man who was dishonorably discharged.

The present Fire Commissioner, with my approval, has made it a rule in accepting resignations of men who left the department to better their condition, that they should not be reinstated. In addition, both the Fire Commissioner and myself are on public record to the effect that all appointments in the Fire Department shall be made from the veterans on the qualified list of the Civil Service Commission.

At the present time there are 240 veterans on the civil service list awaiting appointment to the Fire Department. If the veterans for whose benefit the present resolve was offered in the City Council are reinstated, the names of the 240 veterans on the list of the Civil Service Commission will remain on the list, as the number of appointments for the coming year will be very small as only vacancies will be filled. As between the veterans on the qualified civil service list and the 29 veterans who resigned from the Fire Department to better their condition, many of them years ago, there can be but one choice, namely, that the present policy of the Fire Department should be maintained, and that all appointments to the force should be made from the veterans on the qualified list of the Civil Service Commission.

The men in whose interest the present resolve was introduced are at liberty to take the civil service examination as was done by the 240 veterans who are now on the qualified list. Were I to approve of the passage of a law such as the resolution in question advocates, I should be guilty of an act of injustice to the 240 veterans who have passed the examination and are now on the qualified civil service list awaiting appointment to the Fire Department. No right-thinking man should advocate such a course on my part.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

10. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for expenditure of $2,000 by City Planning Board for investigation of housing conditions—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, I hesitate to again take the floor at this hour, but at the same time I feel called upon to say a word on the order before us for consideration. I would not do so if it were not for the fact that it seems to be rather the fashion or the fad to criticize the City Council for dilatory tactics and to question the capability of the various members of the Council, individually and collectively. I am one of the members of the Council who is always eager for constructive criticism. I am always open, or try to be, to advice and council of any man whose opinion I respect upon any matter that may be before us for consideration. But, Mr. President, it seems hardly fair, when the Council does something of a constructive nature that it should have whatever little glory, credit, approbation, or whatever you may desire to term it, stolen away from it and thrust upon some other noble brow. Last Thursday or Friday I was rather astounded to see the news columns of papers in the City of Boston to the effect that the Mayor of Boston had solved the housing situation from which we are all now suffering, claiming credit for the program he has developed, or claims to have developed, in giving out his news to the various reporters in City Hall. On top of that, I have an editorial in my hand here from this morning's Post, and I will just take a moment or two to read a few lines from it. It says:

"Dwellings are so much needed that the Mayor is doing just what might be expected of a vigilant official strictly on his job. There should be the heartiest co-operation in putting his plans across."

I was so astounded that I had the members of the City Planning Board sent for, to find out just what part the Mayor did take in the program of development. The plan suggested in the past may or may not be the proper panacea to use to correct the evils now existing, but whether so or not, if the plan was a creditable one, credit belongs in two places—first, in the City Council, as a whole, and second, because of the development of the thought, to the City Planning Board. Every member here knows that the Mayor has not suggested one constructive thought on the housing situation in the City of Boston. We have been criticised and condemned as not being a right thinking body or a proper thinking body, but no one whom I have ever yet come across in the entire population of the city has ever accused the Mayor of Boston of thinking at all. I just want to relate the history of this housing situation. On June 23, 1919, nearly one year ago, sir, I filed an order, and the Council passed the order unanimously, calling upon the Mayor of Boston to appoint a committee of public-spirited citizens to see whether or not it was advisable to form a corporation of public-spirited citizens who would use their own moneys to relieve the housing situation. After several months of waiting, nothing being done, although we are supposed to be the dilatory body, I filed another order on February 16, in which I called upon his Honor the Mayor to submit to the Council such material, information or facts as he had pertinent to the forming of that corporation, and asking him whether or not he had done anything relative to the matter. We received on March 1 a statement from his Honor the Mayor, and I am just going to bother you to read it, so that all the glory, pomp and power of this great and wondrous claim of his Honor the Mayor may appear. In a written statement to the Council, February 28, 1920, eight months after the order had passed the Council, he said to the City Council:

"Gentlemen,—I have received the order passed by the City Council on February 16 inquiring what action I have taken on the order passed on June 23, requesting me to examine into the feasibility of providing additional housing facilities.

"On receipt of your order of June 23 I went into this matter at some length. It appeared to me that it would be unwise for me to attempt to conduct any investigation in this matter as there seemed to be no legal way in which the city could provide additional housing facilities.

"I took the matter up with the Corporation Counsel and my opinion in this matter was confirmed, for it is apparent that the circumstances are not such at the present time so as to make it within the legal and constitutional powers of the city government to expend money for the purpose proposed."

Again, the following Monday I re-offered the order and pointed out as clearly as I could that it did not call for an expenditure of money; that the Mayor of Boston could, if he was interested enough, take the initiative after we had given him the opportunity to do so, and form such a public-spirited corporation of citizens of this great city, in line with that order, as might carry out some of this important work. He forwarded the order to the City Planning Board, and the City Planning Board called a meeting. Everybody they sent for responded, with the exception of the Massachusetts

State Bank Association, which refused to answer the call. The members of the Planning Board developed the thought that it would be the proper thing to do to ask his Honor the Mayor to expend the sum of $2,000 for an industrial investigation to find out what the situation that existed really was, or the situation that we claimed to exist. That is the history of it; and we had the spectacle of this Council being condemned on one side and vilified and assailed on the other, ridiculed by men who have not the qualifications to serve in the Council, and yet when it does something of a meritorious nature having somebody come along and steal it over night, while we are accused of dilatory tactics. How apropos it is that this matter comes up today, when Station 2 is being discussed. We are dilatory! We are negligent in the building of a new station house that could be built if the Mayor so desired; but the Mayor of Boston, confronted by a terrible situation, a fearful moral situation, an apparent health situation, delays for one year, Mr. President, to take cognizance of the fact that this situation exists. And not only has he neglected to take advantage of the order as passed by us, but he sent in here a veto of the order, in which he said it would be unwise to look into the housing conditions that every wide-awake, sane, intelligent man knows to exist. The conditions exist in Boston, Mr. President, not in Dover. Look around Boston and see what the conditions are. Dilatory, Mr. Mayor? You are the one that is dilatory. The people of Boston are suffering. They are suffering bodily ills; they are suffering from a terrible moral situation, and it is time that you sent this order to us; but it is also time that the Council and others identified with this movement got some of the credit that belongs to them. I hope the order will pass. I wish the Mayor would make it $20,000. I don't know who woke him up and suggested to him that he send in this order today.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I am going to vote for this order because I think it is a move in the right direction. I do not believe the sum the Mayor is asking for is adequate or sufficient to perhaps carry through the proper sort of investigation; but, as a matter of fact, I don't think, if the Mayor of Boston cared to get the facts, he would need to make much of an investigation, because within thirty minutes of any business day he would find, were he to investigate properly and ask prospective tenants to come to City Hall, that there are thousands of people now unable to get proper housing accommodations. The demand is far greater than the supply. It has encouraged profiteering on the part of landlords, who can get any price they ask for apartments, no matter what the condition of the apartments may be, because people must be housed. The Mayor has seen fit to appoint a housing committee, who are holding investigations. He now sees fit to appoint the City Planning Board to conduct another series of investigations, and I understand that they are going to co-operate and work together. But the fact of the case is that after these investigations are made, taking some weeks and carrying us through the summer months, we will have arrived in the fall at a time when a more acute condition than now exists will be apparent to us, and there will be no houses for people to live in. If the Mayor and his respective committees would see fit to do something in regard to the tax rate as applied to homes in the residential districts of Boston, it might be possible to bring about a condition of affairs that would warrant the prospective capitalists, the man with money, the builder who is willing to build homes, provided he can sell them to advantage, to act. He is not going to build homes at the dictation of the City Council or the Mayor for the express purpose of being a philanthropist and losing some money. A profit must be shown to him, and the profit will never be shown to him when the tax rate is increasing over the years on suburban property in a greater degree than on property in the downtown section. There must be, in the very nature of things, a different order of taxation. I believe that is the solution of the problem—that there should be a zone system of taxation established, so that a flat rate should not be applied to the residential district of South Boston, for instance, and the business district of Tremont street. There are places outside of the business section where property is now taxed away beyond the actual value, while in the downtown district property is taxed away below the selling value. I know of one location on Tremont street where within three weeks the rent has been increased on a store $8,000, and a $10,000 bonus was paid to the agent for the purpose of getting the lease. That is the condition in the downtown district where, in my judgment, the tax rate is inadequate, and where the city is not getting enough revenue. I believe the City of Boston might perhaps go ahead and permit homes to be built within the confines of the City of Boston and do what small cities do when they ask mercantile establishments to build within their confines—allowing them to be tax exempt, if necessary, for a period of a few years. These are the problems with which the Mayor of Boston has to deal, because he happens to be the Mayor, and they are problems that the Mayor of Boston cannot longer continue to delegate to committees he may see fit to appoint, which will dillydally on these matters, the end of their investigations being reports that will be forthcoming to the city government later, but which will not mean that one extra house will be built here in the City of Boston.

The order was passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

11. Report on message of Mayor and communication (referred today) giving estimate of cost of establishing public baths in old Station 6 building, South Boston—that the same be placed on file.

Report accepted; communication placed on file.

12. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred April 26) for appropriation of $89,000 for new site for Police Station 2—that the order ought to pass.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and the rejection of the order.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, on the order just read by the Clerk I intend to vote yes. Nevertheless I am compelled to make statement concerning the same. There has been a great deal of controversy and newspaper publicity emanating from the office of the Mayor to the public and to the Press concerning the dilatory action of the City Council in the matter of improving conditions in the housing of the policemen of Station 2, and always placing the responsibility for the neglect and delay to provide those facilities upon the shoulders of this body. As one member who intends to favor this proposition and as one who has favored every proposition to provide funds for the erection of a building suitable for housing the policemen of Station 2, I desire to say that the preponderance of responsibility for delay in the matter does not lie at the doors of the City Council. I say this without any prejudice whatever, because I believe in a square deal at all times. The preponderance of responsibility in the matter of delay in providing proper accommodations for the policemen of the City of Boston, whether attached to Station 2 or elsewhere—including the West Roxbury station and other stations—can principally be attributed to two factors—one, the suspension of building operations due to the war; the other, the continual shifting of plans and locations by the chief executives in the past and the present. I think it is only fair that his Honor the Mayor, if he has any further controversy or discussion or expresses any opinion concerning the matter of building Station House 2, should place the responsibility where it belongs rather than on the shoulders of this body, placing us in a discredited position before the public in regard to this matter. He knows, I know, every person conversant with the proposition knows, that the delay on the part of the City Council has been of slight moment, meaning less than two or three months at the most, and that the balance of the responsibility of the delay for a year or two belongs elsewhere. I believe in fairness to this body that hereafter in any comment, discussion or interview given by his Honor the Mayor concerning the Police Station 2 matter he should treat this body fairly and squarely, admitting that the delay on the part of the City Council has been very slight as compared with the delays in other quarters.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, I did not think I was going to be compelled to speak on this particular project. However, having been named in the Press of Boston,—in the news columns, editorially and in paid advertisements on the front sheets of some of our papers,—as one of the four members of the body who saw fit to vote against this project, I think I ought properly to say a word pertaining to it. For the last three or four years, to my knowledge, and some two or three years before my entering this body as a member, this proposition has been discussed pro and con by various administrations and by various members of the Council. I want to make it clear that the only motive I have in voting against this proposition today, as I have voted against it in the past, is the fact that I am firmly convinced, sir, that this is not a proper site for a new Police Station 2. No other consideration, as affecting this matter, has ever entered my head, sir. Station 2 has had a site, Mr. President, for the past two or three years. There has been a good deal of dickering and hollering about it, as on all sites. We can never hope, Mr. President, to have a unanimous opinion as to the proper location of any kind of a public building. They tried first to locate it on Tremont street, on the site of the old Penal Institutions building. They again suggested that it be erected on the present site of Station 2, and after the expenditure of $20,000 for plans for development of a new Station 2 the City of Boston saw fit to purchase a site on Hawley street. Everybody connected with the Police Department and everybody in a responsible position in the administration of the affairs of the City of Boston said "Amen!" Mr. President, and thought that the matter was finally settled upon and determined for all time. Then, when the Council had reason to believe that the matter was finally settled, and when it was apparently finally settled, his Honor the Mayor determined that a new site—a different site—was necessary in order to properly take care of the police in this section of Boston; and he picked out, or someone picked out, a site down on Sears street, off Milk street. Members of the Council have in turn debated that pro and con, and a number of us have been named by the Loyal Coalition, sir, as being unfit to serve in this body because of the position we have taken upon that matter. Mr. President, I am not a thin-skinned person. I have met defeat on the floor of great bodies, just as great as this. I am not inclined, either, to turn the other cheek when somebody slaps me on the side of the face. But if ever I cast a justifiable vote in a matter pertaining to the interests of the state or city I have done so in this case, and I have tried to bring into play every ounce of the little intelligence of which I may be in possession in dealing with the matter.

And after all the thought and consideration I have given to the matter I cannot see my way clear to vote for that site and at the same time remain true to the oath of office I took when I became a member of this body. The new site on Sears street is not a proper site for administering the affairs of the Police Department of our city. I don't care what man identified with the department says; it is. I have talked with men of experience, honest and capable men, who have told me that I have voted right, sir, on this matter. I am not apologizing. I have never had to apologize for a vote of mine in any legislative body in which I have yet served. I have tried to perform my duty to the utmost of my ability. I have at least voted conscientiously on every matter that came before me; and I am voting against this, Mr. President, because I believe I am right, sir. In doing so I welcome criticism, if criticism must come. I have no apology to make. I am going to vote against this new site for Police Station 2. This is a great territory covered by this police division of the Boston Police Department. There are innumerable places that the Mayor of Boston can procure for a site for this station. If they desire to find a Hawley street site, well and good, but at least give us something in its place equally good or equally serviceable and we will respond to the call, because we are faithful to the duties that are placed upon us, as faithful to the interests of this city as is his Honor the Mayor. We are here to properly consider and pass upon matters that come before us for consideration, and I stand here now, as I shall always stand, ready to vote conscientiously, fairly and justly upon any matter. But I do not intend to vote wrongfully. When I believe that in voting a certain way on any matter I will be voting the wrong way, I shall certainly not vote that way. So I am going to vote against this order, and I am proud of the fact that I can say to the citizens of this city that I am voting honestly and conscientiously and in the interest of the citizens on this matter.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, in my long experience in this body I have never yet tried to cast aspersions as to unfair motives upon any of my associates because of their votes, and I do not propose to do so now. I assume that every man here is acting in accordance with what he believes to be his duty for the best interests of the city, and conscientiously. I arrogate to no set of men in this Council the exclusive right to act conscientiously. I submit, sir, that my vote on this question is as conscientious as that of any other man and my reasons for voting as I do today are, roughly, as follows. Police Station 2 is and has been a positive disgrace to the City of Boston. The old Station 2 was built approximately in 1850, and for many years it has been unsanitary, a positive menace to the occupants from the standpoint of health, and a veritable firetrap in the midst of the old police district of the City of Boston. Some years ago, when this matter was brought to the attention of the Council, the Council voted money for a new location. That, I believe, was during ex-Mayor Curley's administration. I believed then, and believe now, that the primary duty of the Council is to vote money and not to select sites. That jurisdiction rests primarily and solely, in my opinion, within the powers and duties of the Mayor and the heads of departments. Acting under the recommendation of the then Mayor and his heads of departments, we appropriated money for the construction of a new police station as well as for a site. As was pointed out here, the war came on. No delay had been manifested by the City Council in passing the order. We all agreed and admitted that Station 2 was a disgrace to the city and that there should be a new station in its place. As I remember it, there was a newspaper controversy at the time between the then commissioner, who was a very efficient man, the late Commissioner Stephen O'Meara, and the then Mayor, Hon. James M. Curley, as to the consolidation of Stations 2 and 3 and the formation of one station. This Council had nothing to do with that matter at all. That controversy passed away, and in its place we had an order from the Mayor along the lines I have already suggested. We passed that order, and the money was available for a new station. The war then came on, and no station was built—properly so at the time because, acting under the orders of the United States Government, the City of Boston, along with all other public corporations, was requested to cease building. Matters have now come, however, to the pass where the war has ceased,—since a year ago last November,—and now the demand for a new station is not only justifiable but insistent. What are the facts that we have before us today? The present commissioner, Hon. Edwin U. Curtis, has sent a communication to the Mayor affirming what has been the attitude of every public official in the City of Boston relative to Station 2, and he says in his report, Mr. President:

"If your Honor cares to dispose of the Hawley street property, so that there will be no delay in the construction of a new Station 2, I favor the purchase. My great concern is that we should immediately have a new Station 2, as the present station is absolutely unfit for occupancy as a police station."

He furthermore states:

"I require a new and adequate police station for Division 2, and I much prefer the Milk and Sears street site to the Hawley street site because it will be possible to construct a building there which will not only adequately house Division 2 but the traffic squad and the offices of the property clerk."

Since this matter was discussed in the City Council of a few years ago a new situation has obtained. The traffic squad is now under one head, and the present commissioner says that it is necessary to have a larger building, so as to properly house not only Division 2 but the traffic squad and the offices of the property clerk. He, as the responsible head of that department, states that the Milk street site is superior to the Hawley street site, also. That corroborates and justifies, in my opinion, the Mayor sending in the order he has sent in. From the standpoint of economy this is a good proposition, because the proposed site at Milk street will cost the city only $89,000. The present site on Hawley street cost the city $135,000, and the Mayor is on record before the Council as saying that he can get at least $135,000 for the Hawley street property. Therefore, aside from the cost of construction, there will be a net saving to the city of $46,000 if the Milk street site is obtained; and we have the responsible head of that department, Commissioner Curtis, stating that in his opinion the Milk street site is far superior. Therefore it seems to me, from the standpoint of economy and from the standpoint of efficiency, because it covers larger space, more ground, and a larger building can be constructed, housing not only Division 2 but the traffic squad and the offices of the property clerk, that this order should be passed. On the evidence before me it is very clear to my mind that this is a good proposition for the city on the ground of economy and efficiency, and that also, from the standpoint of the men, the order ought to pass. Therefore I shall vote for it.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, everything that the honorable councilor has maintained as being true was said with equal fervor the last time when the Mayor appeared before the Council. I am not sure that it is going to be so economical to put the new building down there. Nobody has acquainted me with facts that satisfy me that that would be so. I have been informed that three quarters of the money appropriated for Station 2 would have to be sunk into the Milk street site to get a new foundation to construct a decent building upon. But I want to refresh the Council's memory just a bit in this matter. The last time the Mayor came before the Council and asked that this appropriation be passed he said that if the Council failed to pass it he would immediately, forthwith, start building a new Station 2 on the Arch street and Hawley street site. In other words, as I recall his words, he said, "I will, if you pass the order, start building on the first of April on Milk street. If you fail to pass the order, I will start building April 1 on Hawley street." So, in voting against the order, we were not voting against the new Station 2 site. We were in favor of a new Station 2 site, but we preferred to have it on Hawley street; and we had the word of the Mayor of Boston,—and I believe he meant what he said,—which I again quote: "If you pass this order I will start erecting a building on the Milk street site by the first of April; if you fail to pass it I will start building on the Arch and Hawley street site on the first of April." I believed him then, and I feel now that if we vote against this proposition today he can still build on the Arch and Hawley street site. We are in no way interfering with a new Station 2 site. We are just as much interested in the welfare, health and happiness of the police force as any members of this august body. No member can deny that what I have said in quoting the Mayor is true. I ask if there is anybody here who will contradict that statement.

Coun. DONOGHUE in the chair.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I did not think that after coming in here I was going to say a word about this matter, but I do wish to say now that there must be something behind this when the newspapers of Boston are using editorial space in the interests of somebody. I have here an editorial that appeared in the Boston Traveler last Friday night, as follows:

"For at least five years past the question of new housing for Station 2 of the Boston Police Department has been agitated. The structure which is still in use—a small building at the corner of Pie alley and City Hall avenue, just east of City Hall—is overcrowded, unsanitary and inadequate in every respect. It has been condemned more than once by the health authorities. Its cells are underground, badly lighted, equipped with out-worn plumbing, and having a system of ventilation that may have worked at one time but has long since ceased to do so. The cells were intended to accommodate twenty persons, but frequently a much larger number has to be crowded into them."

"The sleeping rooms provided for officers and patrolmen at this station could reasonably care for twenty-five. In reality fifty-five are assigned to sleep in these quarters. In one room 20 feet square are eight beds, all occupied each night. There is another room the duplicate of this, crowded with an equal number of beds. As for bathing facilities, there are no showers and but one tub."

"As long ago as March 5, 1917, the late Police Commissioner, Stephen O'Meara, wrote to Mayor Curley, reporting the condition of Station 2 as very bad in all respects. He made no special recommendation for the reason that preliminary action for a new building had already been taken by the city."

"As the matter stands today, a site has been secured for a new station; Commissioner Curtis wrote to Mayor Peters on April 10 to the effect that 'Station 2 calls for immediate action'; the requisite funds are available; the Mayor is doing all he can to get favorable action from the Council—and there the thing halts. Four of the councilmen, for reasons best known to themselves, are blocking action. Will these gentlemen be good enough to explain why they object to an improvement which every other individual familiar with the facts agrees should be made, and made immediately? If they cannot explain, will they kindly allow this project to go through without further delay?"

I want to say, as one member who intends to vote against this measure today, as I voted against it the last time when it came before the Council, that if there is a representative of the Boston Traveler here I ask him to print the facts that I have, showing my reasons for voting against it. I got from the auditor's office the figures of money that has been spent in connection with this matter prior to its coming before this body, and I will say that there has already been wasted $19,000 and some odd hundred in connection with the building of Station 2. It was suggested, for instance, that a new station be built on the site of the old Probate Building, and the City of Boston has in its possession a roll of paper in the form of a set of plans costing better than $10,000. For the site where Station 2 already stands there was another appropriation, of $600 and some odd, spent preparatory to getting a set of plans for that. The City of Boston was not as fortunate as in the case of the Probate site, where they did get a roll of paper for $10,000, but didn't get any for the $600. They again went into the basement of City Hall and spent $4,000 or $5,000 for the remodeling of the basement of City Hall for the purpose of taking care of the patrolmen and those that would be taken to Station 2. So, approximately, in round figures, the city has taken $19,000 and some odd and treated it exactly as if it were throwing it into the bay in connection with this matter. We were asked to appropriate money to buy a site at the corner of Arch and Hawley streets for the purpose of building Station 2. To some of the members who have got up here today and said that the reason why Station 2 was not built was on account of the war I will simply say that that is all camouflage, because we needed a Station 2 before 1914. The station was just as inadequate for the housing of the policemen of Boston in 1912 and in 1910 as it is in 1920. You would think that Station 2 was the only bad spot; you would think it was the only bad place in which policemen were housed in Boston. If you think so, I wish you would go out to Station 11. If Station 2 is bad, Station 11 is worse. They talk about the conditions of the men. The same paper some time ago said that we held up Station 2 because we were against the new policemen. I want to say to that paper that, in so far as I individually am concerned, that is an absolute lie; that I never considered that matter of the new policemen at all when it came to the question of the building of a station; that that was farthest from my thoughts, and only a short time ago I was glad that the men, even those who took the places of the strikers, were receiving an increase. But if all of these men who have been prominent in this matter, the Mayor and the now Police Commissioner, had done something at the time when they had the opportunity to fix up this police situation, we would have had a better Police Department in Boston than we have at the present time. Never before, until the strike took place, did we ever find a policeman of the City of Boston climbing up a spout. But the situation is this, that, instead of doing duty to our citizenship, it seems that somebody has sold out and that the City of Boston is about to take a new venture into the real estate business. We have another case here today of another site, of a public building where money has already been appropriated, and the site doesn't suit somebody. Who is that somebody? The Police Commissioner did not make any protest in regard to the site on Arch street. Why don't they, when they write an editorial, at least be fair? They say that the Police Commissioner wrote to the Mayor, but they don't say that the Mayor wrote to the Police Commissioner asking his judgment in regard to the Sears street site. I want to say that I know something, a little bit, in regard to the construction of buildings. Every parcel of land in and about the Sears street site is made land. It took them four years to get a foundation for a building not 200 yards away from the site now selected. Now it is proposed that we shall accept that site. Four years to strike a foundation! Perhaps if the City of Boston is unfortunate enough to get this Sears street site it may take us four years to get a foundation so that they may be able to build a building to house the patrolmen who will be in Station 2. I say to the Mayor and I say to the Police Commissioner that I am not only glad to be able to vote against this order but I am glad that there are enough votes here to lick it. I am glad also that I am on the side that is voting that it may be licked. I say to the Mayor today, "Don't wait two months more to send in another order. Proceed to build Station 2 on the site that the City of Boston already has." I want to say also, in connection with the present site, that I did not understand the Mayor the last time to say that he could get the same amount of money that was paid for it. He said that he thought that he might get the approximate price. But he never would.

as saying that he could get it. The last time there were two orders came in—one to sell one site and one to acquire another site. But I suppose somebody has gone down to him and said, "Well, if you will send in one at a time you may be able to put them through." The only thing I can say, after the action that the Council will take today, is that if the Mayor is sincere in regard to building a Station 2 house for the use of the policemen in Station 2 I trust that he will proceed at once to build a building for those men on the site already owned and paid for by the City of Boston.

The order was rejected (six votes being required for passage), yeas 5, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Collins, Ford, Hagan, Lane, Watson—5.

Nays—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, McLaughlin, Moriarty—4.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

President DONOGHUE pro tem., called up unfinished business, Nos. 1 to 10, inclusive, viz.:

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor, April 12, 1920, of the following-named persons to be Constables, viz.:

1. Henry A. Barry.
2. David Belson.
3. William C. Gregory.
4. Salvatore Maffei.
5. Charles B. Palmer.
6. Henry J. D. Small.
7. Roscoe A. Smith.
8. Jeremiah A. Twomey.

9. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor, May 3, 1920, of Edward P. Rice, to be a Constable.

10. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor, May 3, 1920, of William B. Reagan, James C. Brenner and Frank St. George, to be Weighers of Goods; and Emilio Vespers and John E. Trull, to be Weighers of Coal.

The question came on confirmation of the appointment.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, on the question of the confirmation of the appointment of constables I have just a few words to say, stating my reasons for voting against these constables. I want to say, before starting, that I am against the principle and not the individual. I believe that the principle that should be carried out in the collection of taxes has been trampled upon by the men who have been approved as constables by this body, and I am going to start my remarks by reading a few letters from unfortunates who have been abused by some of these constables. I want to say that in Executive Committee I have refrained from using the names of the persons who have written to me, and I am going to refrain from using or mentioning the names here.

Mr. James T. Moriarty,

President City Council:

Dear Sir,—I have in my possession a receipt for $4.40, dated January 30, 1920, and signed by Constable Roscoe Smith. The above sum represents what Smith gouged out of my sister in settlement of my poll tax bill of 1918.

Constable Smith came to my house on January 30, and informed me that he had a warrant for my arrest, but would give me twenty-four hours to pay up before serving it. I told him I was in poor health and had not worked for several years. His reply was that the law made no allowances for a man out of employment, and he gave me to understand that it was a case of pay within twenty-four hours or go to jail. I then told him that I didn't even have the price of a badly needed pair of shoes, and I suggested that if I must pay the tax I would have to do it with my sister's money—the money she leaves with me to pay the weekly household expenses. He accepted this money and gave me a receipt for it. I am calling your attention to this dirty trick at this time because I see that the Council held up the appointment of forty-two men, and I hope if this Smith is among them he will fail of reappointment.

My sister is a working girl who has nothing but her weekly wage. We live together at the above address. I have suffered for years with chronic bronchitis and asthma. I have not been outdoors since last summer. I have been down stairs only once this winter. I was not working in 1918 nor in 1919 either. The above statement I meant to send to the Mayor three months ago, but failed to do so because I've been very sick.

And then it says, "Respectfully yours," and is signed, with the address attached to the letter. Mr. President, this same constable came before the Council and in answer to a question of mine, I asking him what was the highest amount received by him for the collection of a 1918 poll tax, he said, "$6.00." Today he made the same answer, "$6.00." But after the reading of the letter he pulled a card from his pocket and showed where he had collected $8.65 for a 1918 poll tax. Here is another letter:

"May 5, 1920.

James T. Moriarty,

Boston City Council:

Dear Sir,—I have been advised to write you regarding the payment of my 1918 poll tax. I wrote to Mr. Deland, but received no reply. Roscoe A. Smith of 38 Westland avenue called on me and demanded $8.65 for 1918 tax and I paid it under protest. I hold the receipt for same. Shortly afterwards I met Mr. Watson in City Hall, and related my story to him, and he said he would have Smith make a refund. The constable refused on the ground that his charges were legitimate.

I am poor and have to support a wife and three children, and must say it was quite a hardship on me. Mr. Smith called at the S. M. Howes Company where I work, on a Saturday, which is pay day, and made me pay him, or threatened me with arrest in the presence of all the people I work with. Since paying mine I notice others have been taxed for $4.20, and here I pay $8.65, and don't see why I should have paid so much. I realize my error in not paying my tax in the first place, but, like all the others, simply overlooked it.

At the rate Mr. Smith was going he would make anyone envious as to his income. I have esteemed confidence in you and your work and I have always extended you my favors when possible, and trust you can make this fellow refund me some money, and he is not worthy of his commission and hope you will not allow him to proceed.

Hoping to hear from you favorably, I remain, etc."

I want to say here that I feel that this man as a constable is going to be confirmed. I am sorry to say that. He is going to receive five votes of my colleagues here today, but I am going to class him with a man who goes out in the dark with a gun on our streets and holds up our citizens and takes what rightfully belongs to the man he holds up with a gun. The poor unfortunate who holds up another takes a chance with his own life, takes a chance of going to jail if he is caught by the police; but because Roscoe A. Smith as one of the constables has got a badge of a constable he goes in broad daylight to the citizens of Boston and holds them up. He says that the price he charges is legitimate. I ask any fair-minded man if $8.65 is a legitimate amount to collect for a 1918 poll tax? I want to say also that the Collector of the City of Boston—and I do not mean to cast any reflections on the man holding that position—will not come before this body or before any body and take an oath that all money now paid for taxes has been returned to the City of Boston. He has no way to check it up and find out whether that money is returned to the city treasury. It is the system in these days that is wrong, and I suppose the Mayor of Boston is the man responsible for this drive to collect taxes by the method by which they are being collected. It is the most outrageous system ever tried to be established in our city. There is another letter that I have which I misplaced by leaving it at home today, from a man who is now lying in the Consumptives' Hospital, waiting for the last moment to arrive, with a wife and nine children living in our city. A constable sent four notices to that man, and his wife was afraid to go to the hospital and tell him that there was a constable who had a warrant for his arrest. I was asked of some of the constables, of one in particular, if he did not have a family. I imagine that he did; I imagine that he was old enough to have a family. But when he went out he did not care whether anybody else had a family. He did not care whether a man had a pair of shoes; he did not care whether he had his health. All he wanted was that miserly $1.50, or as much more as he could get. He had no feeling in the matter. It was money that he was after, and I am sorry that I have got to practically put the rest of the constables in the same category as the man I read the letter about. I know that there are some of these men within the hearing of my voice, and I have been told that they have a club. I have been told that they are a big power, and they have been trying to get members to lay off. They have individually reached practically everybody but my wife to "lay off," so that they might be confirmed. I have had letters, have had telephone calls and personal requests to vote to confirm them. I want to say that I cannot conscientiously vote to confirm any one of them. I have men near and dear to me who are friends of some of the constables, and some of the constables were my friends. I know that after today I have lost their friendship, but I have the feeling that I am telling the absolute truth, and I know it is the feeling of some of the members who are going to vote to confirm these men that the actions I have referred to have taken place, and they believe the same as I do about them. I realize that they are going to be confirmed, but I feel that I would not have done my duty if I did not make the statements I have made. I had another thing called to my attention today,—that one man, a city employee, in order, as he said with his own lips, to get a decent living for himself and his wife, had to go out and collect poll taxes. We sit here as representatives of those men who work for the city and have to hear these things. I want to say that there is no man a member of this Council who is responsible for any city employee working under those conditions. If there is any man working for the city who is not earning enough money from the city to support his wife, his family and himself decently, it rests with the Mayor of Boston that an adequate wage was not put into the budget for that man. I think it is a discredit to the city that any man should have to go out and work after he has finished his day's work, no matter what his work may be for the city, to earn enough to make a respectable living for himself and his family. But, as I say, I am going to be consistent. I am going to vote against all the constables. Each and every one of them I am going to cast my ballot against, in so far as those that collect poll taxes are concerned, because I feel that every one of them used the same tactics and that they have not been fair to the citizens of Boston because in answer to questions of some of the councilors they admitted that the poor fellows they tried to collect from were scared and ran to their offices and paid there $1.40 or $1.40, because the notice read that it could not be paid in the place where it ought to be paid, the collector's office. I have no objection to any man getting all possible for him to get, if he gets it legitimately, but I do not believe that it was a legitimate charge when they charged $1.50 for a response of that kind to a 2-cent stamped envelope and a printed report. The most that it cost was 10 cents, and still they charged that large amount in connection with the matter. I do not like to burden the Council at this time. I have half a dozen other letters here. The ones I have read may be the two worst ones. I think if the Mayor of Boston was sincere in regard to the committee he has working on the raising of revenue for the City of Boston he would have put 26 constables in the employ of the city into the collector's department, giving each one of them charge of one of the twenty-six wards in Boston, so that we might hold the collector's office responsible for any insult that was bestowed upon citizens of Boston. I am not making any plea for the man who does not pay his taxes. I believe he should pay them, but I don't believe forty-two individual men should be allowed to get the amount of money that they do get in this matter, one man having 14,000 warrants, according to his own statement, and collecting 50 per cent of the 14,000 inside of thirty or forty days. At the expense of whom? The poor unfortunates who had forgotten to pay, and a lot of men who may not have forgotten but who thought that their taxes had been paid, because of a change in the tax bill in the collector's office, the poll tax not being on the real estate tax bill. To verify that I am going to read this letter:

"May 4, 1920.

To the City Council of Boston:

Gentlemen,—I hope you will not approve of Constable Henry H. Barry's application for another year. He charged me $4.40 for 1918 poll tax for which I think he ought to be put in the class of profiteers, when he got the chance. He has not sent me a tax bill paid yet. Of course, my returned check is his receipt for the money I paid. I cannot tell whether or not he has turned the money over to the City of Boston. He was very anxious to get my $4.20 but not so anxious to send me my tax bill. Surely he could afford to send it. It would not take over a 2-cent stamp on the envelope. I think he could afford 2 cents out of $4.20."

No citizen who has paid $4, $4.20, $4.40, $6 or $8.65 now has a tax bill to show that he has paid his 1918 poll tax. Not one of them has got a receipt from the City of Boston to show that he has paid the 1918 tax bill.

"My case was a case in which I was not aware but what my poll was paid. I have been paying real estate tax to the City of Boston for thirty-eight consecutive years and not until I hunted up my real estate tax bill and to my surprise the poll was not on the bill. It has always been on my real estate tax bill and when I paid that, of course the poll was paid, as it was added in with the real estate. It was a mistake in City Hall in not putting it on 1918 bill. If it was, Constable Barry would not have the chance to flim-flam me for $1.20. I remember of an old retired Roxbury policeman named Matthews who was not re-appointed as a constable for just the same trick as Barry did to me. He was thrown down by Alderman Regan. Both men are now deceased. Both men lived in Roxbury.

"My real estate is a three-family dwelling situated . . . I moved from there about a year ago to . . . I hope you will not reappoint him for another year. Give him a 365-day sentence for profiteering.

"I did not raise the rent on my tenants. Such tricks as Barry's invite taxpayers to raise rents."

The fact is that it has been the custom for years to put the poll tax on the real estate tax bill, but this year, as one of the many changes of many minds and many heads of the administration we are laboring under, that has been changed, and a great many citizens have been in the position of this man here and have suffered. Boston did not benefit. Boston has suffered in allowing her citizens to be treated the way that constables approved by this body have treated them. I want to say in conclusion that individually I did not seek any of these letters. Individually I do not know any person who has written these letters. But I do feel pleased today to be able to fight or try to fight the fight of these men against the contemptible practice carried on by this administration, allowing taxes to be collected as they were collected by the constables who were allowed to collect them.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I am going to take just one moment, because I don't want my position in regard to this matter of confirming these eight or nine men whose names appear on the calendar to be misunderstood. I propose to vote yes on confirmation. I would say that perhaps one or more of the constables may have been a little indiscreet in the matter of their collections. Their conduct may have been a little raw or hard, or their methods may have been harsh or raw, but they are entitled to another chance. Someone is going to collect the taxes—some constables. You cannot improve the whole method by appointing or confirming others. We have already confirmed thirty-four of the forty-two who have been collecting taxes. They were confirmed unanimously, and the man who had 14,000 warrants to serve was confirmed unanimously. I think Mr. Smith may have been indiscreet, may have taken advantage of his office, within the law, to get what he was after, to make a dollar. I believe he has been taught a lesson, however. I believe he will modify his conduct, at least fifty per cent, and I am going to treat Mr. Smith and others as I would want to be treated, giving them another chance. I am going to be one of those who will vote to confirm the nine names on the calendar.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Watson and McLaughlin. Whole number of ballots 9, yeas 6, nays 3, and the appointments were confirmed.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. BRICKLEY moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 6.40 p. m., on motion of Coun. FORD, to meet on Monday, May 17, at 2 p. m.

Statement by Health Commissioner.—The matter of compensation for the overtime service rendered by the men named above was taken up with one of them not very long after the service was rendered, and through what I afterwards learned to be a misunderstanding I got the impression from him that the men interested were seeking compensation for such overtime through channels other than the Health Commissioner. For that reason the making of this recommendation has been delayed to what might otherwise be an unreasonable time. As the men interested, however, were in no wise at fault in connection with this delay, I hoped that they may now be granted the compensation recommended above for the service they rendered the city in time of great emergency.

requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

On May 18 to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company as per following communication:

BOSTON, May 13, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

I respectfully request your permission to award, without advertising, a contract for the purchase of electricity for operating in an emergency the high pressure pumping stations of the city located in the Third Station of the company on Atlantic avenue, Boston, and in the Thirty-eighth Station of the company on Stuart street, Boston, to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, for the reason that these pumping stations are inseparably connected with, and the space occupied by them is leased from, the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

On May 18 to the Boston Elevated Railway Company as per following communication:

BOSTON May 13, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

I respectfully request your permission to award, without advertising, a contract for the supplying of steam to the pumping station for the high pressure water service from the steam main of the Lincoln Power Station of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, for the following reasons:

The Elevated Railway Company is in a position to furnish steam at a much lower price than any other company and the city is securing a very advantageous lease of space for one of its high pressure pumping stations under the Lincoln Power Station which is owned by that company.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

On May 18 to George D. Emerson Company as per following communication and schedule of bids:

BOSTON, May 15, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising same, to George D. Emerson Company for furnishing the following:

250 barrels bread flour at $15.25 per barrel to the Infirmary Department, Long Island.
50 barrels bread flour at $15.25 per barrel to the Consumptives' Hospital.
15 barrels pastry flour at $13.75 per barrel to the Consumptives' Hospital.
100 barrels bread flour at $15.25 per barrel to the Overseers of the Poor.

Permission is also requested to award a contract to Potter, Wrightington Company for furnishing the following:

270 bags of Pennock bread flour at $15.75 per barrel to the City Hospital.
110 bags of Top Notch pastry flour at $13.85 per barrel to the City Hospital.

Telephone quotations were received from the various dealers as per attached list.

The Supply Department has twice advertised publicly for bids on flour and we were unable to receive a single bid on same, and in view of the rapidly rising market for flour at the present time also the reports which this office is receiving, from numerous sources, of the scarcity of this commodity, I am of the opinion that it would be for the best interests of the city to secure the supply indicated above at once.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

City Hospital.—Potter, Wrightington Company, $15.75 bread flour per barrel; $13.85 pastry flour per barrel.

Infirmiry Department, Long Island.—Larabee Flour Mills, $15.50 per barrel; George D. Emerson Company, $15.25 per barrel.

Overseers of the Poor.—Larabee Flour Mills, $15.50 per barrel; George D. Emerson Company, $15.25 per barrel; Haskall, Adams Company, $15.75 per barrel.

Consumptives' Hospital.—Larabee Flour Mills, $15.50 per barrel; George D. Emerson Company, $15.25 bread flour; $13.75 pastry flour per barrel.

On May 18 to the Coastwise Coal Company, as per following communication and schedule of bids:

BOSTON, May 14, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising same, to the Coastwise Coal Company for furnishing approximately 1,000 tons of semibituminous coal at $13.50 per ton, delivered alongside the Infirmary Department at Long Island and the Penal Institutions Department at Deer Island, and one lighter of coal, approximately 300 tons, delivered alongside City Hospital, at $14 per ton. Prices, as per attached list, were received from the various dealers on this requirement, and the prices submitted by the Coastwise Coal Company were the lowest. In explanation of the price submitted by the New England Coal & Coke Company, would say that the coal supplied by this company is a high volatile, the use of which would prove expensive to the city. In explanation of the bid of $13.25 submitted by the Northern Coal Company, would state that this price was for coal which would have to be unloaded within four days, after which demurrage charges of 15 cents per ton per day would be charged, and the risk of demurrage involved in this purchase would be too great to consider this bid.

In view of the fact that the departments will be in need of this coal in the very near future, I respectfully request that the permission asked for be granted.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

New England Coal & Coke Company, $13.25, Pennsylvania, high volatile, f. o. b., Everett.

Maritime Coal Company, no coal.

Coastwise Coal Company, $13.50 for Deer and Long Islands and $14 for City Hospital, Pennsylvania, low volatile, alongside.

Castner, Curran & Bullett, $14.50 for Deer and Long Islands; no price on hospital.

Logan Coal Company, no coal.

Northern Coal Company, no coal at present (barge in New York, 1,700 tons; price $13.25; demurrage of $0.15 per ton per day after 4 days).

C. H. Sprague & Son, no coal.
Burton & Furber, no coal.

On May 20 to Goodrich Sales Company as per following communication:

BOSTON, May 15, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Under date of the thirtieth ultimo your Honor approved my request to purchase, without advertising, three months' supply of pneumatic tires. Included in this approval was a lot of tires to be purchased from the Snow, Coombs & McBeath Company, covering Firestone tires. The Fire Commissioner's original request on me stated that the tires had been purchased for $1,438.33. When I sent the contract to the Snow, Coombs & McBeath Company they returned it, stating that the price should total $1,669.79. I took the matter up with the Fire Commissioner and suggested that we could use another tire, in which recommendation the Fire Commissioner concurs. I have accordingly entered into a contract with the Goodrich Sales Company for the De Luxe tires, covering

One 36 by 5 solid tire at $55.90.

Sixteen 38 by 6 De Luxe tires at $70 each.

Two 40 by 7 De Luxe tires at $92.55 each.

The above prices are subject to discount of 5 per cent plus war tax, making the total amount of the contract approximately $1,361, as against the price of $1,669.79, quoted by the Snow, Coombs & McBeath Company. Approval of my action is respectfully requested.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON SOCIAL WORK.

BOARD OF OVERSEERS OF THE POOR,
BOSTON, May 13, 1920.HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In compliance with chapter 274, Acts of 1914, the following report of the National Conference of Social Work is respectfully submitted.

The conference met this year at New Orleans on Wednesday, April 14, and continued until Wednesday, April 21, 1920. General sessions were held in the evening in the Athenæum and at each meeting there were over two thousand delegates present.

The opening of the conference was on Wednesday evening, April 14, and Archbishop John W. Shaw opened the session with invocation. Dr. A. W. Dinwiddie of Tulane University presided. He made a short address on Social Service in New Orleans. President Lovejoy was then introduced and stated that the first essential in finding the faith of the Social Worker is to take stock of the social philosophy of the world, to find the foundation upon which their belief is based; his claim being that the understanding of community characteristics is the working capital of social investment.

Miss Sally Lucas Jean of New York spoke on creating a demand for health in teaching the mother to care properly for the healthy baby rather than devote our entire time to teaching her to care for it after it gets sick.

John M. Parker, Democratic nominee for Governor of the State of Louisiana, delivered the address at the Second General Session of the National Conference, Thursday evening. He was introduced by President Owen R. Lovejoy. Mr. Parker gave, in a concise statement, his idea of the state's responsibility for the dependent, the defective and the delinquent, promising that during his term of office much would be done to improve existing social agencies in the state. He emphasized the necessity of getting children, now in state institutions, out into the country. He also wished that prison inmates be given as much outdoor life as possible. In speaking on the negro problem he said that it must be remembered that the race is wholly illiterate and content to remain in its old condition. "The negro," he stated, "must be handled like a child. Any negro who has risen above the average has had an infusion of white blood." He believed they have as little brutality or trouble with negroes in Louisiana as anywhere and knew best how to govern them.

Judge Charles L. Brown, of the Municipal Court in Philadelphia, spoke of coordinating the work of public and private agencies in probation service. The probation service should use the resources of both private and public agencies both before and after court hearing, so that complete service can be rendered to the client. He stated that vision and imagination are essential for social work.

Several new ideas of value to social workers were set forth at the meetings dealing with protective work in the council chamber of the City Hall, Thursday morning and afternoon. Among the helpful suggestions were such statements as these: That no new instincts could be added to an individual, but their own modification of such as already exist is possible; that all probation officers should give the child a hearing; that there is a growing demand for police women in states throughout the country; that there should be close co-operation between medical agencies and social workers.

The importance in social work of learning the point of view of the person to be helped was brought out by leaders of successful methods of treatment at a meeting of the Family Section. A striking case cited was that of a loafer and drunkard who insistently failed to support his family until it was discovered that he longed for the life he led when as a boy he worked on a farm in Hungary. He was sent with his family to the country where he is now doing well as a farmer. Another was that of a woman compelled to support her four children as her brutal husband was in the penitentiary. Her ambition, it had long been, was to become a nurse. She was sent to a training school for a four years' course and her children were cared for. At the end of the term she graduated at the head of her class. The woman is now a leader in her profession and herself prominent in social work.

Miss Mary E. Richmond, director of the Russell Sage Foundation, New York, spoke of some effects in social treatment and said that perhaps investigation and diagnosis in case work was unduly emphasized as it often happens that treatment fails to keep up to diagnosis. One social worker raised the point that case workers failed to pass on the result of investigation to the agents of public charities. Miss Richmond also pointed out the ill effects of sending a number of social workers, some time as many as sixteen in one year, to the home of a single family.

Two special sessions were held for agents engaged in disbursing mothers' pensions. Representatives from Maine, Massachusetts, New York, Illinois, Colorado and Winnipeg were present. The agent in charge of mothers' pensions in Denver, Col., gave an example of her work with a particular family consisting of man, wife and four children, from seven years down. Man a tailor, tubercular, shop and one room in the rear which contains three beds. Man prevailed upon to enter sanatorium on condition that the department would provide for family.

In about six weeks he was able to do outside work and a horse and wagon was purchased and the man embarked as a pedler. Horse and wagon paid for from the sale of his shop, which brought $60. A small cottage outside of the congested district was obtained. Mother and children received proper attention and medical treatment was given. Children placed in school when they became of proper age. Disease now inactive in all the members of the family, including the father, who was also beginning to show a profit over expenses.

City spent in all some $3,000 on the family and left them self-supporting and an asset to the community, when if this had not been done every member of the household would have to be supported in a sanatorium or institution indefinitely at a still greater cost to the community.

It is understood that social workers, for the most part, are against institutions except as a last resort. Such is not the case when applied to cripple and deformed children of ordinary circumstances, as shown by Dr. Fish, superintendent of the Massachusetts Hospital School for Crippled Children, who stated: "It is in an institution with those of his kind that the crippled child finds fair play and equal chances. Those afflicted children, whose parents cannot afford to have nurses and governesses in constant attendance, are better off in specially designed institutions that are real schools with hospital facilities. For the temporary child inmate there should be education modeled on the regular grade plan; for the permanent cases there should be education and a great deal of practical vocational work, taught in short sessions. It is poor business for any state to allow its crippled and deformed to grow into dependent men and women, selling pencils on the street as an excuse to beg money."

He cited one of his cases, that of a legless boy who was fascinated with the engine room of the institution and aroused the interest of the engineer. He, at last, put him through a rough practical course of training. At present the boy is a man of means and with two artificial legs has almost overcome the handicap with which he began life.

The agent of the women's branch of the work for the Social Hygiene Board stated that the Board was established during the war for the protection of enlisted men and at the close of the war it was considered necessary to continue the work. "We feel that the only way to protect our boys is to watch girls and women of questionable character and we deal with every class, from the young runaway girl who is in love with some soldier to the confirmed evil doer. We present girls in court, who have been arrested, when there is no probation officer in town." She believes in home economics being taught in the school, but not in favor of sex hygiene being taught, as it is in some schools. It could be included in a course of practical hygiene but if taught otherwise the child becomes self-conscious. She stated that they had records in their office of 30,000 girls, all cases that have been handled in some way.

At a joint session of the Placing Division and the Division of Delinquents and Correction, papers were read by Dr. F. D. Dunham of Baltimore Training School. Many cases were represented in the papers when one of the women delegates rose and said: "I have read not less than thirty books on the subject just presented and the papers read seem a combination of the facts contained in the books. What workers want are to be told exactly how the cases are handled. What was done in the case of the delinquent girl? You say she was made to lead a normal life, but how? A rather animated discussion followed, showing that the difficulty at these meetings is to find a point for discussion that would benefit the beginner in search of information and the research professors.

At a meeting held Saturday afternoon by the Public Agencies and Institutions Division of the National Conference it was decided after two hours' discussion that crimes are less frequent, there are more happy families and well fed children, the jails and insane asylums are not so populous as they were, all due to prohibition.

Rev. John A. Ryan of Catholic University, Washington, made an address on "The Present Status of Labor Standards" and was especially interesting in explaining the Catholic bishops' program.

On Monday the business session was held and Dr. Allen T. Burns of New York was elected president for the coming year. It was also decided that Milwaukee, Wisconsin, should be the next meeting place in June, 1921. The evening session proved one of the most enthusiastic of the conference. There was a large crowd to hear the speakers. Dr. Felix Adler of New York made an appeal for the fostering of a national ideal in America. "The countries of the Old World have such a national ideal, but America so far has lacked one and for this reason so many of our foreign-born are now turning back to their fatherlands." America's ideal has been freedom, an ideal of individual rights. We have had no national ideal as distinguished from this individualistic ideal. The war has brought out, as never before, the conflict rising between the old economic tyranny of the few and the new tyranny of the mass.

Miss Jane Addams spoke on "The Immigrant and Social Unrest." "The immigrant believes that he is being discriminated against and regarded with suspicion. We are throwing them back into the old categories of race and religion. They came here because it was a country of liberty. Now we are destroying their faith in us and this will keep them from coming over." Miss Addams urged that we return to our former policy of allowing free speech to all and pointed out that we had had no former experience before the war which could warrant our departure from it.

Mrs. Florence Kelley, Secretary of the National Consumers' League of New York, in her address said that the greatest problem of the league was how to regain in America the right to know the truth. "We have caused the truth to be told in so many lines of business and lately women have been asking us to help them get authentic information about the food trades, but what is the use," stated Mrs. Kelley, "if as soon as we urge the use of a certain food because it is cheap the price is immediately raised, as was done in the case of rice by a great packing firm."

Dr. Royal Mecker of the Federal Department of Labor advised the working out of standard quantity budgets for the average American family and held that the American workman and his family are living on a lower level than before the war.

Dr. Hoffman of the Prudential Insurance Company condemned national health insurance in England. Exception was taken by some of those present who felt that health insurance was a logical development.

It was impossible to attend all the sessions of the various divisions as the program was so varied, representing all the various features of social work. It was only possible to attend sessions that would tend to give definite information in regard to special lines.

The meetings were held in halls scattered over the city, a circumstance which made attendance still more difficult, so that your delegate confined himself as much as possible to visiting sessions which dwelt particularly on work among families.

Respectfully yours,

W. H. HARDY, Secretary.

STATEMENT OF MAYOR PETERS
ON CONSTRUCTION AND RE-PAIRS OF STREETS, FROM FEBRUARY, 1918, TO FEBRUARY,
1920.

During the past several weeks there have appeared both in the editorial and news columns of several Boston dailies, articles which have so misrepresented the policy of the present administration with regard to the repair and reconstruction of streets, that I feel the true facts should be laid before the public as a whole, and I am issuing this statement with the request that each of the Boston papers, in justice to the administration, print it in its entirety.

Despite the fact that during the past two years the city, because of war conditions has been greatly handicapped in securing paving material, it has laid more than twice as much new pavement of a permanent nature than was ever before laid in the first two years of an administration. The public should know this fact in order that it may form its own opinion of the justice of the attacks being made. For a great many years prior to my taking office the City of Boston followed a policy which has not been tolerated in the other large cities in the country. I refer to the policy of accepting streets paved with macadam, a type of pavement which everyone knows will rapidly deteriorate. The result is that at the present time the city is reaping the whirlwind of a short-sighted and extravagant policy and because it is both humanly and financially impossible to keep this type of street in repair, this administration is being held accountable for the mistakes of its predecessors.

The pavement now being laid is a permanent type of pavement. The largest portion is of two kinds; granite block pavement, the life of which should be about twenty-five years, and mixed top, which should last about ten years. It is necessary to use the latter type for obviously the city could not lay a granite block pavement in residential districts as the noise would be too great. In some places the wooden block pavement is being laid, and this properly put down on a concrete base, should have a life of fifteen years. This pavement is being laid on Devonshire street, for the upkeep of an asphalt pavement on that thoroughfare was tremendous and no contractor could be found who would guarantee the life of an asphalt pavement on that street. At this time I should point out that a macadam pavement, the type which the city accepted in newly constructed streets for so many years, may readily go to pieces within six months, and there have been frequent instances where holes have appeared in the surface of such streets within three weeks, but quite unmindful of this fact, certain persons are now trying to hold me responsible for the condition of this sort of pavement laid by my predecessors.

During the first two years of the administration of my predecessor the city expended in reconstructing and repairing pavements a total of $1,829,000. During the first two years of my administration the city expended for the same type of work a total of $3,938,000; more than twice as much, and the larger portion of the pavement laid by me is of a more durable type. During the first three years of my predecessor's administration a total of $3,433,000 was expended on streets. By the close of this year, that is after three years of my administration, the city will have expended a total of $5,988,000 on street reconstruction and repair.

During the first two years of the administration of my immediate predecessor in office, there were laid 263,000 square yards of granite block pavement; during my first two years there were laid 532,000 square yards of this type of pavement. During the first two years of my immediate predecessor's administration there were laid 149,000 square yards of smooth pavement; during my first two years there were laid 358,000 square yards of smooth pavement. It is hard to reconcile with these facts the statements that the streets of the city have never been in such bad condition before.

While it has obviously been good business policy to take care of the main business streets first, the suburban districts have not been slighted, each having had much street paving already done, or being slated this year for material improvements. Anybody who has been at all familiar with the condition of the streets in the downtown district will admit without the slightest hesitation that they have never before been in such good condition. Take such streets as Commercial street, Atlantic avenue, Albany street, Harrison avenue, Clinton street, Cross street, Federal street, Tremont street, from Hollis street to Roxbury Crossing, Sudbury street, Cambridge street, Dartmouth street, Newbury street, Dorchester avenue, from Andrew square to Fields Corner, Broadway and East Fourth streets, South Boston, from Dorchester street to City Point, and numerous streets in the North and West Ends, streets that were a disgrace to any civilized city, all have been repaved with a first-class, durable pavement, and many others will be completed by fall.

During the first two years of my administration, that is, from February 1, 1918, to February 1, 1920, the expenditures for the various sections of the city were approximately as follows:

North End.....	$680,000 00
South End.....	305,000 00
Roxbury.....	300,000 00
West Roxbury.....	419,000 00
Dorchester.....	586,000 00
Brighton.....	294,000 00
Charlestown.....	143,000 00
East Boston.....	264,000 00
South Boston.....	255,000 00
Hyde Park.....	25,000 00

It should be borne in mind, however, in reference to Hyde Park, that one item for this year alone, that is, the reconstruction of Hyde Park avenue, will amount to $135,000. Practically all of the main radical highways of the various suburban sections either have already been put in good condition, or will be completed this year. For instance, Saratoga street, East Boston, has been repaved; Main street and Rutherford avenue, Charlestown, are being reconstructed. In Brighton, Brighton avenue, North Beacon street and Cambridge street and Washington street have been repaved. In West Roxbury, Centre street and Washington street will be repaved this year. Such an extensive program of street construction and repair has never before been attempted by the city, and it is certainly discouraging, in view of the policy of the city in the rehabilitation of its streets, to have people attempt to misrepresent conditions.

Contracts let for paving work in West Roxbury, the district which claims that it is being slighted, amounted, for the first two years of my administration, to $419,000, almost half of the annual paving expenditures for the entire city during the first two years of the administration of my predecessor.

In addition to all the work that has already been done, both in the city proper and in the suburbs, the expenditures by the Public Works Department this year for the repaving of streets will amount to $1,950,000. It should be borne in mind, however, that because of the policy of street neglect which was followed by previous administrations, it would take many millions of dollars to put all of the city's streets in condition, and it is obvious that the sum necessary is not at our command. The neglect of streets by previous administrations has been so great that in the West Roxbury district alone it is estimated that between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 could be expended and only the more important highways could be given good pavements.

Therefore, it should be obvious to any right-minded citizens that with the funds at our command, it is humanly impossible to immediately give the City of Boston the street conditions that it should have now, and would have, had other administrations been as mindful of the necessity of good thoroughfares as the present one. I dislike having to make a statement of this kind, but the misrepresentations of street conditions has been so persistent and many persons have been so unreasonable in this connection, that I believe the citizens are entitled to know all of the facts.

I am herewith publishing a table which shows the expenditures by the Public Works Department on the streets during a ten-year period, and also expenditures planned for the present year. It is interesting to note how the expenditures for street reconstruction and repair suddenly jumped in 1917, the year my predecessor was seeking re-election. It will also probably be enlightening to the great majority of citizens to note that the policy of the present administration has been a consistent one and not a pre-election policy.

SECT. 15. The department of public health may, by rule, establish such exemptions as may be necessary to facilitate the sale of any accumulated or unsold stocks of wholesome bakery products, and in other cases not inconsistent with the purposes of this act.

SECT. 16. Except as hereinafter otherwise provided, bread shall not be sold or offered or exposed for sale otherwise than by weight, and shall be manufactured for sale and sold only in units of sixteen or twenty-four ounces, or multiples of one pound. The weights herein specified shall be construed to mean net weights twelve hours after baking, to be determined by the average weight of at least twelve loaves. Such unit weights shall not apply to rolls or fancy bread weighing less than four ounces nor to loaves bearing a plain statement in plain position of the weight of the loaf and the name of the manufacturer thereof. In case of wrapped bread such information shall be stated upon the wrapper of each loaf; and in the case of unwrapped bread shall be stated by means of a pan impression or other mechanical means or shall be stated upon a label not larger than one by one and three quarter inches, and not smaller than one by one and one half inches. The said director, and under his direction the local sealers of weights and measures, shall cause the provisions of this section to be enforced. Before any prosecution is begun under this section the parties concerned shall be notified and given an opportunity to be heard before said director.

SECT. 18. If, after inspection, it is found that a bakery is not constructed, maintained, operated, or the distribution of its products not conducted in accordance with this act, notice in writing shall be given to the owner or manager, stating the delinquency, and fixing a reasonable time within which the same shall be remedied and for a hearing to any party in interest.

SECT. 19. In case a bakery is unfit for the production and handling of food or dangerous to the health of its employees, the department of public health or local board of health may order it closed: provided, that any aggrieved person or corporation shall have the right to be heard before said department, or board, as the case may be, and shall also have a right of appeal, before or after the execution of such order, but within thirty days of its issuance, to the superior court.

SECT. 20. Within sixty days after the taking effect of this act, every bakery in the commonwealth shall be registered with the board of health of the city or town in which it is situated. The registration shall show its situation, including street and number, and its ownership. The board shall forthwith report such registration to the department of public health. No fee shall be charged for such registration.

SECT. 21. No new bakery shall be established unless the building plans and equipment proposed to be used have been approved by the board of health of the city or town. Said board shall refuse a permit to such bakery if the building and equipment do not comply with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations made hereunder: provided, however, that any party in interest shall have the right of appeal to the department of public health or to the superior court. Said department or court may affirm, reject or modify the findings of the board, and the said board shall thereupon proceed in accordance with the order of the court or department.

SECT. 22. Violation of any provision of this act, or of any rule or regulation adopted hereunder, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars.

Sections three to seven, inclusive, of chapter fifty-seven of the Revised Laws, as amended by chapter one hundred and ninety-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eight, by chapter one hundred and ninety-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, and by chapter one hundred and fifty-seven of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and sixteen, sections twenty-eight and thirty-one of chapter seventy-five of the Revised Laws; and chapter two hundred and fifty-eight of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and fifteen, are hereby repealed. Maximum population per acre, 117.9, in Ward 6; minimum, 4.5, in Ward 23, the largest ward in area, i. e., 4,743 acres of land. Average for city, 26.9 per acre.

As the minor districts have no fixed boundaries, their population can be reckoned only by grouping such precincts as are commonly assumed to belong to them. The superintendent of mails, Boston Post Office, has a system of mail delivery whereby the Boston postal district is divided into 84 sub-districts, extending northerly to include Stoneham, easterly including Winthrop, southerly including South Weymouth and westerly including Wellesley. Population of whole district computed at Post Office according to 1915 census as approximately, 1,400,000 and of these subdistricts in Boston as follows: Allston, 14,931; Back Bay, 29,892; Essex Street, 21,186; Grove Hall, 29,028; Hanover Street, 32,097; Jamaica Plain, 31,092; Mattapan, 8,351; North Postal, 44,294; Roslindale, 17,153; Roxbury Crossing, 48,363; Station A, 61,781; Upham's Corner, 46,085.

The population of Boston was about equal to the combined population of the following 20 cities in 1915. Cambridge, 108,822; Lynn, 95,803; Malden, 48,907; Chelsea, 43,426; Newton, 43,113; Quincy, 40,674; Fitchburg, 39,656; Everett, 37,718; Salem, 37,200; Taunton, 36,161; Medford, 30,509; Waltham, 30,154; Revere, 25,178; Gloucester, 24,478; Beverly, 22,959; Attleboro, 18,480; Melrose, 16,880; Woburn, 16,410; Newburyport, 15,311, and Marlboro, 15,250. The population of Dorchester alone was equal to that of Quincy, Everett, Medford and Waltham combined. Chelsea is the most densely populated municipality in the state, viz.: 22,856 per square mile, Somerville ranking next, viz., 22,078.

There are 7 cities in the world having over 2,000,000 population, 9 more having over 1,000,000 and 11 others having more than Boston, the latter ranking twenty-eighth in the world.

BOSTON, May, 19, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Under date of April 28 this office publicly opened bids on 20,000 towels for the Park and Recreation Department. Only one bid was received, that of R. H. White Company, which bid was based on supplying a crash toweling at 24 cents per yard. The bid was rejected by me after conferring with the deputy commissioner of the Park and Recreation Department, on account of the high price. I then asked for informal bids which resulted as per attached list.

I respectfully request that I be authorized to enter into contract with Thomas Butler Company for 20,000 towels, size 27 inches by 13½ inches, at 18 cents each. This recommendation is made after a thorough examination of the samples submitted. I believe that this toweling is the best purchase for the money. Before making my decision, I conferred with Mr. J. A. Welch, 31 Bedford street, an expert on textiles, whose name was supplied by the Finance Commission, who concur with my decision.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CITY PLANNING.

BOSTON, May 6, 1920.

To MR. FREDERIC H. FAY, Acting Chairman, and the Members of the City Planning Board:

I have pleasure in submitting herewith a brief statement of my own conclusions in connection with the proceedings of the twelfth annual meeting of the National Conference on City Planning, held in Cincinnati April 19 to 22, inclusive, which I attended as the representative of the Boston City Planning Board.

It is estimated that the Conference was attended by about 200 visiting delegates, representing fifty different cities of the United States and Canada, together with many more in and about Cincinnati. Included in this gathering were those who have made city planning their vocation, and those who, appreciating its opportunities, have adopted it as an avocation, and who contribute largely to the support and encouragement of the movement.

An analysis of the attendance itself is not without its lesson. The registration bulletin showed but one other person beside myself present in an official capacity from the entire State of Massachusetts, the others being attracted by personal or business interests. On the other hand, four were registered as official representatives from Canadian provinces; seven from St. Louis; four from Kansas City; five from Cleveland; three from Akron; three from Philadelphia; three from Pittsburgh; three from Chicago; five from New York City; four from Buffalo; two from Rochester; two from Baltimore; seven from the State of Indiana; eight from the State of Michigan; seven from southern municipalities; and three from the Pacific Coast. This would indicate an active interest in city planning in the North Central States, perhaps unduly emphasized in this particular instance on account of their comparative proximity to the Conference headquarters. More important still, it indicates a lack of interest in city planning on the part of some of our municipalities which can not help but react to their ultimate disadvantage.

During the three days there were twelve separate and distinct sessions, including formal breakfast, luncheon and dinner conferences, ranging in length from two to four hours' duration. Of the subjects discussed, while some were perhaps foreign to our own problems, the majority bore at least a "family resemblance" to matters now occupying the attention of this Board, and many of them dealt directly and intimately with questions of vital interest to the work in hand.

The one outstanding feature of the whole Conference, to my mind, was the universal indorsement of the principles of zoning as a means of protection to residential districts. Regulations were urged governing the height of buildings, the area they should occupy, and the use to which they might be put in certain districts. While examples of districting as applied to the height of buildings are to be found in Boston, Baltimore, Indianapolis, Washington and other cities, there is a distinct trend toward the creation of specially restricted residential areas.

New York passed a districting and zoning resolution in July, 1916, regulating and limiting the height and bulk of buildings thereafter erected, regulating and determining the area of yards, courts and other open spaces, regulating and restricting the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specific uses, and establishing the boundaries of districts for the said purpose.

A zoning ordinance for the city of St. Louis, prepared by its City Plan Commission, and providing for the division of the city into use, height and area districts, was indorsed by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, and became effective August 14, 1917.

Zoning plans are being worked out by the cities of Cleveland and Detroit, through their City Plan Commissions, and are almost ready for adoption.

The Ohio Legislature adopted a zoning law, submitted by the Ohio State Conference on City Planning, in the form of an enabling act governing the height, area and use of buildings, subject to adoption by the different municipalities.

Newark, New Jersey, has adopted similar regulations, while certain enabling legislation has been enacted by Minnesota, Wisconsin, Maryland and Virginia.

The enactment of zoning legislation is conceded to be the first step in a zoning program. To that extent, at least, we have not been unmindful. Zoning according to height and area, or proportion of lot covered, is already permitted by Massachusetts statutes. The delegates to the Constitutional Convention recognized the importance of the zoning movement and submitted to referendum vote an amendment to the Constitution, which was ratified and adopted on November 5, 1918, i. e., ARTICLE LX. The General Court shall have power to limit buildings according to their use or construction to specified districts of cities and towns.

Based upon the provisions of this amendment a bill was introduced into the 1919 Legislature, and upon being favorably reported into the Senate was referred to the Attorney General for an opinion as to constitutionality. The Attorney General advised that, in his judgment, the General Court could not completely delegate to cities and towns the powers granted to it by Article LX, and that the bill would accordingly be unconstitutional if enacted into law.

Similar bills have been considered by the 1920 Legislature, have been reported favorably, and are now waiting a further opinion from the Justices of the Supreme Court.

The technical difficulties surrounding this measure are bound to be overcome, and with the way made clear for such action, a zoning plan for the City of Boston should be, in my opinion, one of the first considerations of the City Planning Board. The benefits to be derived from it are too evident to permit of any argument. Residential districts would be protected from industrial or commercial invasion; property values would be protected and enhanced; right building would be encouraged in the right place. A zoning law in its true sense, instead of being restrictive, is permissive; it is a measure of common protection in the interests of all.

The question of housing, I regret to say, received but indirect consideration during the conference. An address was to have been delivered by Mr. Lawrence Veiller, secretary of the National Housing Conference, which would naturally have paved the way for further discussion, but which was crowded out on account of lack of time. A strong appeal was made by one of the delegates from the Pacific Coast for the turning of the question of Housing into one of Home Ownership in the interests of good citizenship.

One entire morning was devoted to a consideration of railroad terminals and their relation to the city plan. In this connection fourteen points were promulgated as essential both to the requirements of modern business and to the convenience of the public. First, and perhaps foremost among these, was Unified control and operation of all railroad lines within the city limits.

This would provide opportunities for expansion for both trackage and terminals in connection with a well-considered plan of city development. Other features enumerated in connection with this basic principle were to the effect that

Municipal ownership of intercity lines was not necessary provided there is unified control;

Wasteful and needless duplication of lines and terminals within the city limits should not be permitted;

Shippers should be free from dependence on one road for cars.

All spurs and industrial tracks should be "common users" served by a belt line connected with all main lines entering the city.

Provision of complete modern business facilities, with protected industrial district or zones, free from hampering residential requirements (the other side of zoning), with proper fire protection, sewers, etc.

The simplification of terminals offers one of the greatest opportunities for the reduction of expense and freight rates;

Whatever the origin or destination, merchants should be able to receive and ship at the freight station which entails the shortest team haul;

Adequate freight yards should be provided, uninterrupted by grade crossings;

Rail and water terminals should be considered as a single rather than as separate problems, and co-ordination of facilities for both methods of transportation should be insisted upon;

The relation of the railroad to the street system should be carefully worked out; direct and ample wide thoroughfares should lead to all terminals;

The elimination of grade crossings on both steam and electric rapid transit lines is essential to public safety;

The fullest co-operation should be given cities by railroads in planting and improving appearances of borders of rights of way, yards, bridges, etc., in order that damage to adjacent property values and rentals may be eliminated.

A plan now in use at the Norwood substation of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad whereby freight is distributed by the use of removable car bodies, like detachable cages holding from 5 to 10 tons, lifted by cranes to the chassis of motor bodies, was offered as a solution of the market problem which would enormously reduce terminal costs and delays through centralized control, and the utilization of labor-saving devices.

Cincinnati's own problems of centralization and decentralization, its rapid transit system, and its highway system, were discussed in detail, and dissected and diagnosed in the light of the experience of other cities.

In this connection it was declared that street traffic would increase greatly in amount and in size and weight of vehicles, and that streets should be made heavier and other regulations designed with this idea in mind. Other suggestions included the use of radial or circumferential streets, the establishment of private rights of way by trucking interests where freight is handled by trucks to freight stations near the center of distribution; the cutting off of building corners and the setting in of curbs with enlargement of curb radius at street corners; the use of pairs of one-way streets rather than extra wide thoroughfares; the arcading of buildings, and the elimination to a large extent of public parking spaces which convenience, it was argued, should be provided by the private interests directly benefiting.

Although the billboard question had no place in the considerations of the conference, it apparently holds a very definite place in the minds of the people there as here, as evidenced by the recent passage of a billboard ordinance prohibiting the erection or maintenance of billboards in residential districts where 51 per cent of the property owners object.

Another of Cincinnati's problems which had a familiar sound is that of annexation. There are within the city limits, entirely surrounded by Cincinnati's territory, three small communities maintaining separate and distinct government and identity. Annexation is only possible by a majority vote which shows no disposition to be forthcoming. Across the river are several small communities in Kentucky, a large proportion of the residents of which gain their livelihood in Cincinnati, but the fact that the Ohio river is the boundary line between the two states of Ohio and Kentucky serves to complicate the situation somewhat.

Comparisons may be odious but they are also very often illuminating. I therefore present certain facts and figures herewith which will speak for themselves.

DETROIT, with a City Plan Commission that virtually controls the physical development of the community, and is said to have more power than any other commission in the country, has evolved a comprehensive city plan. It has outlined a park system on which approximately $10,000,000 will be spent, has established an elaborate system of playgrounds and playfields, increasing such recreational areas from 952 acres to 3,600 acres within a year. It has made a complete map of the city property, to prevent the municipality condemning for its own use, as has actually occurred in some cases, some of its own property. Of the 86 projects submitted to the city government, 73 have been accepted. This commission was appointed in March, 1919. The members serve without compensation; the appropriation in 1919 was $50,000, and in 1920, $45,000. The office personnel ranges from 18 to 35 people.

ST. LOUIS, besides its zoning system, which it claims to be the best yet adopted in any American city, has six other major projects under way. Work has been started on a comprehensive street improvement program which will cost millions of dollars; the railroad companies have approved a transportation project drawn up by the commission; some progress has been made on a $1,250,000 recreational program to establish playgrounds in the congested areas; three squares have been condemned for use as sites for municipal buildings; and the commission now is working on a housing project which is declared to be the most perplexing problem it has had to handle. This commission was appointed in 1915; its powers are advisory only; its appropriation in 1919 was $19,160, and its office staff consists of eight employees.

The City Planning Commission of CLEVELAND was appointed in 1915, its members serving without compensation. It has completed a tentative or preliminary thoroughfare plan, and is now preparing plans for zoning and for park and playground development. Several detached street improvement projects involving several million of dollars, studied and planned by the commission, are being carried out at the present time. The appropriation allowed the commission has been from $25,000 to $30,000, and its employees number nine people.

The CHICAGO Plan Commission was appointed in 1909, with purely advisory powers. Approximately $200,000,000 worth of public and private improvements as covered in its Plan of Chicago are either actually being constructed, or passing through the stages of legal formalities for early accomplishment. The average annual expenditure of the commission is $40,000. Its office staff varies in number according to the work in hand.

NEW YORK's Committee on the City Plan was first constituted early in 1914, charged principally with the duty of preparing regulations for the height, use and arrangement of buildings as well as other matters relating to the city plan which were referred to it from time to time. For four years the committee had a staff of about twelve employees, and received an annual average appropriation of $25,000. In 1919 its name was changed to its present designation, Committee on City Plan and Public Improvements.

To me, not the least worth of the conference lay in its inspirational value, in meeting personally and informally the best city planning minds in the country, in receiving first-hand information as to actual results and accomplishments in other communities, even in discovering that the obstacles which have been encountered in our work here are by no means unique or confined to one locality—that every city planning board has had the very same difficulties to contend with.

That its accusers have been confounded; that opposition has been met and overcome; that skepticism has given way to confidence; that encouragement and support is the general attitude of municipalities today as evidenced by reports from various communities, gives one faith to believe that the city planning movement throughout the country is daily receiving recognition and endorsement, not only as a desirable factor in the development of a community, but as an actual necessity in the orderly progress of civic life.

Respectfully submitted,

ELISABETH M. HERLIHY,
Secretary, City Planning Board.

Adjourned at 2:42 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 24, at 2 p. m.

Monday, May 19, 1920.

Special meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President MORIARTY in the chair and all the members present.

The meeting was held pursuant to the following call:

May 17, 1920.

To the Members of the City Council:
You are hereby requested to assemble in the City Council Chamber, City Hall, on Wednesday, May 19, 1920, at two o'clock p. m., for the purpose of taking action in the matter of the proposed removal of Dr. Charles E. Donlan.

By order of the President.

JAMES DONOVAN, City Clerk.

The call was placed on file.

The Clerk read the following:

City of Boston,

Law Department, May 17, 1920.

James T. Moriarty, Esq.,

President Boston City Council, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir,—The writ of prohibition brought by Doctor Donlan was dismissed by the court on Saturday last. This being so, the Council are, in my opinion, at liberty to proceed to such action on his case as they consider proper.

I write for the reason that at your request I orally advised you before the hearing on Friday last that the pendency of the writ of prohibition made it proper for the Council to delay further proceedings until it should be disposed of.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL, Corporation Counsel.

The communication was placed on file.

The Council voted at 2:32 p. m., on motion of Coun. BRICKLEY, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President MORIARTY at 4:31 p. m.

President MORIARTY—The meeting will now come to order. The Clerk will read the order.

The Clerk read the order, as follows:

City of Boston,

In City Council, May 19, 1920.

Ordered, That the Council find that Charles E. Donlan, superintendent of the Long Island Hospital, is guilty of neglect of duty as charged, and that the said Charles E. Donlan be and he hereby is removed from his office as superintendent for the cause above stated.

President MORIARTY—The Clerk will call the roll on the passage of the order.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I don't intend to make a speech on the whole situation, but I want to have it appear this way, as a matter of record, that in voting "no" on the adoption of the order I do so because conscientiously I believe that the evidence offered by the trustees does not support the charges made by them.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I had hoped that there would be no discussion on this matter, and perhaps there will not be any discussion, but I want to state that I intend to vote "yes" on the proposition because I have the interest of the inmates at Long Island at heart and feel that the preponderance of the unfortunates there are entitled to an improvement there, independent of any other man's interest in this affair.

President MORIARTY—The Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, just one statement, to this effect. After listening to the evidence in this case I have come to the conclusion that, on the evidence, the superintendent of Long Island has been neglectful; that his inattention to duty has been a matter rather of omission than of commission; that he was absent from the island without leave. And, on all the evidence, as a jurymen in this case and in accordance with the preponderance of the evidence, particularly with reference to neglect of duty, I shall vote in favor of the order.

The order was passed, yeas 6, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Collins, Lane, McLaughlin, Moriarty, Watson—6.

Nays—Coun. Donoghue, Ford, Hagan—3.

President MORIARTY—By your vote you have passed the order. The business for which this meeting was called has been transacted, and we now stand adjourned.

Adjourned at 4:35 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 24, at 2 p. m.

BOSTON NOTES.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It has constructed, under authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation: Tremont Street Subway, opened September 1, 1897, costing with subsequent alterations, \$4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, under Boston Harbor and State street, opened December 30, 1904, costing \$3,309,000; Washington Street Tunnel, opened November 30, 1908, costing \$8,496,700 (including \$2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, opened March 23, 1912, costing \$1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, opened October 3, 1914, costing \$5,234,471; East Boston Tunnel Extension, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, \$2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, opened December 4, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; amount borrowed to 1919 for the Dorchester tunnel, \$10,738,000. Total cost, approximately, for all subways and tunnels, \$36,000,000 (against which a sinking fund of about \$5,000,000 has been accumulated from the revenue), payable mostly in 40 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways (about 8.9 miles in all) are leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnishes the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which is at $\frac{3}{8}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By chapter 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. Chapter 630, Acts of 1914, required the redivision of Boston, by the City Council, into not less than 24 nor more than 36 wards, so arranged as to contain as nearly as may be ascertained an equal number of voters in each ward. On December 28, 1914, the City Council enacted as an ordinance, by vote of 6 to 3, the plan submitted by its Committee on Redivision of Wards. This plan describes the new boundaries of the 26 wards. (See Municipal Register for 1917, pages 176-187.) The subdivision of the 26 wards into 223 voting precincts (two less than before) was enacted by the City Council on June 7, 1915. This became effective on the day of the State Primary, September 26, 1916. (Precinct boundaries described in Municipal Register for 1917, pages 188-231.) To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to B. ALTERING LOCATION OF THE ARLINGTON STATION.

BOSTON, May 7, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with the request of the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, dated April 23, 1920, and signed by James

F. Jackson, chairman, the Transit Department made a new plan, numbered 13,825, altering the location of the Arlington Station of the Boylston street subway, said station now being constructed by this department under the provisions of chapter 342 of the Special Acts of 1916 and as shown on plan numbered 13,738, filed with the City Clerk of Boston on July 17, 1919.

This new plan conforms to a study known as plan K, which Mr. Jackson's letter stated carried out in a satisfactory manner the changes which had been decided upon by said Board of Trustees, and after submission to and approval by said Board of Trustees was filed with the City Clerk on May 7, 1920, as required by the provisions of section 3 of said chapter and paragraph 22 of the lease for the use of said station between the City of Boston and the Boston Elevated Railway Company, dated July 16, 1919.

The changes contemplated by the new plan require the discontinuance of certain work on the easterly end of said station for a distance of about 175 feet and an extension for a similar distance on the westerly end. At the westerly end of the station shown on the new plan stairways are to connect with an underground passageway running to the corner of Berkeley and Boylston streets, where a lobby with entrance and exit stairways, will be built.

The construction work on the station as at present designed is being carried out by the Hugh Nawn Contracting Company under contract 687, and the approximate additional cost of the work to be done under the new plan instead of the work to be done under the present plan is estimated by this contractor in a communication to this department, under date of April 29, 1920, to be $150,000.

The new plan involves three different elements:

1. The refilling and replacing of the work discontinued on the easterly end of the station.

2. An extension at the westerly end up to the more difficult part of the work at the high arch section, so called.

3. A continuance of the work from that point through the high arch section and the construction of the passageway alluded to above to Berkeley street.

The first and third sections of this construction should, in the opinion of this department, be awarded on a percentage basis. The second section, which involves merely the extension of the present station for a distance of about 85 feet, should be awarded at the same unit prices which prevail under the contract now in force.

If the contractor should be allowed to complete only that part of his contract now required by the new station his total contract would be reduced considerably over twenty-five per cent, which under the terms of the contract is not permissible without a change in unit prices.

The contractor, in our opinion, could not be required to abandon part of his present work and undertake new work of a different character, part of which is more difficult, at the present unit prices, nor could he be asked to abandon his entire contract now about one fourth completed, without imposing liability upon the city.

His proposal stated to the department is that he will abandon that part of his contract no longer to be required and will extend the station on the westerly end at the present unit prices up to the high arch section above referred to. He will restore the section where work is to be discontinued and will also carry on the more difficult work from the high arch section to the passageway and construct this passageway to Berkeley street for actual cost plus 10 per cent.

The department has considered four methods of carrying out the work required by these changes.

1. Inviting proposals therefor by advertising. This was considered both with respect to terminating the contract with the Nawn Company at its present stage and inviting proposals for completing the construction required by the new location, and with respect to permitting the contractor to proceed with so much of his contract as would be required by the new location and inviting proposals for the balance of the work. A termination of the present contract at this time would, of course, lead either to compensation or to liability for heavy damages on the part of the city, and would create considerable uncertainty and delay at a critical point in the work. A continuance of the present contract to include only so much of the work as would be required by the new location would result in a reduction of the sum of all the items by more than 25 per cent, which is not permissible at present unit prices and would create such a serious change in the contract as to raise a question as to how far the city might be involved in litigation.

2. The work to be done by the Transit Department by day labor. The same objections prevail here as in the first method.

3. Awarding difficult new work to the same contractor at new unit prices. This the contractor states he cannot consider owing to the uncertainties involved.

4. The work to be carried out by the present contractor at old unit prices for new work of the same character and percentage prices for other new or more difficult work.

A consideration of all the facts herein set forth has brought this department to the conclusion that it is for the best interests of the city to adopt the fourth method above referred to, namely, to have the present contractor carry out the work required by these changes at old unit prices for work of the same character and percentage prices for new or more difficult work. The work thus prosecuted will, in our opinion, result in a saving of time and money.

Your permission, therefore, is requested to make such changes in said contract 687 following the fourth method as above outlined as may be necessary to complete the construction of the Arlington station as shown on said new plan, copy of which is herewith submitted.

Respectfully submitted,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Chairman.

Commissioner.

THOMAS W. MURRAY,
Commissioner.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION ON PROPOSED NEW LOCATION OF THE ARLINGTON STATION OF THE BOYLSTON STREET SUBWAY.

BOSTON, June 2, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The Finance Commission submits the following report upon the proposed alterations in the location of the Arlington Station of the Boylston Street Subway, in accordance with your Honor's request for advice:

In 1916 the Legislature passed an act (chapter 342) authorizing the construction of a subway station at Arlington street, and providing that the station should be located at a point substantially midway between the Boylston Station in Tremont street and the Copley Station at Dartmouth street; the Transit Commission having the duty to select the location subject, however, to the approval of the Boston Elevated Railway Company. The act was passed after several years' campaign by the Boylston Street Merchants' Association and others interested in the building of a station at Arlington street.

The Transit Commission favored locating the station between Arlington and Berkeley streets, with entrances and exits on those streets, but failing to secure the approval of the Elevated Trustees to such a plan, finally consented to the location centering under the junction of Arlington street and Boylston street, with entrances and exits on the four corners of those streets. This latter had the approval of the Elevated Trustees.

In pursuance of this plan, a contract for the construction of the station was let on October 8, 1919, to the Hugh Nawn Contracting Company, after competitive bids had been secured.

The contractor has done considerable excavation on the southerly side of Boylston street, at the easterly end of the station, has erected a small portion of the side wall, and laid an area of concrete bottom.

With the work so far accomplished but before April 7, 1920, a petition was received by the Elevated Railway Trustees from the Park Square Trust (a realty association interested in the development of the Park square railroad property, which runs from Park square to Berkeley street and thence to Clarendon street), requesting that the plans of the Arlington Station be changed to provide entrances and exits on Berkeley street, so as to furnish more convenient service for the business and hotel buildings which, it is claimed, are to be erected on Berkeley street, between Boylston street and Columbus avenue. This petition carried with it an offer partially to compensate the Elevated Trustees for the additional rental caused by the changes suggested.

The trustees of the Elevated considered the petition and on April 14, 1920, a newspaper interview with Mr. Jackson, chairman of the Elevated Trustees, appeared as follows, in connection with this proposition:

Chairman James F. Jackson of the Board of Trustees of the Elevated said last night it was the first application of the principle that the real estate owners ought to pay the rental of the subways and not the car riders. He looks to see this principle extended further in the future, so that none of the carfare paid by riders will go for subway rentals. The change involved will be no additional burden on the car rider, he explained.

This statement clearly implied that the additional rental was to be borne permanently by real estate interests and that the car rider would not be compelled to stand the expense of the additional cost due to the alteration in the plan of the station.

An examination of the plans of the changes and the agreement between the Boston Elevated Railway Company and the Park Square Trust tends, however, to show the following.

A. CHANGES IN THE PLAN OF THE STATION.

The changes requested by the Park Square Trust and assented to by the Elevated Trustees involve the discontinuance of 175 feet of the easterly end of the Arlington Station on which the contractor has been working; the filling of the part already excavated, and an extension of the station platform 175 feet westerly toward Berkeley street, so as to make a loading platform of 350 feet.

The westerly end of the station is to be connected with the entrances and exits at Berkeley street by a passageway. These changes will cost approximately $200,000 in addition to the cost of the original plan, and will involve filling in the space already excavated at cost plus 10 per cent, and the doing of other construction work on the westerly end of the platform, including the passageway, at cost plus 10 per cent, with the exception of 85 feet of the platform which is to be constructed at the unit cost of the old contract, because the character of construction is the same as under the original contract.

B. THE AGREEMENT OF THE PARK SQUARE TRUST.

The agreement recites as a consideration for the alterations the belief of the Park Square Trust that the alterations will be of advantage to certain property owned by it and to the public generally, and stipulates that the Park Square Trust shall pay to the Elevated Railway Company during the term of the lease of the station up to, but in no event after, June 30, 1928, a sum of money equal to the increased rental which the Elevated will be obliged to pay due to the cost of the alterations. It is stipulated, however, that the Park Square Trust may apply for relief in whole or in part from these payments at any time after the station has been in use, and particularly if the use of the Berkeley street exits and entrances exceeds that at the Arlington street exits and entrances, "with the understanding that the granting of such relief is to be wholly within the arbitrary discretion of the trustees of the company, and without claim of right."

It seems manifest from this agreement that the extra rental of this subway station caused by the proposed changes will not be borne by the real estate benefited after June 30, 1928, and that the trustees of the Park Square Trust may be relieved entirely from their obligation to pay anything under the agreement at any time after the station is opened.

After a study of the two plans, viz., the original Arlington street contract plan and the present proposed plan, the commission believes that the location with entrances and exits on Berkeley street originally proposed by the Transit Commission was more suitable than a station centering at Arlington street.

There was, however, a third plan (Plan C), by which the station platform work is extended to but not through the high arch section, but giving entrances and exits on Berkeley street, the cost under which would have been $100,000 less.

The commission believes that the proposed plan, which is in substance the plan originally prepared by the Transit Commission, is preferable to the present Arlington Station contract plan under which the work of excavation has so far been done. If this plan had been accepted originally by the Elevated Trustees, the additional cost of $300,000 would have been avoided. This additional cost will not, as alleged, be borne—except to a limited extent, if at all—by the Park Square Trust or other property owners, as implied in the interview of April 14 with the chairman of the Elevated Trustees. Only the interest on the cost between the completion of the work and, at the latest, June 30, 1928, is to be so borne. And thus only to a very limited extent, if at all, will the principle enunciated by the chairman of the Elevated Trustees, that real estate owners will bear the burden of this subway station rental, become operative.

In order to protect the interests of the City of Boston, the Finance Commission believes that the city, through its chief executive, should be notified whenever any application to the Elevated Trustees is made for relief from the payments undertaken by the Park Square Trust.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, May 12, 1920.

I, Calvin Coolidge, by virtue of and in accordance with the provisions of the Forty-eighth Amendment to the Constitution, "The Referendum II Emergency Measures," do declare that in my opinion the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety and convenience requires that the law passed on the twenty-first day of April in the year nineteen hundred and twenty, entitled "An Act relative to the Retirement of Public School Teachers" should take effect forthwith, that it is an emergency law, and that the facts constituting the emergency are as follows:

The school committees of the cities and towns of the Commonwealth will be seriously inconvenienced by the deferred operation of this act, as delay will greatly increase the difficulty in securing new teachers to fill vacancies caused by retirements.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

BOSTON, May 12, 1920.

I hereby certify that the above statement relative to Chapter 335 of the Acts of 1920 was filed in this office by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at twelve o'clock Noon on the above date, and in accordance with article Forty-eight of the Amendments to the Constitution said chapter takes effect forthwith.

Those members elected in the year nineteen hundred and twenty shall serve for one year, and thereafter the members shall be elected to serve for two years.

SECT. 2. The city council elected in accordance with the provisions of this act, and their successors, shall have all the powers and privileges conferred, and be subject to all the duties and obligations imposed by law upon the present city council acting as such or as county commissioners or in any other capacity, except as is otherwise provided herein. The members-elect of the city council shall meet for organization at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the first Monday of February following their election. In the year nineteen hundred and twenty-one the present city council shall cease to exist on the said date, and at the said hour.

SECT. 3. Any male registered voter in a council district may be nominated for the city council in that district, and his name as such candidate shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at the municipal election: provided, that, at or before five o'clock in the afternoon of the twenty-first day prior to such election, nomination papers prepared and issued by the board of election commissioners and signed by at least two hundred male registered voters of that district qualified to vote for such candidates at said election, shall have been filed with the board of election commissioners and that the signatures thereon, to the number required to make a nomination, shall have been certified subsequently by said commissioners as hereinafter provided.

SECT. 4. Nomination papers for use under this act shall be prepared by the board of election commissioners. On or after, but not before, the Wednesday next following the first Monday in November in any year in which members of the city council are to be elected, a candidate shall present to the election commissioners a statement in writing, giving his name, the office for which he is a candidate, the council district in which he is a candidate and his residence, with street and number thereof, if any, and the commissioners shall, within a reasonable time, issue to such candidate nomination papers containing his name, the office for which he is a candidate, the district in which he is a candidate, and his residence, with street and number thereof, if any. No nomination papers shall be received except those issued in accordance with this section. No nomination papers shall contain the name of more than one candidate. Every voter may sign as many nomination papers for each office to be filled as there are persons to be elected, and no more.

SECT. 5. If a candidate nominated as aforesaid dies before the day of election, or withdraws his name from nomination, or is found to be ineligible, the vacancy may be filled by a committee of not less than five persons, or a majority thereof, if such committee be named and so authorized in the nomination papers.

SECT. 6. Each member of the city council shall be paid an annual salary of twelve hundred dollars; and no other sum shall be paid from the city treasury for or on account of any personal expenses directly or indirectly incurred by or in behalf of any member of the council.

SECT. 7. The city council shall be the judge of the election and qualifications of its members; shall elect from its members, by vote of a majority of the members present, a president who shall preside at its meetings; shall from time to time establish rules for its proceedings; and shall, when a vacancy occurs in the office of any member during the first six months of the municipal year, order a special election to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. The eldest in years of the members present shall preside until the president is chosen, and in case of the absence of the president, until a presiding officer is chosen.

SECT. 8. All elections by the city council under any provision of law shall be made by a viva voce vote, each member who is present answering to his name when it is called by the clerk or other proper officer, and stating the name of the person for whom he votes, or declining to vote as the case may be; and the clerk or other proper officer shall record every such vote. No such election shall be valid unless it is made as aforesaid.

SECT. 9. The names of candidates appearing on nomination papers shall, when filed, be a matter of public record; but the nomination papers shall not be open to public inspection until after certification. After the nomination papers have been filed, the election commissioners shall certify thereon the number of signatures which are the names of registered voters in the council district qualified to sign the same. They need not certify more names than are required to make a nomination, with one tenth of that number added thereto. All such papers found not to contain a number of names so certified sufficient to make a nomination, shall be invalid. The election commissioners shall complete the certification on or before five o'clock in the afternoon on the fifteenth day preceding the city election. The certification shall not preclude any voter from filing objections to the validity of a nomination. All withdrawals of and objections to a nomination shall be filed with the election commissioners at or before five o'clock in the afternoon of the thirteenth day preceding the city election. All substitutions to fill vacancies caused by withdrawal or ineligibility shall be filed with the election commissioners at or before five o'clock in the afternoon on the twelfth day preceding the city election.

SECT. 10. The name of each person who is nominated in compliance with law, together with his residence and the title and term of the office for which he is a candidate, shall be printed on the official ballot at the municipal election, and the names of no other candidates shall be printed thereon. The names of candidates for the city council shall be printed upon the official ballot in the order in which they may be drawn by the board of election commissioners, whose duty it shall be to make such drawing and to give each candidate an opportunity to be present thereat, personally or by one representative.

SECT. 11. No ballot used at any municipal election shall have printed thereon any party or political designation or mark, and there shall not be appended to the name of any candidate any such party or political designation or mark, or anything showing how he was nominated or indicating his views or opinions.

SECT. 12. On ballots to be used at municipal elections, blank spaces shall be left at the end of each list of candidates for the city council, equal to the number to be elected thereto, in which the voter may insert the name of any person not printed on the ballot for whom he desires to vote for such office.

SECT. 13. All laws, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, governing nomination papers and nominations for and elections of municipal officers in the city of Boston, shall, so far as they may be applicable, govern the nomination papers, nominations and elections provided for in this act. The board of election commissioners shall be subject to the same penalties and shall have the same powers and duties, where not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, in relation to nomination papers, preparing and printing ballots, preparing for and conducting elections, and counting, tabulating and determining the votes cast under the provisions of this act, which they have now in relation to municipal elections in said city.

SECT. 14. The provisions of this act shall apply to any special election of members of the city council held after the year nineteen hundred and twenty in the city of Boston, except that nomination papers for offices to be filled at such elections shall be issued by the board of election commissioners on and after, but not before, the calling of the special election. Every special municipal election shall be held on a Tuesday not less than forty-five days nor more than sixty days after the date of the order calling such election.

SECT. 15. So much of any act or ordinance as is inconsistent herewith shall not apply to the provisions of this act.

VETO—ELECTION DEPARTMENT UNDER CIVIL SERVICE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the order passed by the City Council on April 26 to accept chapter 305 of the Acts of 1920, entitled "An Act to Place Certain Employees of the Election Department of the City of Boston under the Civil Service Law."

I am returning this order without my signature not because I am opposed to the provisions of the act in question, but because I believe that the present is an inopportune time to put its provisions into effect.

It seems practically certain that within a comparatively short time the women will have the vote. In that case it will be necessary to increase the force in the Election Department. In anticipation, therefore, of the reorganization which would be necessary in the department, I am temporarily rejecting the acceptance of chapter 305 of the Acts of 1920, but this rejection is without prejudice to its future acceptance.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

VETO—PENSIONING OF FOREMEN, ETC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 19, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the order passed by the City Council on May 3 accepting chapter 179 of the Acts of 1920, entitled "An Act to Provide for the Pensioning of Foremen, Inspectors, Mechanics, Drawtenders, Assistant Drawtenders and Storekeepers in the Employ of Cities and Towns."

I am attaching a copy of a report prepared by the Finance Commission at my request on the acceptance of the act in question. I am in accord with the opinion expressed by the Finance Commission in its report, and I am vetoing the order in question on these grounds, for I believe that the pension system of the City of Boston should not be further extended except on a proper contributory basis.

You will note that the Finance Commission recommended that a study of the pension system as applied to the employees of the City of Boston be made by the commission. I am requesting the commission to estimate the cost of such a study, and when I have this estimate I shall recommend to the City Council a special appropriation for this purpose.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

April 26, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—The Finance Commission has received Your Honor's request for advice upon the acceptance of chapter 179 of the Acts of 1920, which act would permit the city to pension, at a sum not exceeding $400 a year, foremen, inspectors and other classes of the upper labor groups.

The act is simply an extension of the existing laborers' pension act (chapter 413, Acts of 1911), under which the city has for eight years been retiring its superannuated laborers on a pension not exceeding $360 a year.

The pending act, like the laborers' pension system, is designed to be noncontributory, so that the full burden of supporting the new addition would be borne by the taxpayers.

There are approximately on the pay rolls of the city 1,500 to 2,000 foremen, drawtenders, etc., who would come under the provisions of the act, and their salary schedules call for $2,325,000 to $3,000,000 a year.

The city is supporting without contributions from its beneficiaries the following classes of city employee pensioners:

Police (since 1878).

Firemen (since 1880).

School teachers (since 1908).

Judges (since 1911).

Prison officers (since 1908).

Civil War Veterans (since 1911).

Laborers (since 1911).

The annual payments on account of these pensioned classes are constantly increasing and amounted last year (1919-20) to $650,881.88. This large sum for pension payments will in a few years enormously increase because of the number of teachers, firemen and laborers who will soon reach that age when either voluntary or compulsory retirement will occur, due to the fact that the peak of the accumulation has not yet been reached. An example of the great jumps which the pension payments are taking may be found in the School Department, where the payments have advanced from $8,705.12 in 1909-10 to $55,350.31 in 1911-12, and to $118,221.48 in 1918-19, the increase per year averaging about $10,000 in the last eight years. If the same acceleration takes place in the next decade the pension burden for the School Department alone in 1930 may be $225,000. Applying this same rate of increase to the other classes of pensioners, it is not unlikely that the pension burden of Boston in the next ten years will be over $1,000,000 annually. If the pending act is accepted it will further increase the burden.

The only sound basis for pensions, whether municipal or private, is the contributory system. The question of pensions for all city employees is one needing solution. The commission recognizes that there are many employees in the city's service who have given many years of faithful labor and who have now approached the age when they should be retired, but on account of financial need cannot afford to retire without a competence for their existence.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has recognized this state of affairs among its employees and has been operating under a contributory pension scheme since 1912. Practically all state employees are members of the pension system and the plan is working with success under an act which is similarly worded to an act passed in 1910* and 1911†, permitting cities and towns in the state to adopt contributory pension systems. Since the state has found this system to be capable of successful conduct, it is open to the city to adopt the act above referred to. The adoption of such a pension plan would free the city from those constant appeals annually made to the Legislature by city and county employees for the passage of special pension acts in their favor.

The commission recommends:

1. That the present act, chapter 179, Acts of 1920, be not accepted.

2. That the pension system as applied to the employees of the City of Boston should be studied by the Finance Commission, but such a study cannot be efficiently made unless a special appropriation for this purpose is granted.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION.

STREET CLEANING DIVISION, BRIGHTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 21, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a copy of a report of the Commissioner of Public Works prepared in compliance with the order of the City Council, passed March 29, asking that the Commissioner of Public Works investigate and report as to the expediency and advisability of establishing a permanent street-cleaning division and yard in the Brighton district.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, May 20, 1920.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

I return herewith order of the City Council, dated March 29, 1920, "That the Commissioner of

*Chapter 619, Acts 1910.

†Chapter 338, Acts 1911.

Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to investigate and report as to the expediency and advisability of establishing a permanent street-cleaning division and yard in the Brighton district."

In the Brighton district we have approximately 250,000 square yards of improved pavements which should receive at least a weekly cleaning. At the present time the work of cleaning the streets in this district is under the direction of the Highway Division, and the force consists of seven patrolmen who operate in the vicinity of the most important thoroughfares. For about two months in the spring we assign six men, with necessary carts, to rake up the gutters. The total cost of the work by the Paving Service is about $16,000 a year.

To establish a permanent street cleaning division in this district so as to give reasonably satisfactory service would require a crew of twenty men and five additional patrolmen, about eighteen horses and the necessary carts, harnesses and other equipment. The cost of installing this equipment would be approximately $8,000 and the yearly expenditure about $40,000. We have sufficient stable room and also facilities for storing the equipment at the Chestnut Hill avenue paving yard and at the Western avenue water yard, so that there would be no additional expense for these items.

There is no doubt in my mind regarding the advisability of establishing a permanent street-cleaning force in this section, as well as the other outlying sections of the city. The department could use to great advantage at least 100 additional men in the street-cleaning service in order to do only a reasonable amount of street cleaning in the suburban sections. However, there is no money available for this increased force and equipment.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,

Commissioner of Public Works.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 17, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a communication just received from the Park and Recreation Department, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park and Recreation Department,
May 12, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—By vote of this Board, you are respectfully asked to make request on the City Council that the following order be passed:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be authorized to execute, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, an indenture with the Metropolitan District Commission, a copy of which is hereto annexed, dated April 7, 1920, accepting from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts the care, custody and control, including police protection, of a certain parcel of land in Boston, containing one and 23-100 (1.23) acres, shown on Metropolitan District Commission, Parks Division, plan number 746, entitled 'Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Metropolitan District Commission, Parks Division, Stony Brook Reservation, Plan of Land in Boston to be Transferred to the City of Boston for Care and Control for Playground Purposes, and of Land to be Retransferred to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts' January 31, 1920, John R. Rablin, Chief Engineer"; and releasing to said Commonwealth of Massachusetts the care, custody and control, including police protection, of another parcel of land containing six and 8-10 (6.8) acres, also shown on said plan."

I am inclosing a copy of the indenture of transfer which was executed by the Metropolitan District Commission at a meeting held on April 7, 1920. It will be necessary to have a copy similar to that which I inclose executed by the City of Boston, as indicated. When that has been done the Metropolitan District Commission will exchange their copy for the copy executed by the City of Boston.

Very respectfully yours,

DANIEL J. BYRNE, Secretary.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be authorized to execute, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, an indenture with the Metropolitan District Commission, a copy of which is hereto annexed, dated April 7, 1920, accepting from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts the care, custody and control, including police protection, of a certain parcel of land in Boston containing one and 23-100 (1.23) acres, shown on Metropolitan District Commission, Parks Division, plan number 746, entitled "Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Metropolitan District Commission, Parks Division, Stony Brook Reservation, Plan of Land in Boston to be Transferred to the City of Boston for Care and Control for Playground Purposes, and of Land to be Retransferred to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts" January 31, 1920, John R. Rablin, Chief Engineer"; and releasing to said Commonwealth of Massachusetts the care, custody and control, including police protection, of another parcel of land containing six and 8-10 (6.8) acres, also shown on said plan. Referred to the Executive Committee.

SALE OF LAND, SHIRLEY STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 20, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The city has received an offer of $1 per square foot for the parcel of land on Shirley street, in the Roxbury district, containing 420 square feet. This is a small parcel which remained in possession of the city after the sale of other land formerly occupied by the Park and Recreation Department. The latter sale was made at the rate of 80 cents a square foot, and as the remaining small plot is of no particular value to the city, and as $1 a foot seems to be an excellent price, I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized and empowered to sell for the sum of four hundred and twenty (420) dollars the parcel of land on Shirley street in the Roxbury district, containing 420 square feet, as shown on plan marked "City of Boston, Massachusetts Avenue, Shirley Street, Roxbury, December 7, 1914, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of the Board of Street Commissioners, and to execute and deliver in the name and behalf of the city in form satisfactory to the Law Department a deed of said land.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

SITE FOR POLICE STATION 2.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 24, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting to you an order for the appropriation of the sum of $89,000 for the purchase of a new site for Police Station 2, this money to be used if appropriated for the purchase of the parcel of land at the corner of Milk and Sears streets.

I am again sending this to you, feeling that inasmuch as you have had the opportunity for more mature reflection, you will see the wisdom of acting favorably on it, particularly as the city is unable to secure any other site which compares favorably with that located at the corner of Milk and Sears streets.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $89,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated for the purchase of a new site for Police Station 2, the same to be met from the unappropriated cash remaining in the treasury January 31, 1920.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

LEASING OF QUINCY HALL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 20, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I herewith present for your favorable consideration the accompanying orders which fix the period and the rentals of leases of the second and third floors of Quincy Hall over Faneuil Hall Market.

The rentals fixed in these leases are in accordance with the recommendations of the special committee appointed by me to pass on the matter of rentals for the tenants in Faneuil Hall and Quincy Markets.

I append herewith a copy of the committee's report.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Boston, July 30, 1919.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The committee named by your Honor "to pass on the matter of the rentals for the tenants in Faneuil Hall and Quincy Markets" submits the following report:

The committee has re-examined the report of the committee of real estate experts appointed in December, 1918, to consider the market rents, and also the report of the Finance Commission on Faneuil Hall Market leases to your Honor dated June 24, 1919, and has considered these reports in the light of such general information as could be secured by subsequent inquiry into the matter of market leases.

The committee further gave a hearing to representatives of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange in accordance with its request to your Honor.

The committee concludes, after due investigation, that the leases of market stalls and cellars should be made for a term of ten years, at an increase in present rentals of 15 per cent, and that the schedule submitted with the report of the Finance Commission should be followed by the city government in establishing the proposed rentals.

The committee further concludes that the recommendation of the Superintendent of Markets that a charge should be made for the sub-sidewalk space should be adopted, and that the charge should be fixed at 50 cents a square foot unless such space has been excavated within five years, and in such case the charge should be 25 cents a square foot for five years of the ten-year term, and 50 cents a square foot for the remainder of said term.

The rent to be established for the second floor of Quincy Market, including the portion heretofore occupied by the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange, presents a special question peculiar to that association. It developed at the hearing given by the committee to the representatives of the Fruit and Produce Exchange that the Exchange was receiving for floor space rented from the city and sublet to tenants of the Exchange as high a rate as $2.20 a square foot. The undeniable conclusion to be drawn from this fact is that a rental of $1 a square foot for the improved portion of the second floor now occupied by the Fruit and Produce Exchange and the office of the Ames Plow Company is a proper and reasonable rental and should be established. However, the committee finds that an area of 810 square feet now leased to the Fruit and Produce Exchange is devoted to the uses of a public hall, and therefore recommends that in computing the rent to be hereafter established for the space occupied by the Fruit and Produce Exchange there should be a deduction of $810 from the amount reached by multiplying the entire area by $1 a square foot.

Rent at the rate of 75 cents a square foot is, in the opinion of the committee, a fair and reasonable rent for the remaining unimproved space and area of the second floor.

There can be no question that a rent of 15 cents a square foot for the third floor is proper and reasonable.

In conclusion, the committee recommends that as soon as the new rents are established by the city government the Superintendent of Markets should be directed to notify the lessees now occupying market stalls and cellars of the rents so established, and give to such lessees as in writing notify him that they desire to retain at such rents their respective holdings a new lease for the period of ten years; and the committee further recommends that the city conveyances of the Law Department be instructed to so draft the leases as to secure to the city the right to make improvements in the market buildings during the term of such leases and to protect the city in the event of such improvements being so undertaken.

Respectfully submitted.

GEORGE A. FLYNN.

PATRICK J. MCGOURTHY.

KARL ADAMS.

Ordered, That the Mayor be and hereby is authorized and empowered in the name and behalf of the city to execute a lease to Declan D. Corcoran, a copy of which is filed herewith, of room numbered one in the easterly end of Quincy Hall, over Faneuil Hall Market, for a term of nine and one half years from April 1, 1920, at an annual rental of $255 per year, said lease having been prepared by the Law Department and Superintendent of Public Buildings of the city.

Ordered, That the Mayor be and hereby is authorized and empowered in the name and behalf of the city to execute a lease to the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange, a copy of which is filed herewith, of certain rooms and space now occupied by said Exchange in the easterly end of the Quincy Hall, over Faneuil Hall Market, for a term of nine and one half years from April 1, 1920, at an annual rental of $8,612.80 per year, said lease having been prepared by the Law Department and Superintendent of Public Buildings of the city.

LOCKER BUILDING, NEPONSET PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 17, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a statement from the Park and Recreation Department relative to the construction of a locker building and shower baths at the Neponset Playground. This statement has been prepared in accordance with an order of the City Council.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park and Recreation Department,
May 13, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of May 12, accompanied by an order from the City Council requesting your Honor to submit an estimate of the cost of a suitable locker building and shower baths at the Neponset Playground, and in reply would say that our engineer estimates that it would cost $30,000 to erect a suitable locker with shower baths.

It would be unwise to expend this amount of money for a locker building unless the playground was properly graded. A large amount of filling would be needed, and the cost of filling, grading, etc., would be not less than $25,000 additional, making the total amount necessary to improve the playground $55,000.

Very respectfully yours,
JAMES B. SHEA, Chairman.

APPROPRIATION FOR FERRY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 17, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Several months ago, on my recommendation, the City Council passed an order appropriating from surplus the sum of $400,000 to be used in the purchase of a new ferryboat in the East Boston ferry service and also for the construction of runways. It has now developed that in order to complete the high pressure fire service it will be necessary to expend a sum additional to that already expended, of not less than $300,000, for pumps and other equipment.

You are aware that the borrowing power of the City of Boston is the lowest it has been for some years. We have already authorized loans for $1,200,000, and it is unwise at the present time to further decrease the borrowing capacity as there are other capital improvements to be made. At present I do not wish to draw further from the surplus.

The Legislature recently passed an act authorizing the city to borrow $1,000,000 outside the debt limit for the improvement of the ferry system. The city needs at least two new boats to properly equip the East Boston ferry service, and as additional money will be necessary for the completion of the high pressure fire service, I wish to suggest at this time that the original order, appropriating the sum of $400,000 for a new ferryboat, be rescinded. The money will thus revert to surplus and be made available for the expenditures incident to the completion of the high pressure fire service. At the same time, immediate provision should be made for the rehabilitation of the East Boston ferry service, and I therefore wish to recommend at this time that the city be authorized to expend for two new ferryboats and the improvement of the East Boston ferry system the sum of $1,000,000, made available under chapter 315 of the Acts of 1920. I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying order, which accomplishes the two objects mentioned.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 315 of the Acts of 1920 there be appropriated the sum of one million dollars for the purpose of improving the East Boston ferry system, etc., and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount, and that the order of the City Council, approved March 12, 1920, appropriating $400,000 for a new ferryboat and runways be and the same is hereby rescinded. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

NEW BRIDGE, DORCHESTER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—In accordance with the request of the City Council of March 29, the Street Commissioners have prepared a statement relative to the construction of a new bridge over the railroad tracks at some point between the present Savin Hill Bridge and the Columbia Road Bridge. I am herewith transmitting this report for your information.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department, May 14, 1920.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—On the request of the City Council, contained in the two orders of March 29 last, for a report on the feasibility of laying out and constructing another thoroughfare to the Savin Hill section of Dorchester, and for an estimate of the cost of such a thoroughfare, the Board of Street Commissioners submits the following:

It would be desirable to have an additional highway to the Savin Hill section. There has been a demand for it for a long time. The only approach to this section now is by way of Savin Hill avenue with a bridge over the railroad. Fear is expressed that if this bridge should break down and it should be closed to traffic, there would be serious danger to the whole Savin Hill section in case of fire.

The most feasible route for a new thoroughfare would be an extension of Romsey street, with a bridge over the railroad. As a bridge would necessarily be 21 feet above the level of the tracks long approaches would be required. This would mean the raising of the grade of Romsey street, between Sidney street and Sagamore street, and also the raising of the grade of Sidney street and Hartland street.

This immediate section is well settled. The changing of the grade of the streets mentioned would affect thirty dwellings, most of which would have to be raised. One building stands in the way of the extension of Romsey street.

On the Savin Hill side of the railroad there are no buildings. The land here is mostly marsh land, and the street construction expense would be heavy.

If it were certain that the Metropolitan parkway, which has been laid out on the east of Savin Hill, was to be constructed the extension of Romsey street ought to be carried to the parkway. If the parkway should be abandoned—and there is talk that it will be—it would be necessary to lay out a street from Savin Hill avenue to join with the Romsey street extension, preferably an extension of Davitt street.

The estimated cost of extending Romsey street and also of extending a street from Savin Hill avenue to Romsey street, as extended, is as follows:

Land and grade damages.....	$110,000 00
Bridge over railroad.....	75,000 00
Construction.....	187,000 00

Total..... $372,000 00

Respectfully,
JOHN J. O'CALLAGHAN, Chairman.

VALIDITY OF BONDS, STUART STREET WIDENING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 20, 1920.
To the Honorable the City Council:
Gentlemen,—In an order dated April 26, 1920, I was requested by your honorable body to advise you "in writing as to the power of the City Treasurer to issue valid bonds for the widening of Stuart street under the recent act of the Legislature without any action on the part of the City Council."

I have delayed my answer to this question as the Legislature immediately upon the passage of the "Act Authorizing the Construction of Stuart Street and Widening of Eliot Street in the City of Boston," chapter 312, Acts of 1920, took up the consideration of certain corrections and amendments to this chapter which have recently been enacted in chapter 465, Acts of 1920.

It is my opinion that under those acts bonds may legally be issued by the Treasurer of the City of Boston on the request of the Mayor without any action on the part of the City Council. The act in question is complete and entire. The Legislature has itself considered and concluded the nature and limits of a local public improvement, has left the authority to determine the question of the public convenience and necessity of this improvement to the Mayor and the Board of Street Commissioners, and has upon the determination of this question in the affirmative authorized an appropriation of a stated amount to cover the cost of the work, for which the Treasurer of the city is to issue bonds without other authority than contained in the acts—each issue to constitute a separate loan.

Upon well established principles of statutory construction, such a special act is to be considered as an exception to the general provisions of the charter, which require a loan not otherwise authorized by the Legislature to be voted upon by the City Council.

This opinion is in accord with precedents of prior loans of the city as authorized by similar special statutes.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL,
Corporation Counsel.

BUILDING FOR STATIONS 2 AND 3.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Police Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to make an investigation, and report to the City Council, as to the advisability of the city securing the land which was formerly the site of the Revere House, and building thereon a building of sufficient size to properly accommodate the men and the business of Police Station 2, and likewise of Station 3, now located on Joy street, and likewise accommodations for Police Headquarters, and for the use of the Traffic Squad, and likewise for the possible use of the Municipal Courts of Suffolk County, should such a use be deemed advisable and practical.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I am going to ask at this time for suspension of the rule and passage of the order, because the order as written only calls for an investigation and a further report from the Mayor. However, if anybody so desires, I shall have no objection to its being sent to the committee. I think, however, as a matter of record, that something should be said upon this question. We have been considering for a long period of years the problem of a site for Station 2, which has been booted all over the lot during various administrations and has cost the city a lot of money, and in spite of expenditure of the taxpayers' money we have no station up to the present time. The site of the old Revere House in the West End district is available today, a site that can be purchased at a reasonable price, and if the city would undertake to make a development at that particular point at this time it would have the effect of improving general conditions in the entire West End section. The West End district of Boston in all human probability has seen its best days as a residential center. The real estate of the district is deteriorating to quite a degree. But an opportunity presents itself to develop a lot of manufacturing industries in that section. I think if the city would take the initiative and do something towards the promotion of a public building such as has been described in this order, in that particular locality, it would have a beneficial effect in the development of the district. It is proposed to have Station 2 in one part of the premises, because the area will be sufficient not only to accommodate Police Station 2, but also Police Station 3, now located on Joy street. The area is sufficient also to accommodate the traffic squad. It will, besides, take care of the entire police headquarters, and if the building is built high enough, it will provide that which has been sadly needed in the West End district, and which we have all thought should have been provided years ago—a building devoted to municipal purposes, with an auditorium, showers, a branch library, and the other features generally found in local municipal buildings. This matter has been presented to his Honor the Mayor, and it seemed at the time to have received his approval. At least, there was no indication that he was going to disapprove it. Therefore I was, of course, rather astounded today, when the Mayor knew this order was to be introduced, to find a new order sent in by the Mayor asking for the establishment of Police Station 2 at Milk and Sears streets. It has been said to the Mayor, and it is quoted here as a matter of record, that the city would not have to borrow any money, and that it would not have to raise money by taxes to any great degree, if at all, to provide for both site and municipal building, on the site of the old Revere House, for we own land at Arch and Hawley streets worth $140,000, which the Mayor says he is not going to use and does not approve of as the location of a police station; we own the old Station 2 property on City Hall avenue, which is worth $120,000, and the Joy street station, which is worth at least $20,000. We are paying $18,000 a year rental for police headquarters, which is 6 per cent on $300,000; we are providing accommodations for the traffic squad in Quincy Market without any expense to the Police Department, and the premises could be leased by the city for more than $9,000 per annum. In fact, I understand that such an arrangement has been proposed to the city. That is 6 per cent on $165,000. In addition, the city owns a great deal of vacant real estate throughout municipal Boston that is not being used for municipal purposes, and evidently there is no intention to so develop it. It owns, likewise, some real estate without buildings thereon, which has been discarded for municipal purposes, is not being used at all; and it does seem to me that if the city would sell the lot on Arch and Hawley streets, the old Station 2 site on City Hall avenue, the Joy street station and some of the vacant land as already described, there would be a sufficient sum available without taking from taxes or borrowing money to provide this municipal building in the West End section of the city. In addition to what I have already described as features which could be incorporated in this building, I think it would not be at all impossible to find room available in the building for the present Bulfinch street fire engine house, so that the premises there would be available for sale, if necessary. Also, as is well known, conditions at the courthouse are very badly congested, and the site I have described is of sufficient size so that it could be made available for the transfer to that point of the municipal courts of Suffolk County, thereby relieving the congestion at the courthouse and bringing the municipal courts in close connection with Police Stations 2 and 3, as established there, and more particularly with police headquarters, which could be established there. I would therefore ask a suspension of the rule that this order may go upon its passage at this time, as it only asks for information.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—May I ask the honorable counselor a question through you, Mr. President? I would like to ask the counselor if he has presented to the Mayor of Boston the plans he has referred to here, previous to today?

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I have talked with the Mayor in reference to this matter within a week and have submitted to him rough draft sketches of the proposed building, with the layout of the building, showing that the area is sufficient in size to accommodate Stations 2 and 3, the Bulfinch street fire department house, the Municipal Court rooms of Suffolk County, police headquarters accommodations for the traffic squad, a municipal auditorium, baths, a branch library, and other such activities as would ordinarily be connected with such a building. The plans suggested seemed to meet with the approval of the Mayor, because there was no disapproval expressed. In fact, the Mayor suggested that the matter be taken up with the Police Commissioner and if he thought favorably of the proposition he could not see why it was not a good thing. The matter was taken up with the Police Commissioner, although I personally have not done it. So I am not at this time aware of just what the Police Commissioner will think of it. Buy my impression, from what information I have, is that the Police Commissioner is looking with favor upon the proposition.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, the counselor says very distinctly that he took the matter up with the Mayor and that somebody else has taken the matter up with the Police Commissioner of Boston. I would like to have the Clerk read again, very slowly and carefully, the communication that the Council has just received from the Mayor.

(The Clerk re-read at this point the message from the Mayor in regard to the Police Station 2 situation.)

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

REAL ESTATE PARCELS OWNED BY CITY.

Coun. HAGAN offered the following—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to send to the City Council a list of all the real estate parcels owned by the city, and with assessed valuation of same, and whether vacant land or built upon, that is not at present being used for municipal purposes.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

NAMING OF HIGGINSON CIRCLE.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the island plot now situated at the junction of Audon road, Riverway and Avenue Louis Pasteur be named and known hereafter as Higginson Circle, to commemorate the memory of one of Boston's illustrious citizens, who in life was freely honored as Boston's "Grand Old Man," and who has done so much for Boston and its citizens.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I would move a suspension of the rule and passage, unless some member wishes the order referred. As a matter of record, I would like to say that I don't think Major Higginson, with his noble reputation in this community, needs any feeble words of praise from me to demonstrate what his real worth to this community was. We all know his public spirit, the many magnificent acts he performed for the benefit of Boston and her citizens. But there is one particular act to which I will refer that has received very little publicity up to the present time. It was at a time when the Fens district was to be invaded by a lot of cheap apartment houses which would have detracted from the beauty of the spot, that Major Higginson came to the then Mayor Fitzgerald and offered to purchase a certain parcel of land which would enable the city to put through a public street, paying for the land out of his own pocket, provided the city would construct the street. That was agreed to very promptly. It was understood that the land in question was going to cost $70,000; but it cost Major Higginson—he was evidently held up—$120,000. That was a gift he made to the city and the street was laid out, now containing some of our most famous buildings, which now beautify that district—such as Notre Dame Academy, the High School of Commerce, the Lying-in Hospital, Simmons College, and there is to be the proposed Latin School. There is this plot of land or aisle in the center leaving available an ideal spot to show the appreciation by our citizens of Major Higginson, in the way of a monument or some form of memorial. The object of this order is simply to focus public attention upon the desirability of doing something to honor the memory of this good citizen. I think Boston ought to do it, and I think we have enough public spirited citizens of Boston to do it, once somebody takes the initiative and manifests some little desire to honor the man. The idea is to have a fund for this purpose raised by private subscription, I hope with some co-operation from the City of Boston, to help honor the memory of Major Higginson.

The motion to suspend the rule was lost, and the order was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

LIVING WAGE FOR MEN IN POSTAL SERVICE.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be respectfully requested to write to every Massachusetts member of the House of Representatives and likewise the Massachusetts Senators, and ask them on behalf of the city government of Boston to do everything possible and interest themselves in every way possible to obtain a living wage for the men employed by the Federal Government in the Boston Postal service.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I ask a suspension of the rule, which I hope will not prevail if anybody cares to have the order go to the Executive Committee. As a rule, I think the City Council of Boston have enough to do in looking after municipal affairs, without engaging in anything that really comes within the line of work of the legislature of the Federal Government; but at this particular time it seems pertinent that everybody who has any interest in the matter whatsoever should do something to help in this movement that is now under way all over the country to arouse Congress to the great wrong that is being done to the men in the postal branch of the federal service in not giving the clerks and carriers an adequate or living wage. The "Literary Digest" has taken the matter up as a national proposition, many leading newspapers of the country are featuring it editorially and otherwise, and, because of the fact that many of the men employed in the postal service of Boston are citizens of Boston, it seems within the range of our work and duty to do what we can to be helpful in the matter. I believe if the Massachusetts members of the House of Representatives and Senate were to receive a communication officially from the Mayor of Boston saying that the city government of Boston approved of their taking some definite and positive action, starting something at Washington to relieve the situation, it would not only be received with approval by the beneficiaries, the men themselves, but would help in focussing and crystallizing the natural indignation which is generally felt that this deserving class of public employees, those in the postal service, should not have had some consideration giving to their necessities in these hard and distressing times. Certainly they deserve and should have an increase in salaries. I don't see how in the world they are able to live at all.

The order was passed under suspension of the rules.

My object is now to re-present the order and see whether we can get some action either for or against it from the Mayor's office.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

PROPERTY VALUATIONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Assessing Department, May 24, 1920.
To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen,—Under date of February 11 the Board of Assessors received a communication from your honorable body, submitted by the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, relating to various over-assessments in different parts of the city.

In reply I am inclosing herewith copy of the letter sent by this Board and the reply received from the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange.

Respectfully yours,

EDWARD T. KELLY, Chairman.

March 5, 1920.

Mr. Ernest M. Hodgdon,
Executive Secretary, Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir,—The City Council has referred to this department a communication from the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange relative to an alleged $66,000,000 over-assessment of real estate in certain districts of the City of Boston, in which it is stated that the over-valuations are based upon a comparison with the assessments for 1915. As there has been considerable change in the real estate values of the city since that date—and especially during the last six months—we submit that these figures are of little use for comparison with present values.

The Board is always pleased to receive any information that will assist in arriving at a true valuation of all the property in the city. To enable us to use the information it is necessary to locate the properties to which the over-valuation applies. While we appreciate the embarrassment of specifying by name the individual estates that your appraisers have valued at less than the assessed figures, we suggest that such embarrassment will be avoided by your transmitting to this Board the particular assessment blocks in which your investigation shows the over-assessments. If your committee will favor us with this definite information it will be gladly accepted and will receive our best consideration.

Of course the information, to be of present use, must be such as relates not to the values of five or six years ago but as near to the first of April, 1920, as it is possible to obtain it.

Respectfully,
EDWARD T. KELLY, Chairman.

Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange,
May 20, 1920.

Mr. Edward T. Kelly,
Chairman Assessing Department:

Dear Sir,—Your letter of March 11 has been presented to the Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, and it was voted that the Exchange repeat its offer to appoint an appraisal committee of competent real estate experts to meet and confer from time to time with the present Board of Assessors, or a committee appointed by that Board, for the purpose of arriving at an equitable assessment of real estate parcels in Boston.

It is the opinion of the directors that it would be inequitable and unfair to owners to submit to the Board of Assessors the particular assessment blocks in which the assessments occur and would result in a long and arduous task.

Very truly yours,
E. M. HODGSON,
Executive Secretary.

Placed on file.

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids received on proposals for furnishing fifty (50) barrels of chip soap to the Boston City Hospital, which were publicly opened and read at this office under date of May 24, 1920.

Samples of the soap bid upon by the various concerns were submitted to the Boston City Hospital for tests, and I am attaching letter received from Dr. John J. Dowling, Superintendent, which contains his recommendation regarding the award of this contract.

In view of the information which we have received from the City Hospital that the sample of soap submitted by the Mitchell, Wing Company is in every way a more economical purchase than the other samples submitted by the various dealers, I respectfully request permission to award this contract to Mitchell, Wing Company at 17 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents per pound.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, June 1, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing meats to the various city departments during the month of June, 1920, which were publicly opened and read at this office under date of May 28, 1920. I respectfully request permission to award the entire contract for furnishing meats to all the city departments to John H. McCarthy Company.

In explanation of this award would state that the John H. McCarthy Company was the lowest bidder in the City Hospital and Infirmary Departments. The lowest bidder in the Penal Institutions, Children's Institutions and Consumptives' Hospital departments was the Mohawk Packing Company. This department has information that the Mohawk Packing Company is operated practically by the same interests which are back of the Blackstone Supply Company. In view of the difficulty which this office has had very recently in securing meats of good quality and proper deliveries of same from the Blackstone Supply Company, I respectfully request authority to reject the bid of the Mohawk Packing Company and make the award to the second lowest bidder, namely John H. McCarthy Company, in the departments in question.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

On June 5 to the Employers Liability Assurance Corporation, Limited, as per following communication:

BOSTON, June 5, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners respectfully requests the approval of your Honor, under the provisions of section 30, chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, to awarding a contract, without advertising, to the Employers Liability Assurance Corporation, Limited' of London, for insuring the boilers in the public schoolhouses of the City of Boston for the period from the fifteenth day of June, 1920, to the fifteenth day of June, 1923, for the sum of $8,820.01.

The reasons for making this request are as follows: The above named company has insured and inspected the boilers during the past three years, and has given satisfaction to this Board. The amount for which the company agrees to perform the contract is the standard price of all insurance companies authorized to do boiler inspection under the laws of this state.

For the reasons stated the Board is of opinion that it will be for the best interests of the city to award the contract to the above mentioned company in the sum of $8,820.01.

Respectfully yours,

J. P. LOMASNEY,
Chairman.
